SUGAR PROFITEERS

To consumers there will be some consolation in the discomfiture of large holders of sugar who have overplayed their hands and find that they cannot realize the huge profits that they had confidently expected says the New York World. A downward turn in prices, with increased supplies from abroad, did not enter into their calculations.

The soft-drink and candy manufacturers among others who loaded up on sugar at any price and overstocked their storehouses, in the belief that they could always sell at a big advance any surplus that they might have, are learning a lesson. It has come as a painful surprise to them that there is still such a thing as natural law and that its operation cannot be indefinitely suspended at the will of food-speculators and monopolists.

Now, according to the World, they are not only caught with large quantities of sugar that they do not need and are trying to unload, but sugar is pouring in here from quarters on which they had not counted for further supplies. The situation produced as a result of an artificial scarcity and excessively high prices is gradually working out its own remedy.

People who set themselves above the established laws of trade and nature never acquire wisdom so surely as through their pockets. The horde of American sugar-grabbers who raided the market a few months ago were cocksure then that they were not taking even a gambler's chance.

The Board of Assessors deserve considerable credit for keeping the tax rate down to $2.20 for the present year. There has been a large increase in expenditure and at one time it looked as if the rate would not be less than $2.50. The assessors seem to have been able to find some property which hitherto has escaped taxation and they have made substantial increases in valuation of both real and personal. While the tax rate in Fredericton is high enough, it is said to be lower than that of any city in the Maritime Provinces.

M. Lanctot, a French Canadian M. P. who fought against the increased indemnity has donated $600 of the extra amount to the county council of Laprairie and a like amount to the council of Napierville. The York County Council which meets this week would no doubt be glad to accept a donation from some member of parliament or senator towards the cost of the poor farm to be established at Nashwaaksis, a locality which has produced a number of clever politicians.

St. John Times: The Halifax Echo is unsparing in its criticism of the indemnity grab at Ottawa. It says the increase will add to the number of professional politicians, encourage parish politics and keep alive class divisions, create good jobs for men too lazy to work, and "foment and increase political bitterness because three or four hundred agitators will be let loose in the country to fight for high salaried jobs as members of parliament."

The reorganization of the Unionist Cabinet will mean a by-election in some New Brunswick constituency. This province has been unrepresented in the Federal Cabinet since August, 1919, when Hon. Mr. Carvell resigned to become chairman of the Railway Commission. It is said that the choice of a successor lays between Mr. Stanley Elkin, M. P. and Hon. J. B. M. Baxter. General McLean was spoken of at one time but he now appears to be out of the running.

Toronto Globe: It is somewhat tragic that a Premier who a few months ago could have retired from office with the assurance of an important place in the history of Canadian achievement now resigns with the knowledge that the only other alternative left him is hopeless defeat at the polls. But it may be a lesson to those who come after him. The safe, the wise, and the right course for public representatives is to trust the people.

It is said that Hon. Arthur Meighen Minister of the Interior is leading in the race for the premiership. Seventy-five per cent of the members of parliament are said to be favorable to him. It is said that Premier Borden will consult prominent men outside the cabinet before making a decision.

The New York police have not as yet discovered a tangible clue to the identity of the murderer of Elford the turfman and whist player who was found dead in his apartments a few weeks ago. It is surprising that the authors of some of the numerous detective stories which emanate from New York have not solved this mystery long ago.

The result of the Manitoba election seems to indicate quite plainly what would happen to the Federal Government were it to appeal to the people in the near future.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

The weather man seems to be saying it with showers.

An ordinary $2 hat costs a lot of money these days.

Anyone who sets out to reform the world need never find himself out of work.

A girl with a stout mother doesn't want to believe that corpulence is hereditary.

It's only married women who say that all men are alike. Every girl knows at least one man who is superior to all others.

"Most girls close their eyes while being kissed," says a Topeka oracle. That's not a fault, provided they don't grit their teeth.

Wrinkles in a girl's elbow don't mean anything, says a writer in the Toledo Blade. Shucks, fellows! A man's whole elbow doesn't mean anything these dry times!

REV. H. A. FISH PREACHED

crime of various kinds encouraged by the Roman Catholic priesthood in Ireland the Pope beatified the First Bishop of Armagh in the presence of a great gathering of bishops and other priests from Ireland. Hon. Arthur Balfour was sent by the British Government to Rome just about that time and the object of his visit was not greatly concealed. It was to show that lawlessness on the part of priests in Ireland was proven.

