

KING'S COLLEGE PLAYING U. N. B. HERE TODAY

Moncton Experienced and Heavy—Mount A. Better Than Last Year—Acadia Not so Good.

The King's College rugby team although beaten by a decisive score at Moncton Saturday by the Moncton team, arrived here Saturday night determined to put up a hard struggle against U. N. B. this afternoon. The score at Moncton was 16 to 0 but King's believes that the poor grounds had much to do with the Moncton victory. Marsh-mud is new to the King's College players. A try and a dropped goal were scored in the first half and three tries in the second.

Moncton has Heavy Team
Moncton struck the King's men as being one of the heaviest teams they ever saw but with condition poor. In spite of that however they handled the ball well and showed that the players had experience. King's was at great disadvantage in weight. In the scrum Moncton had no difficulty in controlling the ball.

Mt. A. Better than in 1919
The Mt. Allison team according to the King's players is better than the Garnet and Gold of last season but as that team was away below the Mt. Allison standard it is hard to say just how good Mount A. is. Weakness in tackling King's claims as a defect but say also that Mt. Allison handles the ball well. King's was outweighed by that team. Mt. Allison did not use team-work Friday as much as did King's.

Acadia Not so Good
King's and Acadia have not played this year and are not likely to as King's will be playing league games shortly in the Eastern section of the Intercollegiate League. Some of the King's players saw the Wanderers-Acadia match at Halifax on Thanksgiving day. They sized the Acadia team up as not as good as the 1919 fifteen which wore the Red and Blue. It also is lighter.

Intercollegiate Dates
The Eastern Section opens on the 27th with Dalhousie playing St. Francis Xavier at Halifax. On Saturday Dalhousie will play King's at Windsor and on November 9th King's will play St. F. X. at Antigonish. The play-off between the Western and Eastern sections of the Intercollegiate League

Canada Still the Big Game Hunter's Paradise

Although thousands of moose, deer, bear and caribou have been killed in Canada during the past few years, big game is still plentiful throughout the Dominion. Many fine moose heads are secured every fall in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick by hunters from the United States, but guides, game wardens and Hudson's Bay Company trappers estimate that the natural increase exceeds the kill.

Last season Sam Smith and his son Albert led a party of sixty Indiana hunters from Port Wayne to the big game section of Maine along the Canadian Pacific. Each member of the party so promptly got his allotment of game allowed by law that the hunters returned home ten days earlier than they intended. Albert Smith had the rare fortune to shoot a white deer, a fine buck with well grown antlers.

In Canada the range of sport is a wide one. There are moose, caribou, deer and black bear in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and in the Canadian Rockies there are mountain sheep and goats, grizzly, brown and black bear, moose, caribou, deer, wolverines and mountain lions.

The bull moose of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec are noted for their size, and a wounded moose charging the hunter will give him all the thrills he wants. In the Canadian Rockies "Old Silver Tip," the solitary grizzly, charges down hill like an avalanche, but the expert hunter knows how to stop him before he gets too near. Two of the prized heads to be procured in the Canadian Rockies are those of the mountain sheep and mountain goat. Both are wary and wonderful climbers as well, but the hunter with good legs and good wind can get a shot at them.

A favorite sport in the Canadian Pacific Rockies, and particularly in Banff and vicinity, is hunting big game with the camera—in which no hardships are involved, as hunting with rifles is forbidden in the National Park. Big game animals roam in groups through the woods and along the trails and roads, and often like to stand on some ledge of rock or prominent place to observe passers-by.

In the zoological garden and in the enclosed park at Banff there are many varieties of wild animals available for photographers. Some of the most treasured mementoes of the Canadian Pacific Rockies brought away by visitors are snapshots of big game animals.

The Thread of Flame By BASIL KING

Complications come rapidly, a mystery develops, and mind and heart are equally piqued by this New Book by Basil King, a story of the telepathy of hearts.

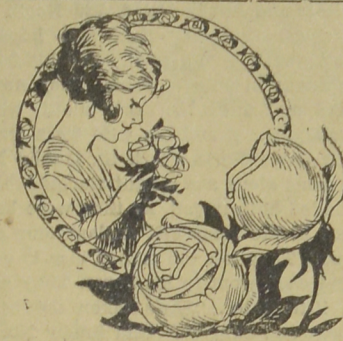

UP AGAINST IT by Varick Vanardy.

While it is distinctively a story of love and adventure, yet this novel contains all of the pep and more of the usual Vanardy novel. There are scraps a-plenty and some real and thrilling fights, and gun-play.

EVERY MAN FOR HIMSELF by Hopkins Morehouse.

A bully Canadian novel of mystery, romance and political intrigue with a smashing climax, the sort of story that every live Canadian will enjoy.
