MOVEMENTS OF THE STARS IN FILMLAND

Wanda Hawley, recently elevated to stardom by Realart Pictures Corporation, says she isn't so dead sure she would have entered into the contract if she had known in advance that she would have to do a barefoot dance in her very first picture. She is cast, in Jerome K. Jerome's comedy, "Miss Hobbs," in the role of a super-feminist and ultra-faddist, and the clothes she wears, of fearful and wonderful cubistic and futuristic motif, give her almost as much acute aesthetic pain as the clothes she can't wear.

Tom Moore, who recently finished "The Great Accident" at the Goldwyn studio, has just begun work on "Officer 666," the rapid fire farce that in play form scored a record breaking run when produced a few years ago by Cohan and Harris. Harry Beaumont is directing the production.

In the cast supporting Thomas Meighen in "Conrad in Quest of His Youth," William De Mille's special production for Paramount-Artcraft, are Kathryn Williams, Margaret Loom, Mabel Van Buren and Maym Keiso.

Betty Blythe and Paul Scardon both well known in motion picture circles, have announced their engagement, and the marriage is to take place soon—just as soon as Mr. Scardon finishes directing "Milestones" at the Goldwyn studio in Culver City.

A HOLIDAY FOR MARY MINTER.

As soon as she finishes work on her fifth picture for Realart made since last August, Miss Mary Miles Minter will enjoy a brief vacation. She is considering a plan of making a trip to Honolulu, staying about three weeks on the island for a complete rest.

SHADES OF THEIR PAST!

Robert Gordon, Blackton star, was fired because he forgot to bring a camera tripod on location. That was five years ago when Bob was "prop" boy for Vitagraph company.

Antonio Moreno came to this country fifteen years ago in knee trousers with less than a hundred dollars in his pockets and today his salary is quoted at $100,000 a year.

Betty Blythe made her debut on the stage billed as "The Peacock Princess," wearing a gown of feathers. The others on the bill "struck" the next day because of the peacock plumage, which is the insignia of bad luck in theatrical traditions.

The title of Chasles Ray's first production with Kane is "Peaceful Valley." Soon he is to begin work on "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway."

PHIL HURN, WRITING ANOTHER
Phillip Hurn, who wrote the continuity for "Everything But the Truth" the first five-reel Lyons and Moran comedy, is now scenarioizing "La La Lucille" for the pair The same Lucille that played New York this year.

MOREY OFF TO ASHEVILLE.

Harry T. Morey, Vitagraph star, left last week with a large company to make his next feature picture amid the mountain regions around Asheville, N. C. The picture will be "The Gauntlet of Greed," adapted from a story by Lillian Bennett, Thompson and George Hubbard. Edwin L. Hollywood is the director. This is the second time within a year that the Morey company has invaded Asheville.

SHORTAGE OF SUGAR STILL CONTINUES

Washington, May 10.—Sugar requirements for essential industries, such as canning and preserving, will be pro-rated by a committee of sugar refiners working with the Department of Justice, as a result of a conference yesterday in New York. Howard Figg, special assistant to the Attorney General, announced upon his return today.

The committee numbers 12, one from each refinery. Requirement estimates are being drawn up by the industries mentioned. The refiners, said Mr. Figg, agreed to supply the sugar. Deliveries to extend over the whole preserving and canning period will be made at prevailing market price at time of delivery, it is understood.

The prorating decision indicates fear that the shortage will continue through the Summer.

FALCONS ALL ARE NATIVES OF CANADA

Reception for Olympic Hockey Champions at Winnipeg—Seven Served With the C. E. F.

Winnipeg, Man., May 10.—The Winnipeg Falcons will be tendered a civic banquet and presented with gold watches on their arrival in the city on May 15, to express the city's appreciation of the honors the Falcons have brought Winnipeg by winning the laurels at the Olympic sports at Antwerp. A parade also is to be organized by the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association.

Some persons have said the Falcons are Icelanders, which is incorrect, though several of them are of Icelandic descent. Every man on the team and in the party, except the trainer, was born in Canada, and out of nine player seven were in France and saw service, and so did their trainer, Sigurzonson.

gone out and conquered a world in a different way. He reached out and touched the hand of humankind and he reached upward and touched the hand of Infinite Knowledge.

