AMMUNITION CAMP IN NEW JERSEY EXPLODES CAUSING ENORMOUS PROPERTY LOSS

Dover, N. J., July 11—Confusion was spread tonight over a wide area of New Jersey's countryside where havoc had been wrought last night and today by the explosion of the Lake Denmark Naval Munition dump.

Out of the mass of rumor and conjecture surrounding the district these facts came:

Dead—Nine; three identified.

Missing—Twenty-five.

Injured—Several hundred.

Damage—$93,000,000.

The naval depot was completely destroyed and the adjoining army ammunition dump at Picitinni damaged to the extent of $5,000,000. Damage to civilian property could not be estimated, but it was thought probable that it would amount to $1,000,000. Doors and windows were blown in, plaster shaken down, roofs smashed and brickwork cracked in hundreds of homes in the villages near the arsenal. The mining village of Mount Hope was reported wiped out.

It was late tonight when the death toll was increased from three to nine as six bodies were sighted in the ruins of the naval arsenal. Fire and the continual explosion of shells prevented anyone from approaching them.

Shells Still Explode.

Twenty marines, one soldier and between five and ten civilians are still unaccounted for. Their bodies may be among the three hundred smashed and burned buildings of the depot in which the big shells, T. N. T. depth bombs and cases of powder are still exploding.

Hope is held out, however, that the missing may have reached safety. When lightning struck the depth bomb magazine late yesterday and the initial explosion followed, men rushed for their lives in all directions. Some hid in shell holes, some swam across Lake Denmark and made their way to the army depot.

Tonight, 24 hours after the first explosion, desultory discharges of ammunition supplies shattered the smouldering debris of 200 demolished buildings within the reservation limits. Wind Changes Timely.

A change of wind had removed, temporarily, the danger which throughout the night threatened the adjacent army arsenal at Picitinni. Army officers said there had been no fire at the arsenal, but that an army laboratory had been burned.

The known dead are:

Captain George W. Bott, of Richmond, Va.

Harry C. Prown, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Mrs. Frances Feeney, of Brooklyn, a visitor at the plant.

Secretary of War Dwight Davis came from New York today to visit the scene of the disaster. The shell-torn area still flamed and smouldered. Naval men reported that 18 naval magazines were still intact and it was hoped that with the dying down of the fires that they would be saved. Secretary Davis viewed the scene from just inside the reservation gates.

Guard on Route to Spot.

Tonight 200 marines were en route from Quantico, Va., to aid in guarding the devastated area which has been surrounded by army and navy pickets to keep away the throngs of curious who might be injured in some belated explosion.

After the initial explosion fire raged through the great arsenal, igniting powder and detonating shells and bombs. At frequent intervals successive explosions occurred, throwing shells a distance of about a mile in all directions and making a war-time inferno of the district surrounding the depot.

Further Explosions.

Today there were further explosions.

Scores of civilians in nearby towns were injured, but the trek of hundreds of families from their homes made impossible an accurate estimate.

A military guard was thrown about the danger zone in a circle within a radius of about a mile from the centre of detonation.

Soldiers occupied six villages and towns on the edge, and some within the danger area. Members of the New Jersey state constabulary also were assisting in guarding the towns.

Scene of Desolation.

A scene of utter desolation overhung with a cloud of black and sulphurous smoke met the eyes of those who visited this afternoon what had been the Arsenal. Flames from the burning debris were visible for miles.

From a cliff overlooking the plateau where the naval depot had stood, the sight was awesome. The mass of white wreckage marked the place where the largest magazine of the reservation had been located. A great hole 100 feet wide and 30 feet deep was all that was left of the storage magazine itself where had been the T. N. T. department which had been struck by the lightning bolt which inaugurated the explosion.

RAINS PUT OUT FOREST FIRES, PATROLS ON

Patrols Kept On

The Forest Service according to Chief Forester L. S. Webb, is keeping patrols on the site of the fires in case weather conditions change sufficiently for them to start again. The Lookouts on Sunday reported that there was no sign of smoke to be seen.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT THE CAPITOL THEATRE

"The Unholy Three" is the photo play at Capitol for Monday and Tuesday featuring Lon Chaney. "The Unholy Three" will interest every one. Chaney's characterization of Professor Echo is superb and audiences will get a great laugh out of his remarkable disguise as the sweet old Grannie. The others are good too—Mae Busch, as Rosie, Victor McLaglen as the strong man; Matt Moore, as his inimitable self, and the others. While there are bits of stark realism which may make the faint-hearted shudder there is a genuine epic quality to the picture which cannot fail to hold and thrill.

Case Was Dismissed.

