

Vote FOR Prohibition

Saturday, July 10th

ELECTION INFORMATION

The Act in Brief

The present Prohibition Act legislates against the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, and only allows it for manufacturing, sacramental and medicinal purposes.

The Act also provides for enforcement of the law and penalties for violation.

This Act was a war-time measure and the Government now wish to know from the electors whether they want Prohibition or not.

We Know Its Faults

The Act is weak in that it allows too much latitude in the case of doctors, druggists and vendors who have practically the dispensing of liquors within their own hands.

Further Legislation Depends on You.

Application has already been made by the Temperance people to have the Act amended in regard to the recognized weaknesses and the Government is sympathetic —BUT NOTE THIS—the Government put off the granting of these improvements to make the Act more effective.

until the result of this election PROVES that the people want Prohibition, and by the majority of the vote the Government will know just how badly the Electors do want it.

Your Vote

at this Election may have very important influence on the future action of the Government.

Are You Aware of This?

In 1919 an Act Passed the House, providing that the Government shall take over the entire liquor business within the Province, for the three purposes contained in the Act, and also giving them more stringent control over the sale of extracts, essences and tinctures —But Mark You, the Government has refused to take action on this amendment until the voice of the people has been heard at the coming election.

Stop Importation Our Next Move.

Authority to Prevent the Importation of Liquor into the Province does not rest with the Provincial, but with our Dominion Government, which has already stated that a vote may be taken on the question in New Brunswick, on the recommendation of the Legislature. If the result at the coming election satisfies them that the people actually want Prohibition— we are sure to get it.

WHAT YOUR BALLOT CAN DO JULY 10th

FIRST—Provide the way for necessary Amendments to the Act that will make it really effective.

SECOND—Show the Government that the people demand Prohibition, and want the laws enforced.

THIRD—Hasten the election that can shut out the importation of liquor into the Province.

REMEMBER You are Voting for Prohibition as Against a Return to the Bars

Don't Fail to Do a Man or Woman's Part July 10th

"Do they write prescriptions?" inquired a delegate. Galleries and floor joined in a burst of laughter, from which rose cries of "Doctor!" "Doctor!" "Hospital Corps, this way," and the Secretary shouted, "This is a dry hospital," and the convention rumbled again with mirth.

Her detention was a technicality only, it was explained at the island.

THE TRUE STORY OF CAPT. KIDD THE NOTED PIRATE

Gullible People Still Believe That He Buried His Treasure on Oak Island, N. S.—Some Facts About Kidd's Career—Started Out to Suppress Piracy, but Eventually Engaged in the Business Himself.

The story of Oak Island and Captain Kidd's treasure still persists, and from time to time it is retold by new writers in newspapers and periodicals. The latest to publish an account of the circumstances that led up to the search for treasure on the island, and the subsequent digging and pumping with modern machinery, is again told in the May number of the "Wide World" magazine. The gullible still believe that Kidd, somehow or other was on the coast of Nova Scotia in 1698. This year, Lord Bellemont, (April 2nd) arrived in New York. As soon as he got there he addressed himself heartily to the business of suppressing piracy; and his letters home show energy and spirit. He distinctly charges Fletcher, his predecessor with issuing commissions to pirates in the Red Sea and the East Indies, and reports that Fletcher was on the most intimate terms with them when they returned with their plunder. These pirates, he says, were fitted out from Rhode Island and New York. Bellemont did not hesitate to call New York a nest of pirates, and what was worse, he proved it. To suppress these very pirates, Bellemont had, in London, associated himself with William Kidd, of New York, in fitting out the "Adventure Galley", and recommended him as a suitable person for this business. There was a contract between Kidd, Bellemont and Livingston. At Bellemont's instance, a number of people of quality subscribed for the outfit of the Galley. They formed what we would call now a joint stock company. Kidd's first destination was to the Indian Ocean. Thither he sailed, and for a year nothing definite was heard from him.

In August, 1698, however, the new East Company reported to the government that, instead of suppressing the pirates, he had, on several occasions turned pirate himself. Especially they complained that he had captured a ship belonging to the great Mogul with whom England was on friendly relations. The ship was called the "Quedah Merchant." The government therefore sent to all the provinces of America, a set of circulars, to procure Kidd's arrest. This proved easy, for in 1699 he appeared in Delaware Bay, in a sloop with fifty men. He had previously been heard from at Nevis, and at last he sailed into the Sound of New York, and set goods on shore at several places, and afterwards went to Rhode Island. He established himself for a time at Gardener's Island, at the head of Long Island Sound, and sent word to Bellemont, at Boston, by a man named Emmott, that he had with him ten thousand pounds worth of goods; that he had left the "Quedah Merchant" at Hispanola, in a creek there, with a valuable cargo, and that he would prove his innocence of what he had been charged with. Bellemont laid Kidd's letters before the Council on the 19th and also informed them "that Emmott had delivered unto His Excellency two French passes found in ships taken by the said Kidd's company by violence against his will."

In a letter home, at the same time Bellemont describes Kidd's messenger as a cunning Jacobite; a fast friend. The ratepayers of the city of Montreal on Saturday voted against the proposal to take over the property and franchise of the street railway. The vote was 475 for and 530 against.

Nothing more has been heard of the convention of the Tory party which Hon. Bob Rogers announced some time ago was to be held in Toronto during the present summer. The reorganization of the Unionist party at Ottawa is apparently satisfactory to the Manitoba boss.

"Most girls close their eyes while being kissed," says a Topeka oracle. That's not a fault, provided they don't get their teeth.

Wrinkles in a girl's elbow don't mean anything, says a writer in the Toledo Blade. Shucks, fellows! A man's whole elbow doesn't mean anything these dry times!