Mixed Marriages.

The preacher spoke strongly on the question of mixed marriages advising against them. He said that since the Ne Temere Decree was promulgated in Canada the policy of the Roman Catholic Church had been to send the young men of that faith after the daughters of Protestants and young women after Protestant young men. He gave an instance of being compelled to break off an intimacy between his own daughter and a young Catholic of Irish extraction living in Montreal. In this connection Rev. Mr. Fish advised parents to make their daughters who might want to marry Catholics go to the parish priest and not to a Protestant clergyman to be married as the Roman church refused to recognize marriage without its communion.

He also made a plea for the support of Protestant institutions particularly orphanages.

Exchange of Pulpits

The pulpit of the George Street Baptist Church was occupied yesterday morning by Rev. J. B. Daggett of Marysville while Rev. Z. L. Fash preached in the Main Street Baptist Church at Marysville.

Prohibition a Failure

Rev. Mr. Bulteel last evening at Christchurch Cathedral preached a very strong sermon on the love of country and prohibition. Mr. Bulteel took as his text St. Peter's rule of citizenship: "Honor all men, love the brotherhood, fear God, honor the King" and showed how that applied to the week of Dominion day. As far as prohibition is concerned he endorsed Major Rev. E. B. Hooper's letter and stated that from what he had seen of the way the act is working here he considered it a failure. He intended, he said, to vote opposing the act and for light wines and beers.

GOSSIP OF THE MOVIES

The Play at the Opera House for Monday is "Bright Skies" with Zazu Pitts, the bright young Comedienne as the featured player.

At the Gaiety the Monday-Tuesday play is "The Cinema Murder" with Marion Davies as the star.

Here is another example of the trend of the movie times in which a story is made into a movie after it has appeared in a popular magazine. This one was a serial, and a great deal of interest centered around the solving of the murder mystery. Marion Davies has rarely appeared to such good advantage, for her scope of acting is given full play in this piece.

The story deals with an actress who has been abroad in search of further instruction in her art. She is there as the protégée of a wealthy man who owns a theatre. Meeting an author, she has one of his plays produced. He is accused of having killed his cousin but at the right moment the anxiety of the audience is brought to a happy conclusion by the supposed victim turning up and thus giving the play a happy ending.

SIXTEEN CASES DIVORCE COURT

Sheppard is the first Jewish case to be entered in the New Brunswick Divorce Court. The plaintiff a junk dealer of Fredericton is a naturalized British subject and prior to coming here a resident of Jaitun, Guodna, Russia. The defendant whose name was Vinsky prior to marriage, was married to the plaintiff in Fredericton, December 27th, 1914 by Rabbi Abraham Hains. In August 1919 while they were residing temporarily at St. Thomas, Ont., the defendant left her husband and took up her abode with one Louis Grossman, butcher and grocer of Newcastle with whom she has lived since.

Defendant at Marysville.

David McKay plaintiff in the action against Nellie McKay is a resident of St. John and the defendant is living in Marysville. They were married at St. John, December 3, 1914, by Rev. M. E. Conron, the maiden name of the defendant being Elliott. Soon after marriage trouble arose because the wife kept late hours and kept company with other men. One morning about two o'clock on the arrival of the wife they quarrelled and separated the wife immediately returning to her people at Marysville. In February 1917 the plaintiff in consequence of receiving a long distance telephone message went to Marysville and found his wife in bed having just given birth to a child of which he was not the father. The plaintiff alleges that in addition to this there was adultery with a number of persons unknown to him.

Fisheries Cases.

Fishery Inspector H. E. Harrison is leaving this evening for Woodstock where two violations of the Fisheries Act will be tried tomorrow before Police Magistrate Comben.

Death of Samuel Gunter.

The deceased, who was 88 years of age, is survived by two sons, Frank, of Kingsclear, and Herbert, of this city, and one brother, John, of Prince William. The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon and the service, which will be conducted by Rev. G. C. Warren, will be held at the home of Herbert Gunter, Woodstock Road, at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made at the Rural Cemetery.

Draper - DeLong.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the George Street Baptist parsonage last Saturday evening, when John Thomas Draper and Miss Pearl L. DeLong, both of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. Z. L. Fash. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dean, of St. John. The groom is a returned soldier, being a member of the 104th Battalion. He served three years in the great war, two of which were spent in France.