In the police court this morning a local man appeared on the charge of being in charge of a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Sitting Magistrate E. Allison MacKay heard the case and decided that the evidence was not sufficient to support the charge.

ATHLETE GOT LONG SENTENCE

Hammond, Ind., July 10—Daniel F. Hesley, 25, Chicago athlete who turned mail bandit to get funds to pay hospital fees for his wife who was about to become a mother was sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

Hesley held up and robbed a mail truck of pouches containing $37,500 in currency. He saw his three weeks' old baby for the first time in court.

LATE A. J. GREGORY.

Funeral This Afternoon Largely Attended—Interment at Forest Hill Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Albert J. Gregory, K. C., took place this afternoon from his late residence, Acacia Grove Waterloo Row. There were many at the funeral the deceased having a wide circle of acquaintances and also being prominent in the life of the community.

Prayers were offered at the home by Very Rev. Dean Neales who also conducted the service at Christchurch Cathedral at three o'clock. Interment was made in the family burial plot at Forest Hill Cemetery.

The pall-bearers also were mourners. They were P. S. Gregory and H. A. F. Gregory sons of the deceased, Dr. L. S. Foster, Ian MacLaren, J. J. F. Winslow and G. A. Taylor. The other mourners were Dr. H. V. B. Bridges, W. W. Hubbard, J. S. Armstrong, J. Fraser Gregory, Donald MacRae, Alexander MacRae, Harold Donham, J. H. Hawthorne, J. J. McCaffrey, Dr. C. P. Holden, Col. Murray MacLaren, Sir Douglas Hazen, William Turvey.

THE CANADIAN TEACHERS NOW IN SCOTLAND

The Beaverbrook Party Given a Most Cordial Welcome on Arrival.

Glasgow, Scotland, July 11—Sirens, shrieked, kilted Highlanders played national airs on the bagpipes and cheers rang out from the large crowd at the landing pier this afternoon when 40 New Brunswick high school teachers, who have come over as the guests of Lord and Lady Beaverbrook to tour Great Britain and the Irish Free State, landed from the liner Montclair.

The party enjoyed perfect weather on their crossing and looked radiantly happy at the prospect of experiencing what Mr. Justice O. S. Crocket, of the New Brunswick King's Bench Division, who is conducting the party, described after examining their itinerary as "the finest trip of its kind ever conceived or attempted by one individual."

Given Roses.

Lady Beaverbrook motored 30 miles early this morning down the Clyde to meet her guests at Greenock. She was given a warm ovation when on board and graciously presented each one of the party with a bouquet of Highland heather roses.

In a brief address of welcome Lady Beaverbrook expressed the wish that the visit would not only prove an interesting and entertaining holiday, but by the new knowledge gained of the great institutions and traditions which have made British history, it will serve also to strengthen the bond of loyal affection—already I know, very strong—which unites all to the Mother Country of the Empire."

Judge Speaks.

Mr. Justice Crocket, after a cordial expression of his appreciation of Lady Beaverbrook, paid the following tribute to her husband: "He has always been a great lover of the Empire and a great imperialist. He grew up as a body in New Brunswick and has always shown a deep love and interest for his province and the desire to bring it and indeed all of Canada, something of an inspiration from the Motherland. His object in having us as the guests of Lady Beaverbrook and himself is to teach this to the youth of New Brunswick and of the Dominion, through these high school teachers. That object, I am confident, will be fully attained."

The party will see every place of interest in Great Britain and Ireland and will meet many distinguished public figures, including Lord Birkenhead, Secretary of State for India, Lloyd George, leader of the Liberal party in the House of Commons, and Lord Eustace Percy, president of the Board of Education. The teachers will be lavishly entertained everywhere and when in Ireland will be the guests of Rt. Hon. Timothy Healey at the Vice-Regal Lodge.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Merritt and family of Barker's Point, wish through the columns of the Mail to thank all who worked so hard at the recent fire, in order to save their home and furniture. It was due to their efforts that the fire was finally checked.

Late Mrs. Elizabeth Kaiser.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kaiser wife of William Kaiser of this city died Saturday night at her home 313 York street.

The death was sudden. The husband and one son, aged nine years, survive. The funeral took place this afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. I. A. Corbett of the George street Baptist Church. Interment was made in the Rural Cemetery Extension.

Hay Loaders

The International Loader has rapidly made its way in Eastern Canada because of its strong durable construction and the conveniences which it possesses that are not found on other Loaders of this type. It is practically all steel which is a distinct advantage when it is necessary to leave the loader out of doors.

The adjustable carrier section permits the delivery end of the loader to be lowered about three feet. Thus when starting to load hay on a windy day with the gale sweeping across the rack, the hay is delivered directly to the man on the wagon where he can catch it before the wind has a chance to blow it off.
