LADY LABORITE WAS ELECTED

London, Eng., April 30—The by-election in East Ham, North Division today, due to the death of the Conservative member, C. W. Crook, resulted in the return of Miss Susan Lawrence Labor, over Conservative and Liberal candidates.

There has been a see-saw representation in this constituency since 1922 when Mr. Cook defeated Miss Lawrence. In 1923 Miss Lawrence defeated Crook and in 1924 Crook again defeated Miss Lawrence.

DON'T MARRY AT TWENTY FOUR

London, April 30—These don'ts for college students were given out by an Oxford Don, Kenneth Bell:

"Don't get married at 24."
"Don't have six children."
"Don't have a European war in the middle thirties."

"Gimme a bite of your apple?" coaxed the little boy.
"Say, what do you think this is, the Garden of Eden?" retorted the little girl.

lie domain a revenue commensurate with its value, believe that steps should be taken to ascertain at the earliest possible date a better estimate of the different grades of standing lumber and the value of the same together with the conditions surrounding the various areas held by the lessees of Crown Lands in the Province, would suggest that a commission of five competent men might be selected and empowered to take evidence from all the holders of Crown Lands of full and complete information respecting the areas held by them. We believe this to be important not only from the standpoint of giving to the Department most valuable information but also because of the transition through which this industry is now passing and to enable the Government before the time arrives for the fixing of the rate of stampage shall be made.

This we believe, would also remove in a large measure the misapprehension which exists in the minds of many of the people of the province respecting the public domain. Values have been placed upon these holdings by respective Ministers from time to time which are at variance with each other. Various opinions are expressed with respect to the classification of rates and the adoption of a different rate respecting different areas. Such a Commission as we have suggested we believe would go far toward placing in the hands of the Department a more complete and accurate record of the public domain of this province.

Hydro Expenditures.

Your Committee have not had an opportunity of investigating matters with respect to the expenditures in connection with Hydro development during the last year and there are other branches of the public service which we regret to say we have not had sufficient time to give the attention they merit.

We desire to thank the officials of the several Departments who have appeared before the Committee and from time to time given the desired explanations regarding the expenditures in the several branches of the public service.

MR. VENIOT said he must congratulate the members of the Committee upon the very thorough way in which they had evidently done their work. As a member of the House he wished to insist that the Government make a full investigation into the charges made regarding irregularities in connection with the work on Highways in Charlotte Co. He felt sure that nothing wrong would be found as between the Department and Mr. Scovell and he did not wish any stigma to attach to his (Veniots) administration of the Department. In connection with the charges regarding Supervisor McCrea in Queens county, he would say that immediately after the 10th August he had sent for that official to come to the Department, but he found that he had left for the United States.

Other Reports.

MR. GUPTILL reported for the Contingencies Committee, and recommended that the Deputy Speaker receive a fee of $100.00.

MR. DICKSON submitted a report from the Agricultural Committee.

MR. EVANS submitted a report from the Library Committee.

HON. MR. BAXTER introduced a bill relating to the Provincial Hospital which on the grounds of urgency was read a second time.

HON. MR. RICHARDS introduced a bill relating to timber licenses, which was also read a second time.

MR. VENIOT said he must protest against bringing down a bill of such importance within a few hours of prorogation.

HON. MR. RICHARDS said that ample time would be given for discussion in Committee.

HON. MR. LEGERE introduced a bill regarding taxes on corporations and to impose special temporary taxation on banks and certain companies.

MR. HARRISON submitted the report of the Law Committee.

Motor Vehicles.

HON. MR. BAXTER moved that the Motor Vehicle Act be again submitted to the committee of the whole House for some amendments re the Parish of Lancaster; also that the bill relating to the Frederick School Board be submitted to the same Committee.

The House went into Committee to consider the above mentioned bills, also bills relating to Fire Alarms in the County of St. John, respecting Assessments in the City of St. John and authorizing the town of Edmundston to issue debentures, which were reported as amended and ordered to be read a third time today.

