MOVEMENTS OF THE STARS IN FILMLAND

One of the Joys of Touring

Owen Moore, who is touring Europe, fell 500 feet in an airplane on the way from London to Paris, but wasn't badly hurt. Other members of the party included Myron and David Seiznick who was pretty badly shaken up. The soothing cablegram received at the Seiznick offices said: "Fell from altitude 500 feet. Badly shaken up, but not seriously hurt. Plane completely demolished."

Therda Bara was among the passengers on the Mobile, which arrived in New York last week. She was accompanied by her sister, who went abroad single a few weeks ago and returned Mrs. Frank Getty, wife of the New York Tribune's correspondent. Miss Bara said that she would open in Chicago in "The Blue Flame," very soon and will alternate in spoken drama and pictures.

Eva Novak, young sister of Jane Novak, plays the part of a private secretary in "Wanted at Headquarters." She surprised her director with her expert handling of the typewriter and it developed that during her school days in St. Louis, Miss Novak nursed an ambition to become a scenario writer and invested in a machine on which she brought forth a score of thrillers, none of which, however, ever reached the screen.

"The Chessboard," a short story by Madeline Sharp, recently published in Young's Magazine, has been bought as Constance Talmadge's next picture, to follow "Good References." In Miss Talmadge's support will be seen Kenneth Harlan, George Fawcett, Matilda Brundage, Nina Cassavant, Florida Kingsley and Jack Raymond. "Dangerous Business" bristles with humorous situations.

Ray Changes His Mind

Charles Ray has changed his mind about his third picture for First National. Instead of "Smudge," the story by Rob Wagner, he will produce "Nineteen and Phyllis," by Frederick Stowers. The supporting cast will include Clare Horton, Frank Norcross, who, by the way, is a Boston boy; George Nichols and Lincoln Stedman.

There's a possibility that Mme. Nazimova may return to the stage, after all. In that event she would probably appear in the Maude Fulton comedy, "The Humming Bird," which is now running in Los Angeles with the author in the leading role. It is announced for presentation in the East in October.

Zena Keefe plays the role of a half-breed Indian in "Out of the Snows," which is billed for early release. Ralph Ince appears in this production as a member of the Northwest Mounted Police.

Not So Bad!

Henry Kolker was discussing the merits of a bad picture play with a friend at the Seiznick Studio.

"They gave the director but two months for producing that picture," said the friend.

"He got off easy," replied Kolker. "He deserved a year."

Here's a Bit of News

Another of New York's dancers has succumbed to the call of the camera. And after she said a dozen times that she wouldn't. This time it is Dorothy Dickson, who has been playing on the stage in "Lassie" with her husband, Carl Nyson. She is to have her first role on the screen in "Money Mad," made under the Lasky banner.

MILLIONS FOR REPATRIATION

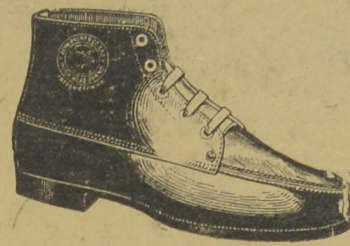

(Special to the London Daily Mail and the Daily Mail, Copyright, by C. A. N. S. 1920.)

London, Sept. 7.—Five million dollars is the estimate of the League of Nations as the cost of repatriating the half million remaining prisoners of war. This sum is being provided by the Governments concerned. The American Red Cross has allotted a million dollars and Britain $567,500. The League reports that explorer Nansen is rapidly accomplishing the repatriation of sixty thousand German soldiers held in Russia.

SINN FEINERS WERE POLITE

Dublin, Sept. 7.—Sinn Feiners raided the air force headquarters at Baldonell without disturbing the guards and secured secret papers from the officers there, including a cipher code and plans for the defense of Ireland. "Thank you! Irish Republican army," was the jeering note left for the English authorities.

BIG FAIR AT ST. STEPHEN NEXT WEEK

Some people have had an idea that they have seen a real big show every time that they have visited the St. Stephen Fair; and they have too; but after the one that opens September 14 they will have reason to wonder at the growth of the affair and the splendour of all that will be presented on the fair grounds.

New buildings have been built, but even these are crowded to overflowing by the entries in hand, and the end is not yet.

The whole of Canada and the State of Maine is sitting up and taking notice of the St. Stephen Fair this year and they are all coming, hundreds with exhibits and thousands to enjoy it all.

One man over in Annapolis county, N. S., has entered one exhibit of sixty one different varieties of vegetables and others are closely following him. The live stock show will surpass any ever seen in this section and all departments are filled to overflowing.

Interest is keen in that wonderfully pleasing baby show that was such a popular feature last year and will be even better this year.

The management has been fortunate in securing a lot of the greater vaudeville features travelling this year and this features will be as pleasing as it has always been at this big fair.

Entries for the horse racing are flowing in since the closing day on Wednesday and all the big feature horses racing will be at the St. Stephen track for the four days.

The teams competing in the local ball league, with the St. George team added, will participate in ball games that will be staged each afternoon of the fair.

Patrons of the fair in other years have always found delight in the bright midway, but will find, this year, a midway that will surprise them by splendour and many attractive features, furnished by the Williams Carnival Co., a big aggregation that controls many shows that will all appear on the St. Stephen midway.

B. ROCK HEN MADE RECORD

(Experimental Farms Note)

As a rule, hens lay two or three eggs and then miss a day. Some good hens will lay more before they take a day off and we have known individual hens to lay five and six dozen eggs and not miss a day, but a record in long distance laying without a miss has, as far as we know, been established by the Experimental Farm, Poultry Division at their Kentville, N. S. Station, where a Barred Plymouth Rock pullet laid 104 eggs in 104 days. This Barred Rock whose leg band

No. is 63, did not start to lay very early. In fact her first egg was laid on the 25th of January. She laid two eggs and missed a day laid five eggs and missed a day, four eggs and missed a day, one egg and a miss, then two eggs, but on the 13th of February she got down to business and laid every day for the rest of the month, every day in March, every day in April, and ever day in May up to the 27th when she took two days off. After this time she took an occasional day off until the 20th of June when she became broody. When she went broody her total record was 156 eggs in 147 days.
