

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

BEWARE OF BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is generally caused by neglecting a cold, or exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is a raising of phlegm, especially the first thing in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes of a greenish or yellowish color and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, thereby prevent it becoming chronic, and perhaps developing into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Brice Cullum, Sheffield, Ont., writes: "In December, 1919, I was very sick with bronchitis, and had to stay in the house all winter. One day I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so I got a small bottle which helped me very much; I then got a 60c. size, and it completely relieved me. I cannot praise 'Dr. Wood's' enough for what it did. Two of my neighbors are now using it for colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 35c. and 60c.; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited Toronto, Ont.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR'S BANKING DEVELOPMENTS

Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, in his review of banking developments of the year, and touching on the conditions which confront Canadian banks today, in his address to the annual meeting of the Bank of Montreal, said in part:

"An overwhelming demand for credit has taxed resources to the utmost. Following a period of expensive prices and deflated currencies characteristic of war times, the country is now in the midst of the process of readjustment. It has been difficult to make producers, merchants and others carrying heavy stocks, who have grown accustomed to high prices, accept the inevitable by recognizing the fact that it is futile to attempt to overcome natural laws and to realize that economic conditions which no artificial means can alter, alone are the cause of price decline. The demand for intervention through Government control is still insistent in some quarters. Canada alone cannot control world-wide conditions and it is idle to turn to the Government for relief from falling prices. This applies to wheat as well as to other commodities. A lower price level must be reached before we can reasonably look for a resumption of business activity on a sound basis. To arrive at this stage, inventories must be reduced and deficiencies made good by drawing upon the excess profits of previous years."

"As comparisons are constantly made between Canada and the United States owing to general similarity in conditions one anomaly attracts attention viz: that with credit restriction as acute here as it is across the line the price of money is materially lower in the Dominion."

"This condition, in days of world-wide high interest rates, has attracted much attention in other countries and is regarded as a tribute to Canada's good banking system. The one disadvantage of this cheap money condition is that persons on fixed incomes derived from investments face the higher cost of living, including income tax, with little increase in revenue. As everyone knows, the connection between the price of money and the yield on investments is of the closest."

"With reference to current loans in Canada, your Directors have felt impelled for many months past, in the Bank's and the country's best interests to follow the policy found essential in every other country, and keep within bounds our advances to merchants and manufacturers. This policy is in accordance with the views of the Dominion Government and has been followed more or less closely, by all Canadian banks."

"Naturally enough, exception has been taken in certain quarters to such restrictions, but, as a rule, our customers have recognized the necessity of checking over-trading and further expansion in such times as we are now facing. There has never been a period in our experience, when requests for advances for purposes out of the ordinary have been so numerous."

"It is safe to say that had credit been granted freely and banking resources become tied up, a serious condition would have resulted in this country. Already the tide has turned and many of our friends now frankly admit the danger of the undue expansion so much in evidence a few months ago. We are convinced that the business of Canada is in a safer and sounder position today in consequence of a judicious credit restriction."

"There is a general sense of relief resulting from the present evidence that the decline in the high cost of living has commenced. From now onward we may confidently expect the trend of prices to be downward, and with lower values the demands for bank credit should logically diminish. It is relevant to add that by restrictive measures the banks have contributed in no small measure to this improved condition."

Now and then may be found a jury that is impervious to a sob defense.

WAS ROBBED BY GERMANS DANISH KING

(By "Polonius" staff correspondent C. A. N. S.)

Copenhagen, Dec. 19—The sensation of the day, is the discovery that a German naval officer on active service is identical with a burglar for whom the Danish police have been looking for some time, and who is responsible for robbing King Christian of a quantity of costly silverware and priceless rugs.

Some weeks ago, the royal cottage at the seaside resort of the Skaw was broken into, and the thieves secured much valuable booty, mostly presents from the people of Jutland to their King. At first the police were greatly puzzled, for at this time of the year the Skaw is almost deserted by all but the local fishermen whose honesty is beyond suspicion, and no doubtful characters had been seen in the neighborhood.

A German naval vessel was anchored outside, however, and the crew had frequently had shore leave, while the officers spent most of their time at the only hotel remaining open. Certain evidence pointed to the Germans, and when an investigation was made by the police the German officers admitted that among the crew were several men whose honesty might well be doubted, and promised to have a search made on board the vessel. Before this promise was carried out, the police observed however, that some of the missing articles had been sold by a man answering the description of the vessel's chief engineer.

In the meantime the vessel had been ordered home, and the German police authorities were notified with the result that all the stolen goods have been returned to the King. King Christian of course has made no demand for the punishment of the guilty officer.

PARIS HOTEL CROOKS ROB FOREIGNERS

Paris, Dec. 20—The Paris police have been baffled by a series of hotel jewelry robberies in which foreign visitors to the French capital, for the most part, have been the victims. The police have refused to furnish details concerning the robberies but jewels to a total value of not less than $100,000 have been stolen from guests in half a dozen of the smartest hotels.

An American woman who sailed for the United States early this month missed a diamond pin-brooch valued at $30,000 just before she sailed. Her trunks, packed and ready to be transported on the steamer, had been broken open by thieves who entered her hotel room while she was breakfasting prior to her departure. An English woman, staying at one of the Rue de Rivoli hotels, left a $5,000 pendant on her dressing table upon retiring. In the morning the pendant had disappeared, although the doors and windows were securely locked. A Cuban visitor who bought his wife a pearl necklace in a Paris jewelry shop had the necklace stolen from his pocket while he was walking from the jewelry shop to his hotel. Other similar cases have been recorded to the Paris police, who have doubled their watch on the hotel district and have also placed detectives in the hotels.
