ENGLISH TRACK TEAM TIED ON MAJOR POINTS

Arrangement for County Minor Points Lost Them Meet Against Harvard-Yale Track Team.

Boston, Mass., July 14—Saturday's intercollegiate meet, in the judgment of veterans, was the greatest event of its kind the Harvard stadium has even witnessed. Whether one considers the superb quality of the sport, the perfection of the arrangements, or, most gratifying of all, the cordial sportsmanlike attitude of competitors and crowd, one finds it difficult to control enthusiasm. The weather too was ideal, and this partly explains how so many records went. Three intercollegiate marks were lowered, and two were equalled. Not had in card of 12 events.

After an afternoon of the keenest kind of competition, it was found that Oxford and Cambridge had scored six firsts and that Harvard and Yale had scored six firsts likewise. It then became necessary to refer to the second places, and here it was found Harvard and Yale had the advantage. They were awarded the victory accordingly, but it is safe to say no one cared who got the technical decision. It was a drawn battle if ever there was one.

My Lord of Burghley called "Dave" by his friends—drew first blood for England by capturing the 120 yard hurdles—the classic distance. He was beaten in the 220 yard hurdles later.

Arthur Porritt was beaten in the 100, and it looked as if he had not gained his land legs, having just arrived from the other side. However, he was all right when he put the 220 yard dash to England's credit.

Lowe Hero of Day.

But the hero of the day was Douglass G. A. Lowe of Cambridge, the English captain, winner in two mighty struggles the mile and the half mile. His grace of movement won only less admiration than his marvellous gameness.