To Find Oneself

The one thing necessary was to find oneself. Prof. Henry Drummond had found great difficulty in mastering the Greek language. One day while walking in the country he had sat down and taken a copy of Homer's Iliad from his pocket. He read it word by word and suddenly was amazed and delighted to find that he had grasped the language and its spirit. His mind had developed on the instant. So with the soul. It must have consciousness of the higher self and of the submission of the lower self to it. Force of character must come from within. Too many had never given the higher self the place of majesty but had let the lower self triumph and had given way to every whim. Some years ago a young medical student had appeared before D. L. Moody when he was conducting his great services in London and had asked him his advice as to what course in life he should pursue. The advice had been given and the result had been that W. T. Grenfell had devoted his being and the result had been that W. T. Grenfell had devoted his being to ministering to the fisherfolk of the Labrador Coast and the establishment of his wonderful mission.

The first essential was to find oneself. It was not necessary to have dreams but to exercise power over one's own nature even to the point of suffering. Saul the persecutor by the Grace of God had found himself in Paul the Apostle.

No Antagonism

There was a heresy, quite widespread at one time, that there was a natural antagonism between culture

ALIBI FOUND K. O. DEFEAT FOR BROSSAU'S

Had a Severe Cold When He Went Up Against McTigue at Halifax—Took a Chance.

One who was at the ringside at Halifax writes the Montreal Star that McTigue is no better than what he showed against London. He says:

"Hal Eugene been in any form what ever McTigue would probably have lasted three rounds. Now Brosseau has no alibi to offer. He simply says: 'I was knocked out, and let it go at that. But the facts are these: Brosseau had contracted a bad cold before leaving for Halifax, which was aggravated by the long train journey, and when he reached Halifax his temperature was away up, and he got a touch of bronchial trouble, which affected his breathing to such an extent that he had no business to enter the ring, but he took a chance rather than disappoint the assembly. When he entered the ring he was hardly able to raise his hands above his head, and as a matter of fact his head and feet which generally are his greatest factor in his ring generalship utterly failed him, and he went down to defeat."

and spiritual power. At one time it was thought necessary to be ignorant to be spiritual. Such was not so and few believed that now. However care must be taken that there is not mind without heart, keenness without character. If such should be the case there would be something essential lacking. Intellectual culture should be but the handmaiden of spiritual expression. There were numerous instances of such. At the cost of a few francs Millet obtained the materials—canvas, colors and brushes—which became the famous painting The Angelus. A great British painter on being asked what he mixed his colors with replied "With brains, Sir". Turner when a friend viewing one of his canvasses had said he never had seen a sunset like that had answered, "But don't you wish you could?"

Proper Blending

Intellectual development placed in the soul of the one possessing it, power of enjoyment which those without it never would have. Those with it could traverse reaches unknown to the man or woman untouched by knowledge. There should be a proper blending of the intellectual and the spiritual. Religion was not one phase and intellectual culture another. The religion of Christ permeated and saturated the entire being. Therefore he urged upon his hearers that they go out with ideals of Our Lord that they might be "furnished unto all good works."

There was one thing more and that was the necessity for passionate love for Jesus Christ. Peter had found that when after his denial of the Master, he had said when Christ had appeared as the Disciples fished, "Thou knowest that I live Thee." Then passionate desire overcame desire for worldly possessions.

HEART SO BAD

Was Not Safe to Leave Her Alone.

Miss Eva P. Yarnham, Kew Gardens, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sent on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OBJECT TO MESSAGE TO BRITISH GOVT.

Boston, May 7.—Following the dispatch on Tuesday of a cablegram, signed by 88 Congressmen at Washington, to Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, protesting against "further imprisonment without arraignment or trial of persons resident in Ireland arrested for acts of a political nature," the Loyal Coalition of this city issued last evening copies of a cablegram sent by it yesterday to Lloyd George, assuring him that the 88 Congressmen do not represent a majority of the American people.

The Loyal Coalition's cablegram says that the Coalition, "an American organization for the conservation of American ideals and traditions, with thousands of members throughout the United States and all over the world, requests the British Government to disregard absolutely the impertinent cablegram" of the 88 Congressmen criticizing the treatment of political prisoners in Ireland, and declares they "will pay at the polls for their meddlesome interference."

It says the Loyal Coalition is dedicated to combating the Sinn Féin propaganda "which threatens to destroy the very foundations of this republic."
