THE TURKS REMAIN

The British Prime Minister has definitely announced that after all the hideous crimes of five hundred years, after proof positive that the beast cannot be trusted at all, after the late terrific struggle in which he joined our enemies, the Turk is to be permitted to remain in Constantinople. This was hardly expected. The treacherous jealousy of religious sects in the fifteenth century permitted the great Byzantine capital to be taken by the Ottoman when the spears of Western Europe might have succored the beleaguered city with little trouble. But the very unchristian hatred between the Eastern and Western churches permitted the metropolis of the Bosphorus to fall before the barbarians from Asia. Europe has known many tyrannies in her history, but none so abominable as that of the Turk. Yet Western Europe never did anything to help the oppressed peoples of the Balkans to regain their liberties, and time and again stood between the Turk and destruction. In the last great war it cost Britain many lives and a vast treasure to conquer him, and now he is permitted to hold Constantinople, a decision on the part of the Allies which makes doubtful which side won the victory. No matter what conditions may surround the retention of that city, the Turks may find a way out of it, for it is impossible to foresee what national combinations may occur in the future which may help the Ottoman to regain the mastery. The statement was made in the British Parliament that the influence of India forced the Allied hand, for it is confessed that without India's help Turkey could not have been conquered. If, however, the seventy million Moslems under British rule are to always constitute an obstacle to freedom, justice and safety—well, Britain will have to face the situation fairly and squarely at one time or another. Leaving the Ottoman in Constantinople will be a terrible disappointment to the world at large.

PARLIAMENT.

Judging by the opening speeches in the debate on the address, the session of Parliament which opened last week promises to be lively. Hon. Mr. King the opposition leader, made a sharp attack on the administration and was replied to with vigor by Sir George Foster, the acting Premier. As the government and its supporters are not keen for an election at the present time, there is little chance of Hon. Mr. King's amendment being adopted.

Thirteen million meals

OR to be exact, 12,806,943 meals were supplied by the 282 Social Institutions of a single organization in a year.

MOST of them were paid for—Sometimes only the few cents the applicant could afford—but a very great number—millions in fact—were free to men and women in actual want.

YOU may not know what it is to be hungry—perhaps you never will. But if you, or any body belonging to you, were ever "up against it" you will appreciate to the full this sidelight on the Social Service Work of the Salvation Army.

25 MILLIONS!

"Cascarets" is biggest selling Laxative-Cathartic for Liver and Bowels

Twenty-five million boxes of Cascarets were sold last year to folks who wanted relief without injury from Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Gases, Colds and Sick Headache. Cascarets work while you sleep, removing the toxins, poisons and sour, indigestible waste without griping or inconvenience. Cascarets regulate by strengthening the bowel muscles. They never weaken or shock the liver like calomel or harsh pills. Cascarets cost so little too.

A CIVIC CONTEST.

The effort put forth by leading citizens to avoid a civic contest this year was not altogether successful. A mayor and four aldermanic candidates were returned unopposed, but in Kings ward two candidates were nominated, which means that a choice has got to be made at the polls. All the civic election machinery will have to be brought into play, and under our present law it costs as much to secure the return of one aldermanic candidate as it does to elect a whole council. While the issue at stake in the present contest is not very great, those who have the franchise should turn out and exercise it.

Bangor Commercial: Maine has had another sample of the new-fashioned winter which bears a striking resemblance to the old-fashioned kind of which the old-timers often tell. The storm of Thursday was by far the most severe of the winter and the trolley cars went out of commission at an early hour. All who ventured out Friday morning were obliged to walk, and did not find the travelling of the best. There is some comfort in the fact that February usually gives and February has now departed.

Health Reports

The Department of Health this morning received reports of three houses being quarantined for influenza at Gagetown and of ninety-five cases of the same disease in and about Cady's. Both reports were from Queen's County Sub-District. One case of smallpox is reported from Shives Athol, Restigouche County.

Hockey Rink for St. John

St. John Globe: In view of the activity of the skaters and in consequence of a demand that hockey be re-established here, it was reported that plans are being developed for the erection of a new, large skating rink here. It is recognized that there is considerable reflection on this city that it is the only centre in the province which is not provided with a rink for ice hockey and the peculiar situation is presented of the metropolis of New Brunswick being the only centre without a team in the N. B. Hockey League. That an up-to-date skating rink would be a good investment from both the athletic and financial standpoint should need no argument to support it, in view of the evidence available at Moncton, Fredericton, Sussex, Bathurst, Campbellton and other places.
