GOVERNMENT WAS SUSTAINED BY A MAJORITY OF TEN ON THE SECOND DIVISION OF SESSION

Ottawa, Feb. 1—By a majority of ten the House of Commons tonight defeated the Conservative amendment to the Government motion for the address. In a vote which followed party lines insofar as the Conservatives and Liberals were concerned and in which the Government was supported by all the members of the Progressive, Labor and Independent parties, the majority which exceeded that of the last division by seven was obtained.

Crowded galleries witnessed the division, although there was not manifest the tense interest which marked the division of the last Meighen non-confidence amendment. The vote tonight had been closely forecast. The Conservatives to a man supported the amendment, the Liberals as solidly voted against it. Progressives Solid.

The five Progressives who supported the Conservatives in the last division switched to the government in this.

They are: A. M. Carmichael, Kindersley; W. T. Lucas, Camrose; A. M. Boutillier, Vegreville; H. R. Fansher, Last Mountain and M. N. Campbell, MacKenzie.

The Conservatives gain one vote over that recorded in the last division through the presence of A. D. Chaplin, of Kent, Ont., who was ill when the last vote was taken.

Herbert Lennox, Conservative, of North York, was absent but was paired with C. W. Cross, Liberal. W. F. Kay (Liberal) was absent through illness.

The Meighen amendment which met with defeat tonight, called upon the House of Commons to "express regret that the Speech from the Throne gives no indication of policy designed to enlarge the volume of employment in Canada and particularly to give the producers of farm products, coal and other primary products the advantage they are under present world conditions, entitle to enjoy in the markets of this country."

It was moved by the opposition leader on Jan. 18. The debate, therefore, has lasted for two weeks.

Immediately the result of the vote was declared Donald Sutherland (Conservative), North Oxford, rose and moved the adjournment of the debate. He desired, he said, in view of the prolonged observations from the Liberal benches, to say a few words on the main motion. Hon. Ernest Lapointe acting government leader, voiced no opposition to Mr. Sutherland's motion, which was carried.

It is understood that Mr. Sutherland will move another amendment advocating protection for the Canadian dairy industry.

NORTH OF ENGLAND TIMBER TRADE NOT SATISFACTORY; ARGENTINE MARKET FOR PULPWOOD

Four large ports compete for the timber import requirements of North-ern England—namely, Liverpool, Manchester, Hull and Newcastle, writes Assistant Trade Commissioner Harry A. Scott, Liverpool, in the forthcoming issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal. Liverpool does the largest share of the trade and in view of its position on the West Coast has always maintained a very close connection with Canadian timber exporters. Similarly, Newcastle and Hull are very advantageously situated for carrying on trade with the Northern European timber countries. Since the opening of the Manchester ship canal Manchester has become an important distributing point for the large industrial district in which it is located.

During 1925 the demand for timber has not been satisfactory and in spite of the good start secured during the first four months of the year, a slump set in from the beginning of May which lasted until the end of September, with a consequent effect on the volume of business. This depression is attributed largely to the unsatisfactory conditions prevailing in the major industries of this country. One of the bright spots has been the continued activity of the building trades, which has helped to maintain the demand for certain classes of wood, notably spruce for flooring and joinery stocks, and for furniture hardwoods, etc.

This past year generally has been a very trying one for all sections of the softwood trade. At the same time, the imports of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia spruce to Liverpool during the period January 1 to December 31, 1925, 19,620 standards were imported as against 19,400 for 1925 and 18,950 for 1923. Consumption has exceeded last year's figures by 2,290 standards, and stocks on December 31, 1925, stood at 4,900 standards as against 5,470 at the close of 1924.

Canadian Douglas Fir merchantable grade has been imported in considerable quantity. This grade has been growing in favor for all classes of ordinary building work, and has also been in demand for use as railway ties. It is reported that several large contracts for this type were placed in December for 1925 delivery, in competition with Baltic red wood which in the past has been the popular wood for this purpose. The demand for pulpwood is growing rapidly in this country for use in interior decorating, motor cars, and a great number of varied industries.

