A NEW NATIONAL ROAD SYSTEM.

The recent action of the Interstate Highway Board in designating a national system of roads covering the United States and touching every state capital is a reminder that an even more ambitious project is being considered. The Pan-American Road Congress, which is to meet in Buenos Aires October 3 at the invitation of the Argentine government, has for one of its objects the construction of a Pan-American highway which will unite the countries that compose the Pan-American Union. The United States and a score of other American republics will have representatives at the meeting.

These plans for highway systems connecting points thousands of miles distant direct attention to the long journeys that are now taken in automobiles. It has become a commonplace matter for motorists to cross the United States. The network of roads mapped out at the Washington meeting provides eight transcontinental routes from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific and nine from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada. Even in the Old World, where progress in road building is far behind that in America, long automobile journeys are being taken, one of the current magazines, for example, describing a motor trip from Western Europe to India.

The Washington committee did well in arranging to mark the interstate routes designated with uniform signs. Some private associations of highway promoters have done this in the case of such interstate roads as the Lincoln Highway and the Susquehanna Trail, and it has served a good purpose, guiding motorists through towns and past intersections and making it unnecessary to stop and inquire directions.

The plans prepared at Washington will not be carried into effect, of course, for some time. It is not to be imagined that in a few months there will be eight unbroken ribbons of pavement extending from coast to coast. Not even the Lincoln Highway has been paved in its entirety, although it has been a well-travelled trans-continental route for a number of years.

Fredericton people who own cars and some who do not are still receiving copies of circulars from New Jersey extending to them what is called "a special privilege" to purchase Bankers Shares which are supposed to be secured by deposited capital stock of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited. This is nothing more than a swindling game and has been so denounced by the Toronto Saturday Night and other papers over and over again. The concern which is trying to pull off this game on innocent investors has no connection whatever with the Ford Motor Company of Canada.

Hon. W. E. Foster, Secretary of State, announced yesterday that great development work would be undertaken by the Federal Government at Courtenay Bay. It is proposed to expend the sum of $30,000,000 in providing new wharves and warehouses. It is also proposed to build a grain elevator with a capacity of 1,000,000 bushels. It is beginning to look as if the new Secretary of State has no intention of allowing the grass to grow under his feet.

It looks as if Mr. R. B. Hanson, M. P. for York-Sunbury was slated for the leadership of the Conservative party in this province in Federal politics as a result of Hon. Mr. Baxter's return to the provincial field. Yesterday Mr. Hanson was the principal speaker at the Charlotte Conservative Convention at St. Stephen and was given a very cordial reception.

Hon. J. R. Douglas soon tired of the position of Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, and tendered his resignation which became effective yesterday. Governor Douglas made money out of the insurance business and his successor, Hon. J. C. Tory, former M. P. P., for Guysboro is also an insurance man.

The Conservatives of Charlotte in Convention at St. Stephen yesterday renominated Mr. R. Watson Grimmer as their standard bearer in the pending election. Mr. T. A. Hartt, a former member, aspired to the nomination and received 22 votes against 158 cast for Mr. Grimmer.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING AT THE CATHEDRAL

Miss Mary B. Smithers
Bride of John D. B. Harrison—To Live in Greenbush, Sask.

Christchurch Cathedral was the scene of a fashionable wedding at 2.30 this afternoon when Mary Beatrice, only daughter of Rev. Canon and Mrs. Allan Smithers of Fredericton became the bride of John Darley Beatrice Harrison, son of Dr. J. Darley Harrison of Edmonton, Alta., and grandson of the late Dr. Thomas Harrison, Chancellor of the University of New Brunswick. The groom who is a graduate of the University of New Brunswick in Forestry is located at Greenbush, Sask., with the Dominion Forest Service.

Bride's Costume.
The bride was married in a tailored dress of rose beige satin crepe with French embroidery, with large brown velvet hat, alligator shoes and stockings to match. She carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

Met By Choir.
The bride was met at the west door of the cathedral by the full choir which sang "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden" as it proceeded under the aisle. Bride and groom were unattended. The bride was given in marriage by her father and the ceremony was performed by His Lordship the Bishop of Fredericton.

The witnesses were Miss Constance FitzRandolph and A. H. L. Shipp. During the signing of the register a bridal hymn was sung. The ushers were Allison Taylor cousin of the bride and R. S. FitzRandolph cousin of the groom. The cathedral was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The pews were roped with ribbon and flowers.

Wedding Reception.
A wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents, Church street, followed the ceremony, twenty-five invited guests attending. The dining room was decorated in yellow and white. Those who served were Mrs. Cedric Cooper, Miss Margaret Hall, Miss Constance FitzRandolph, Miss Edith Smith and Miss Annette Campbell.

The young couple left at 4.20 by C. P. R. for Montreal, Winnipeg and Edmonton and will make their home at Greenbush, Sask. As her going-away costume the bride wore the tailored dress in which she was married with coat of cuckoo brown carnation trimmed with plucked beaver and gloves of cuckoo brown.

Among The Guests.
Out-of-town guests included Mrs. John Dalling, Sussex; Miss Elizabeth Robertson, Miss Grace Robertson, Saint John; Adrian Gilbert, Saint John; Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Morrissey, Saint John; Ralph Tennant and E. S. Wright, Saint John; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Osman, Hillsborough.

Groom A War Veteran.
Both bride and groom have a large circle of acquaintances throughout the Province. The bride for several years past has been on the staff of the Fredericton Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada. The groom took his degree from the University of N. B. in 1924. During the war he had a long period of service, being three years in France and two years in Russia. Many beautiful wedding gifts were received by the bride.

Competition for One Lot
The sale of eight lots of Crown Lands today produced competition in but one. A lot in Gloucester County east of Bathurst Road was sold to the applicant James Couture after the price had been paid up to $4.30 per acre from upset price of one dollar.
