DAMAGING EVIDENCE AT GALLOP TRIAL

Roberval, June 13—The trial of Emily Sprague, charged with the murder of her husband, Abraham Gallop, on August 6, of last year, was continued yesterday at the Criminal Assizes, Mr. Justice Gibson presiding.

The Crown has not yet completed its case and the trial will be continued, it is anticipated, until the middle of the current week.

Testimony regarding the good health of Abraham Gallop was given by J. McMorin, who swore that he had visited the Gallop home on the morning of Aug. 6, 1925.

By Mr. Bienvenue: "You saw Abraham Gallop."

"Yes."

"How was he?"

"In perfect health."

Mrs. McMorin, wife of the preceding witness swore that eight hours prior to the death of Abraham Gallop, Mrs. Gallop had had a mourning costume made for herself, and that she had asked what was the best poison. Abraham Gallop died on Aug. 6, 1925, at Ile Mailigne, Que., while employed by the Duke-Price Company. His body was taken to Kingsclear, N. B., of which place the dead man was a native, for burial. Later, on instructions from the Attorney-General of Quebec, it was exhumed by the New Brunswick authorities, and an autopsy conducted. Mrs. Gallop was arrested and charged with murder, the trial opening on Friday last.

WILL SEARCH JOURNALS OF THE SENATE

Ottawa, June 13—"In order to ascertain what action, if any, has been taken by the Upper House in regard to the act respecting old age pensions," Mr. A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox-Alberni) has given notice of a motion to have the journals of the Senate searched.

The privilege of searching the journal is available to either house of parliament under rule 86.

Under Mr. Neill's motion the whole question of old age pensions could be revived again in the Commons, although the bill was rejected by the Senate early this week. It is unlikely, however, that Mr. Neill's motion will be reached this session.

Miss Mary Thompson of Denver, Col., is a visitor to the city.

MAY SOON BE ABLE TO COMBAT PNEUMONIA

Philadelphia, June 13—Hope for the early perfection of a serum effective to combat pneumonia is held out by delegates attending the convention of the American Therapeutic Society.

Six years laboratory work has convinced Dr. F. M. Huntoon, of this city, that the serum known as "pneumococcus antibody solution" is already highly effective and he predicted that it soon would be perfected to such an extent that the mortality from pneumonia would be reduced to not more than five per cent. With its use in the early stages of pneumonia Dr. Huntoon said the chance of recovery was 92 per cent.

The serum was first developed in laboratories in this city in 1920. In a test the following winter in a New York hospital, Dr. Huntoon told the convention yesterday, 20 cases of pneumonia were treated with it with a cure in each instance.

Shock Eliminated
"The hospital staff became wildly enthusiastic, as did I also," said Dr. Huntoon, "but we soon noticed that administration of the serum caused a shock in patients which caused a sudden rise in temperatures. Then we eliminated the shock, but the resulting serum, while apparently safer, was not as effective in controlling the disease, although it still serves to prevent the pneumonia infection from spreading from the lungs to other parts of the body and therefore is of value."

"Our experimental work is now entering another phase. We have found that we can concentrate the serum and we are working along that line. Thus far, however, we have found that the shock factor is also concentrated. Our chief problem is to reduce the latter. We do not believe it should be entirely eliminated; it seems to be needed."

WOULD PAY BIG SUM TO GET RID OF LLOYD GEORGE

London, June 13—A political flurry has been caused by reports that an unnamed Liberal peer has offered to donate £1,000,000 to the party funds on condition that former Premier Lloyd George cease to be associated with the organization.

It is understood that a member of the Liberal Candidates' Association referred to this report in last night's meeting of the association and asked whether it were true.

According to Mr. Lloyd George's supporters there was no direct denial of the story.

The controversy between the Earl of Oxford and Asquith and Lloyd George over the latter's policy during the recent general strike was brought up at last night's meeting and resulted in the passage of a resolution expressing strong desire for the restoration of complete unanimity in the political party under Earl of Oxford's leadership.