The Market For Pulp in Argentina.

The importation of wood-pulp into Argentina shows a steady increase from 12,300 tons in 1921 to 16,000 tons in 1924, and will probably rise to 20,000 tons in 1925, writes Trade Commissioner E. L. McColl, Buenos Aires, in the forthcoming issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal. Germany is the chief source of supply, furnishing about 57½ per cent of the total imports for 1924 and the first six months of 1925. Sweden, Finland and Austria follow in the order named with 18 per cent, 13½ per cent, and 6 per cent, the remaining 5 per cent being supplied by other countries. No imports are shown from Canada.

There are eight paper mills in Argentina, having a total invested capital of from $8,000,000 to $8,500,000 (Canadian). Their present daily consumption amounts to about 17 tons of mechanical wood-pulp and 38 tons of chemical wood-pulp. Besides this importation, the mills use some 18,000 tons per year of old paper collected locally. Altogether, the mills consume about 35,000 tons per year of raw material, manufacturing about 23,000 tons of wrapping and similar paper, 3,000 to 4,000 tons of medium printing and book paper, and about 3,000 tons of cardboard.

During the war a considerable quantity of first quality mechanical wood-pulp was made here from willow and poplar at a cost of about 12 cents (Canadian) per kilo. This raw material could be made today at from 8 to 9 cents, but production has ceased owing to the fact that imported mechanical pulp laid down at the mill, duty paid, costs from 5 to 5½ cents.

Newsprint comes in duty free and cannot therefore be manufactured locally. The low duty on general writing and book papers makes local manufacture difficult. The customs duty on pulp, wrapping, writing and book papers is approximately as follows, in Canadian currency per ton: wood-pulp, $6.75; wrapping paper, $100; writing and book paper, $40.

Total exports of Canadian pulp for the month of October, 1925, amounted to 99,211 tons—approximately 60 times the amount which Argentine mills consume—yet statistics show that none of this Canadian pulp comes to Argentina.

SHORT SKIRTS MEAN JAIL

Athens, Greece, Feb. 2—In this country a husband may be fined or sent to jail if his wife's skirt is too short.

A new law in force prohibits the wearing of a dress shorter than 7 1/2 inches below the knee. In case of a single woman, the penalty is $15 for the first offense and 30 days' imprisonment.

But in the case of a married woman and those under 18 the husband and father are held responsible.

Again at His Office.

Ernest A. MacKey, Assistant Registrar of the Supreme Court, was again at his office this morning after a long illness.

GROUNDHOG NOT MUCH CLASS AS A PROPHET

Washington, Feb. 1—Whether the groundhog sees his shadow tomorrow or not, the weather for the next six weeks will be the same, says Dr. W. J. Humphreys, Professor of Meteorological Physics at the U. S. Weather Bureau, for statistics have shown that there is no relation between sunshine or its lack on Candlemas, or any other particular day, and the coming of spring. True, it is possible that tomorrow may be cloudy and that the weather may soon become warm, but if so it will only be a coincidence.

The poor groundhog, Arctomys monax, as Linnaeus dubbed him, has had all this notoriety thrust on him. Dr. Humphreys stated, for the legend has its origin in Europe. In England, the hedgehog, is the animal that comes out of his winter quarters to look for his shadow on Candlemas day in Germany it is the badger and in France it is the bear. The early immigrants to the United States, however, found the groundhog more common than any of these, so this harmless animal was made the butt of the joke.

Incidentally, the groundhog, though he does burrow into the ground, is not a hog, nor is he even slightly related to the porcine family. Like the guinea pig, which is not a pig either, Mr. Arctomys monax is related to the rabbit family. Like the rabbits, he spends most of his time nibbling at grass and other herbage. He is also known as the woodchuck and the marmot.
