LIVERPOOL WAREHOUSES SET ON FIRE BY SINN FEINERS

Boy Who Warned the Police was Shot Dead—Suspect Shot a Policeman Dead When His Arrest was Attempted—Fifteen Fires in Different Sections of Liverpool—Orgy of Outrage and Destruction.

Liverpool, Nov. 28—Fifteen warehouses in Liverpool and Bootle suburb principally cotton warehouses were set on fire last night.

Two of the cotton warehouses in Liverpool were burned out. Gasoline cans and paraffine were found about the premises. It was stated in police quarters there was strong evidence that the fires were the work of Sinn Feiners.

Some shooting occurred after the outbreak of the flames. Constables on the scenes were fired at and bullets passed through the clothing of some of them, but none were injured. One civilian was shot and killed.

Five men were placed under arrest in connection with the incendiary outbreak.

Orgy of Outrage

London, Nov. 28—The Liverpool correspondent of the Evening Telegram in an untimed message today says:

"An orgy of outrage and destruction, believed to have been engineered by Sinn Feiners, was carried out on twelve cotton warehouses and several lumber yards here. Several fires were burning at once, necessitating a call for assistance of outlying fire brigades. Many of the fires are still burning."

The newspaper says a suspected man, believed to have been connected with one of the fires, when seized by a policeman pulled a revolver and shot the policeman dead. The man later was arrested.

The descriptions of two men wanted in connection with the fires, have been circulated by the police, and it is believed adds the message that both are connected with the Sinn Fein movement.

Boy Was Killed.

London, Nov. 28—Owing to the inflammable nature of the contents of the Liverpool warehouses the flames quickly gained a strong hold and by 1 o'clock in the morning the whole sky was lit up. The local fire brigade were unable to cope with the situation and were obliged to call brigades from other sources. The police commandeered all telephone wires and took all steps to prevent further outbreaks by concentrating policemen along the line of docks. Three youths, watching the suspicious movements of two men at the cotton warehouse in Parliament street, warned the police, who challenged the suspects. Thereupon they bolted and fired upon the police, who pursued them. The policemen were unhurt, but a bullet pierced the heart of a youth Daniel Ward, who was among those who had warned the police and he fell dead.

The fires, in some instances, were quickly quenched. Others, in stocked warehouses, burned fiercely the night long. One in the south end and another in Bootle, at the north end, are taken as proving that there was careful organization. It was found that all the locks on the warehouses had been cut with bolt cutters. Many empty petrol cans were found on the scene. Each fire started at more than one place. In the case of one timber yard there were three separate outbreaks.

Gangs Allotted.

It appears that for each building marked for destruction there were allotted gangs numbering from four to five men, one of them stood sentry while the others cut the locks and applied the inflammables.

Many fires were suppressed in their early stages and in these cases there was clear evidence of incendiaryism in the finding of rags soaked in paraffine and empty petrol cans and bolt cutters left behind. The most destructive fires were in two large cotton warehouses on either side of Jordan street which were not extinguished until 7 o'clock this morning, when the buildings were completely destroyed.

It is impossible to estimate the total damage, but it is known it will run into hundreds of thousands of pounds.

ATTRACTIONS AT THEATRES

The Monday play at the Opera House is "The Grey Wolf Ghost" with H. B. Warner, the celebrated English actor the featured player. A good comedy is an additional attraction.

The Monday-Tuesday play at the Gaiety is "The Dancin' Fool". This is a screen version of a popular Saturday Evening Post serial and it has lost none of its charm in the filming. Wallace Reid plays Sylvester Tibble, known to his chums as "Ves". He goes to the city to engage in business with his uncle Enoch Jones, a jug manufacturer. Enoch is not up to date and the business is tottering. "Ves" meets Junie Budd, a cabaret dancer, and soon becomes proficient in the art of jazz and appears nightly as Junie's dancing partner. The pair are given a big contract for a road tour and "Ves" sees a way for combining the jug and the dancing business. When he returns he finds a rival jug manufacturer about to buy his uncle's business and some of the folks from "down home" see him at the cabaret and denounce him as a "dancing fool." He shows his uncle a large list of orders taken for jugs, while on his tour and once more puts the business on a firm basis and wins back the favor of the home folks. Bebe Daniels as Junie and Raymond Hatton as Enoch are excellent.

ALDERMEN AT LOGGERHEADS

Chicago, Nov. 27—Chicago's famous First Ward Aldermen who are as familiar with prayers as they are with politics, are at loggerheads on the advisability of appointing a chaplain to say prayers at the opening of all meetings of the City Council as urged by the Chicago Church Federation.

"Say that's bunk," said Alderman Michael (Hinky Dink) Kenna. "How about that, John?"

"It's good stuff," replied Alderman John (Bath House) Coughlin. I introduced such an order in the Council fifteen years ago, but they threw it in the waste basket. I think, though, if that is put through we ought to station two sergeants at arms at the door and enforce the search and seizure law before we consent."

"What do you mean—on the hip?" asked the little gray-haired Hinky Dink.

"Sure! Why not?" exclaimed Bath House.

"Well, you'll never get a quorum then."

It was too much for Coughlin. He arose, waved his arms and then departed.

Communion Service Yesterday The semi-annual communion service of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church took place yesterday morning. At the preparatory service on Friday night twenty-three were received into the membership of the church.
