NOT LIKE OLD TIMES

The election campaign just closed was remarkable in at least one respect its freedom from charges of graft or crookedness, says the Winnipeg Free Press. The Government was attacked on its alleged failure to give the country the best Government; there was practically no suggestion that it had been crooked in its dealings. The Progressives came under fire on the grounds that they had proved ineffective in Parliament. The Conservatives charged them with playing second fiddle for the Government but there was no accusation that anything they had done was prompted by financial gain for themselves. The Conservatives were attacked on account of their policy. There was no charge that they sought to gain power by illegal or illegitimate means.

As the Free Press says, slogans and epithets of old-time elections such as "Turn the Rascals Out," "Looters of the Treasury," "Dark Lantern Brigade," "Ballot-box Stuffers," etc., etc., have not been heard during the campaign. The reason for this was that there was no basis for them. It is just possible that they had a basis in the so-called good old days of fierce party strife.

The whole trend, it would seem is toward an era of cleaner politics in Canada. It is a heartening sign. The electorate will be well advised to insist above all else on a decent standard of public life. This is of more importance than the winning of elections by any group or party.

THE EGG INDUSTRY

New hawks of the air are interfering with the California egg industry. And the menace that has fallen upon that state may be duplicated anywhere at any time. Low-flying airplanes with roaring motors, are driving hens to cover and filling their plump breasts with the fear of death. Poultrymen are complaining, and a demand that the airmen fly higher is to be made by the county board of one California county.

Anybody knows, or ought to know, that eggs come from contented hens. If Biddy is demoralized she does not lay. She recognizes hawks as her natural enemy, and it can be imagined that these largest of all hawks "drive her frantic."

Man's progress, in whatever direction, disturbs the natural order of things. This seems inevitable. Airplanes have become a necessity, but at the same time we must have eggs. Perhaps high-flying will solve the problem.

It is difficult, as the London Advertiser remarks, after looking at the election returns from Toronto, to conceive why Liberals find it necessary to fight each other in any of the ridings there. Toronto Conservatives had majorities that aggregated 104,346. There was nothing wrong with the calibre of the Liberal candidates in Toronto, some of them were men of outstanding ability and unquestioned worth, but they were bowled over in the race by majorities that ran from 3,077 in West Centre to 14,698 in West York. Toronto apparently determines her membership when the Conservative association selects its candidates.

A statement issued at Ottawa yesterday by Premier King says that the government has decided to meet Parliament and that the session will be called at an early date. It is also stated that only such appointments to office will be made which are essential for the proper carrying on of the public business of the country. It is believed that the decision arrived at will meet with the approval of the country.

Police reserves were called out in Baltimore to take care of 800 women shoppers who stormed a new department store with such violence that 11 of the women were hurt and 15 faint-ed. Before the police could get there windows had been smashed and counters turned over.

That is one of the dangers of advertising.

You may or may not care to have a radio set in your home. You may not like the programs and your results may be disappointing. But to scoff at radio, call it a fad and say it is a novelty which will wear off is to lack bare surface possibilities of radio have both intelligence and imagination. The been touched. It is destined to prove one of the most amazing promoters of civilization ever devised by man. The possibilities of instruction information, enlightenment which the radio carries are beyond our ability to foresee.

True eloquence and true force in the presentation of an idea is sometimes set down in the fewest words. On the back of an automobile, on the way home from the south, a passerby reads these words: "We have just come back from Florida. Barnum was right."

So far nobody has come forward with the claim that prohibition, or rather the lack of enforcement of the law, was responsible for the defeat of ten of the Liberal candidates in New Brunswick in the late election.

Although the province of British Columbia has a population not a great deal larger than that of New Brunswick, it had a revenue last year of $18,823,370 and an expenditure of $18,219,865.

What ever became of the old-fashioned mother who used to say she preferred girls to boys because when girls grew older they were a help around the house?

A Southern balloonist made a parachute jump and played a saxophone on the way down. This seems superfluous. Either would have been sufficient to demonstrate his courage.

