OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

FASHIONS IN BRIEF

Embroidered ratine is a smart fabric for parasols these days.

The wool jersey cloth blouse is very practical and smart and may take the place of a sweater. Yarn embroidery and deep yarn fringe are popular decorative touches.

A new summer wrap is made of beige crepe de chine accordion pleated and fitted into a battlemented hem and a deep yoke of cloth in the same shade.

The annual panama hat has taken to decorating itself with many bright colors. Some have crowns of bright colored cretonne, some are painted in patchwork design and some have the brims lined with gold tissue.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES.

Breadcrumbs will give body to an omelet.

Banana ice cream is delicious and nourishing.

Asbestos is the only proper lining for dollies.

If a steamed mixer is put into a mold, grease the mold.

Use a little rubber dish-scraper for buttering baking pans.

If the skin on your hands is dry and cracks discontinue soap and wash them with oatmeal, rinse and wipe on a soft towel.

If your glove shows signs of breaking in the palm or between the fingers and you have no old glove of the same color to mend it, take a tiny bit of ribbon and put it over the break on the inside and then darn the glove down on this.

A marshmallow whip has many uses. It will garnish and sweeten puddings and pies, looking very much like whipped cream. It will sweeten and "extend" whipped cream. It is excellent as a cake-frosting. It may be combined with cocoanut, raisins, dates, figs or nuts. Less sugar than usual may be used with stewed fruits when they are to be topped with marshmallow whip.

SILK SKIRTS ARE SHOWN

Arbiters of style continue to bring out beautiful separate skirts. The array of models includes wool cotton and silk fabrics, in many weights and weaves, and a great variety of patterns so that there are skirts for all kinds of wear.

No matter what the summer may bring in the way of skirts there will be nothing better than the plaited models in satin or silk to be worn with lingerie waists.

GREEN STONES NOW THE THING IN JEWELRY

It used to be—"They're hanging men and women now for the wearin' of the green," but nobody is in danger these days. Green jewelry is the style.

Last year the predominating note in jade jewelry was red. This year it is green. You find the green jade principally in beads and earrings. Earrings are of the long Egyptian type. Fancy green jade balls hung from a sterling chain are good, the fashion dictators say. Large artificial pearls are also permissible.

Beads in necklaces are made of green jade in round or odd shapes. Sometimes beads are alternated with links. Beads are larger than they ever were and sometimes set with pearls, emeralds, garnets and sapphires.

Flexible bracelets will be worn this summer. They are of sterling silver and set with crystals, sometimes with other stones too, like onyx, emeralds and sapphires.

"The early bird catches the worm" and the early worm catches the little radish.

Some people are more successful in bringing up their neighbors' children than they are in controlling their own. Judging from the way the coal dealers are talking it is going to be as difficult to find a ton of coal this winter as it is to find a house for rent.

SCOTCH SETTLEMENT.

Scotch Settlement, July 5—The showery weather of late has made a great improvement in the looks of all vegetation. The grain fields especially are looking much better. The hay crop does not seem quite up the average but with the frequent showers we hope to see it improving.

The Colorado Beetle seems to be very plentiful in this section, and farmers are already spraying their potatoes.

Our school is without a teacher for the next term, and our new secretary,

R. A. Hagerman is anxiously waiting to receive applications from some good teacher holding a "Class" license.

Mrs. Arnold Clark and children returned home on Saturday after spending the week at her former home at Lower Line, Queensbury.

Mrs. Della Jones who has been teaching school at Middle Haynesville is at present stopping with her brother, Wm. L. Haines.

Robert A. Hagerman went to Andover on Saturday to visit friends.

Little Miss Helen L. Slipp spent last week with her grand mother Mrs. Helen S. Reed.

Mrs. Ralph E. Clark and son Charles spent the latter part of the week at Bear Island visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Currie.

Burton R. Haines who has been quite seriously ill since the latter part of April, is still confined to his bed and he does not seem to be gaining as fast as his many friends would wish to see.

S. L. Allen has sold the horse he recently purchased from Linus Allen, to James Edmondson.

Mrs. Verna Everett of Boston, Mass. is visiting relatives in this place now.
