THE INDEPENDENTS.

The North Shore Leader, which it is to be presumed is in a position to speak with some authority regarding the four Independent members elected in Northumberland, says in its last issue:

"Northumberland County has elected four Independent candidates. The government organs state that they will support Foster; and the Opposition press claim them as supporters of Baxter. The Independents were elected to work in the interest of Northumberland and the province in general. They will support all good measures, introduced by either, Mr. Foster of Mr. Baxter or the leader of the Farmers' party. In conversation with our representatives, they stated that they would pursue an Independent course and would only divert from this stand when requested to do so by the Northumberland County Independent party which nominated them. Should they deem it wise to take a side with either political party they will have a meeting of their supporters called, consult them, and abide by their decision."

Says the St. John Standard:

The result of the recount in Charlotte while it changes the personnel of the members does not alter the standing of the parties. Mr. Pollard, who on the sheriff's return was fourth man, now loses by two votes, and Mr. Flewelling, who was declared not elected, takes second place. This was the result given on the night of the polling, and but for the carelessness of one of the deputy returning officers in making up his official returns there would not have been any need for a recount at all.

Well the recount was amply justified, as it has righted a wrong. Can the Standard say that a similar result would not follow a recount in St. John county?

For New Brunswick people the British Columbia election, which has been set for November 10th, has some special interest because two members of the Oliver Government—Hon. J. W. deB. Farris, Attorney-General, and Hon. J. H. King Minister of Public Works—and the leader of the Opposition—Hon. W. J. Bowser—are of New Brunswick birth. In the last Provincial election in British Columbia held in 1916 the Conservative Government led by Mr. Bowser was defeated and a Liberal Government came into power with Hon. H. C. Brewster—a New Brunswick man—as Premier. On Premier Brewster's death in 1918 Hon. John Oliver became the leader of the Ministry.

While some good men on both sides will disappear from the Legislature as a result of the recent election no man will be so greatly missed as Hon. J. P. Burchill who suffered defeat in Northumberland. Mr. Burchill was the member of the House having been first elected in 1883. His long experience in public life made him invaluable as a legislator particularly in connection with Committee work. No member of the legislature worked harder than Mr. Burchill to serve the interests of the people. As chairman of the important Committee on Corporations he has had few equals and no superiors since Confederation.

Mr. John W. Rathburn, editor of the Providence Journal who rendered good service to the Allies during the late war by exposing German plots, is being used for defamatory libel by Franklin D. Roosevelt, candidate for vice-president. Mr. Roosevelt takes exception to a Journal editorial which stated that he while Secretary of the navy sequestered or destroyed department records and sought personally to return to the support of the navy men convicted of various crimes. He claims damages to the extent of half a million dollars.

Judge Barry at St. John yesterday gave judgment in the St. John County election case ordering Judge Armstrong to proceed with the recount. It is understood that Mr. Baxter will carry the case to the Supreme Court on appeal.

The exports from the Miramichi to the United States for a period of nine months according to a statement given out by R. A. N. Jarvis, U. S. Consular Agent at Newcastle totalled the sum of $2,692,389.

The Merchants of Charlottetown meet G. W. Taylor, Assistant Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue on Thursday and asked for the repeal of the luxury tax. He promised to submit the matter to the Government.

AUTUMN

Shorter and shorter now the twilight clips
The days as though the sunset gate they crowd—
And summer from her golden collar slips,
And strays through stubble fields and moans aloud.

Save when by fits the warmer air deceives.
And, stealing hopeful to some sheltered bow,
She lies on pillows of the yellow leaves
And tries the old tunes over for an hour.

FARMERS WILL TAKE ACTION

Truro, Oct. 27—Activity among the united farmers of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island was revived at the recent meeting of representative leaders held at the Agricultural College in Truro. On Wednesday next a convention is to be held composed of delegates from the three provinces for two special reasons, one is the organization of a co-operative association acting under a Dominion charter which will absorb the New Brunswick cooperative company and cover all the principal points through out the territory with headquarters in Moncton. It is stated that by enlarging cooperation from five to ten per cent reduction in purchase price of commodities will be effected, S. H. Hagerman, of Woodstock, N. B., president of the New Brunswick company will be present to advise and present the new association. It will if formed, be known as the United Farmers Cooperative Company of the Maritime Provinces. The leaders of the United Farmers society will meet on Tuesday preceding the day of the convention to outline procedure.

Following the meeting held for the purpose stated above there will be opened a convention to discuss and determine plans for the thorough organization of all agricultural districts in the three provinces for political and other purposes. In connection with this your correspondent has learned that the recent Federal by-election contest was discussed by the executive while it was considered quite possible to successfully protest the election of Hon. Mr. McCurdy yet because of the fact that large expenditures were made by the farmers in the prosecution of the election the funds now available are insufficient to warrant protesting the election.

Returned from Ottawa.

F. Peacock, provincial Director of Vocational Education, Rev. Father Tessier, of the Vocational Education Board, and R. B. Wallace, of the Department of Education, have returned from Ottawa, where they were in attendance at the conference on vocational education and statistics. It was decided to press for the establishment of a central training institution for vocational teachers. This school must be located centrally in an industrial centre. If six provinces agree to support it together with the Dominion, it will be established.

HOW ONE DOES ENJOY COMFORTERS

Even with a house full of blankets, you would still miss some of those good old fashioned comforters like mother used to make. You will find some very choice ones in this selection. They are covered with silkline in beautiful patterns and stuffed generously with pure white cotton. You will enjoy having one on every bed—and what practical handsome gifts they make for fall brides.