The bill amending the Motor Vehicle Law was read a third time and passed.

Recess was taken at 1.25 p. m. till 3 p. m.

Afternoon Session.

The House resumed at three o'clock, and went into Committee with Mr. Squires in the Chair.

An Act respecting the floating debt of the province was taken under consideration.

MR. VENIOT protested against the amount of over-expenditure on roads chargeable to auto funds being funded as proposed by the bill. He did not think direct taxation should be imposed in connection with an amount that could be charged against the auto fund.

HON. MR. BAXTER said the fact that this authority was being taken did not mean that it would be exercised. What could be carried by the auto fund would be taken care of in that way. If half of the amount mentioned in the bill could be taken care of under existing legislation, of course the government would do it, and all this would be carefully examined before anything was done.

Lancaster Highways.

HON. MR. BAXTER moved that the sum of $105,455.37 be inserted in the clause of the bill relating to the agreement made between Hon. P. J. Veniot, Minister of Public Works and the Highway Board of the Parish of Lancaster in the city and county of Saint John, to say the share of the cost of a highway in that parish.

The last clause of the preamble of the bill, on motion of Hon. Mr. Baxter, was amended to read "It is anticipated that a sum not exceeding $700,000 will be required to meet a deficit of the current fiscal year." The Bill was agreed to as amended.

The Revenue Bill.

The Act to aid in the raising of a revenue was next taken under consideration.

MR. VENIOT said he had already entered his protest against the principle of direct taxation and did not propose taking up much time of the House in again discussing the question. He was more convinced than ever that it was not necessary to take such steps as was proposed under this bill. He referred to the issuing of a warrant against a municipality and thought there would be a hardship worked by reason of the province demanding the full amount when there would likely be a shortage in collection from the taxpayers. If the bill went through, as he had no doubt it would, every possible step should be taken to lighten as much as possible the burden of taxation upon the municipalities. He did not think the province should collect up to the full amount of the warrant without making some provision for taking care of the shortage in collections. Without discussing the matter further he would move the following amendment, second by Mr. Michaud:

Amendment Moved.

"Whereas Bill No. 82 authorizes the government to levy a direct tax upon real and personal property and income for the purpose of raising revenue for the services of the province.

"And whereas the government had given no evidence to this House of their determination to practice economy and retrenchment and adopt means to prevent the increase in the public debt of the province, but on the contrary have during the present session sought authorization to add five million dollars to the public debt of the province;

"And whereas the Government have not exhausted all the means of raising revenue from indirect sources, such as the stampage on lumber cut on Crown lands and taxation for privileges of developing our water powers; "And whereas in the opinion of this House conditions do not warrant the levying of direct taxes by the government for provincial purposes;

"Therefore be it resolved that Bill No. 82 be not now considered, but be considered this day six months hence."

The Premier Replies.

HON. MR. BAXTER said he noted with pleasure what his hon. friend had said that this bill had not come as any surprise to the opposition. The government had endeavored to bring down legislation in good time and he thought there was only one bill and that this morning, that could be said to have been brought down in the dying hours of the session. With regard to direct taxation he thought his hon. friend would take more satisfaction out of it than almost anything else. It would be the ground work for a political campaign for him for the next four years. He noted that his hon. friend had very materially reshaped his platform. After going as far as a man could go to destroy the stability of the finances of the province, he immediately finds fault with the man who undertakes the work of righting these finances. He (Baxter) expected a great deal of criticism in connection with this bill, but he thought as it became better understood that people would come around to see that the government had done the only courageous thing and the only right thing a government could do. This matter had given the government most anxious consideration. Had they gone on in the fatuous policy pursued in the past, the crash must have come eventually. It might have been postponed for a few years, but only for a few years. Today we found that it was taking all the ordinary resources to take care of the good roads of which we had boasted. It was time for the people to wake up to a realization of the true situation. It was not worth while to go back into past history, but it was time the people learned that the things they wanted must be paid for and that from them the pay must come.