An item says that dishwashing will take the nicotine out of a woman's fingers, so we know now what prompted the fellow that invented the cigarette holder.

A French chef says that horse meat can be made more palatable than beef. One recipe for preparing it calls for first carefully removing all shoes.

A Los Angeles man has left $10,000 to a girl who deserted him at the altar. The question naturally arises was this abiding love or merely gratitude.

What seems to be a self-enforcing law has finally been evolved: Reckless driving of an aircraft has been outlawed in Italy.

First a wife announced that she was through washing dishes and then she drew a knife on him. That was the unkindest cut of all.

As between a parachute in which an aeronaut descended and the saxophone that he played on the way down the former catches the air.

Impossible for everyone to make as much money as they say they do if they did they'd say more.

Industrial statistics show a falling off in the country's tanning and so do the wood shed statistics.

It takes a lot of vanity to fear the youngsters will not turn out as well as you did.

TO TAKE OVER THE ST. GEORGE PULP PLANT

Montreal, Nov. 4.—The International Paper Company's holdings in New Brunswick are soon to be extended by taking over the St. George Pulp Company's plant and timber lands in Charlotte and other counties according to reports from the Maritimes.

The deal is part of a merger under which the International Paper Company will take over various paper mill properties of the New York World which controls the St. George Paper Company, which has a paper mill at Norwalk, Conn., and the pulp supply at St. George.

The New York World also controls the Hyde Falls Pulp and Paper Co. in New York State. There has been no official confirmation of the deal yet.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Few headaches are worth what they cost.

Good five-cent cigars are still selling for ten and fifteen cents.

Life is worth what it costs. The only trouble is to get the price.

Oratory may be in a decline but talk goes on with the persistency of the poet's brook.

People who "live their own lives" as they express it must get pretty tired of themselves.

Our grouch of the day is expressed in this paraphrase: "The paint you'd love to touch."

In a world of artificiality one of the joys of living is to find a man who is himself.

Maybe the speed maniacs think they can drive fast enough to lose the mortgage.

We believe some things despite the fact that they are proved by statistics—Ohio State Journal

Statistics often tell the truth when we would rather that they would tell a pleasant lie.

Traffic regulations will probably remain with us as long as we can get a very good car for $98 down and others in proportion.—Ohio State Journal.

Only hope is a drop in airplanes that will bring them within reach of all.

Have you noticed that people who are always "too busy" are usually busy with small affairs?

STOCK MARKET IN NEW YORK IS BOOMING

New York, Nov. 5.—Wall Street today experienced its greatest boom stock market in nearly ten years. Total sales were calculated at 2,801,600 shares or 99,000 above the previous year's high established on Oct. 16 and the largest since the famous "3,000,000-share" market which followed the "teak" on President Wilson's peace note in December 1918.

The rally like so many which have preceded it within the last few weeks was not associated with any outstanding development in the day's news. Wall street which is seldom without "explanations" for a price movement in either direction, was flooded with rumors that an era of "melon-cutting" was in store.

HON. BOB HAD BIG MAJORITY

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Hon Robert Rogers was elected in Winnipeg South by a majority of 1,617, according to the official declaration of election issued by the Returning Officer. The vote was: Rogers (Cons.), 7,017; Hon. T. C. Norris (Lib.), 5,400; John Kelly (Labor) 3,206.

Keen Interest in Debating

The interest in debating displayed among the members of the student-body of the University of New Brunswick this year is greater than it has been in some years. The first trial debate is expected Saturday night and the names entered for it form a list larger than any in several years. This is preparatory to the selection of the team to meet the Imperial team representing the Universities of Oxford Cambridge and London.

BLUNDER

WHY IS THIS WRONG?

One of the many annoyances that the postal service has to contend with is the receipt of bundles of carelessly sealed letters, many of which are stuck together. Since letters can be run through the cancelling machines only one at a time, all those stuck together must first be pulled apart by some postal employee. This may result in mutilation of the addresses or in placing the letters to one side until other mail has been handled.