Referring to the question of valuation he said no locality in the province could tell today what would be the amount of the tax bill they would have to pay. There ought to be a complete valuation of the whole province, to get at this proposed taxation in the most favorable way.

The government, he said, proposed to get money enough to run this province. They would be as economical as a government could reasonably be. If the province could find any other system of revenue let them say so. To say that we should tax our water powers when his hon. friend had a scheme to develop water power that could not be taxed, was a rather poor argument for him to use.

MR. VENIOT—You are giving it away.
HON. MR. BAXTER said they were giving it away in a manner that would present an opportunity for development immediate and great which would advance the growth of New Brunswick instead of retarding it. His hon. friend had criticized the government for lowering the stampage, yet he himself had lowered it twice as much.

With regard to the amount to be collected from the different municipalities, the government would ask for the amount required and allow the locality to make the collection in its own way. He assured the House that there would be no haste in the matter of putting this taxation proposal into effect.

MR. RICHARD said he could not support the bill, and he hoped that the amendment would carry.

MR. DYSART said the Premier took a great deal of credit for facing the financial situation in a courageous manner, but instead of paying interest and sinking fund out of the ordinary revenues of the province he was proposing to bond the deficits. From all the criticism he had heard from those who composed the present government he got the impression that the matter of increasing the bonded debt of the province by bonding deficits on current account was to be a thing of the past.

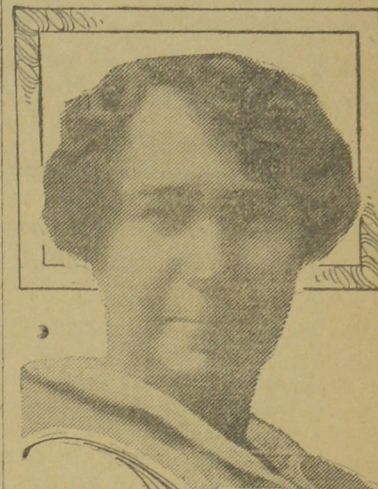

MR. LORDON said when this government, after reducing the stampage, was also giving back bonuses to the lumbermen, and then directly taxing the people, he would oppose the bill.

The vote on the amendment being called, it stood yeas, 11, nays 32.

The bill was passed on the vote reversed, the following clauses being in the amended preamble:—"Whereas it has been deemed advisable at this session of the Legislature to authorize the issue of bonds to an amount not exceeding $3,700,000 (Continued on page 5.)

THE DIAMOND MONTH.

The blades of grass with little bright Pellucid beads are strung.
From every newly budded leaf
A crystal drop is hung.
At every tendril's nodding tip
An earring twinkles, too,
And all the daffodils are decked
With lavalliers of dew.

The tulip's crimson chalice has
A jewel of the rain.
A necklace from a morning shower
Has made the pansy vain.
Upon its curls the hyacinth
Displays a diadem.
For April is the diamond month
It is her natal gem.

Where An American Hangs His Hat

Once a hat was not just a hat; it was also a badge of sectionalism. That was when the broad-brimmed Stetson and the nobby derby seldom met. When South, East, North, West lived differently, dressed differently, and thought differently. When a traveling American could feel like a stranger in his own land.

Before advertising—

But now Mrs. Green of Boston and Mrs. Brown of El Paso use the same vacuum cleaner, face powder, soap; Adams of Boston and Sims of Seattle are alike in the cut of their clothes. And where an American hangs his hat, within the borders of these United States, he feels at home. Advertising did that.

Advertising is still at work helping to make these states united. Here is a better bed, a handsomer shoe, a more delicious food. Let it be known from Maine to California, from Washington State to Florida! Here's a healthier way to live, another safeguard for your family, a new service of self-improvement.
