BLUNDERS

WHY IS THIS WRONG?

Thousands of letters are delayed in delivery from two to ten hours in big cities because business men do not place their return street address on letterheads and envelopes. Even though a company may be an important one, all postal employees do not have its address committed to memory. Consequently its mail will surely be delayed if persons who must reply to its letters are given no street address.

Of Interest to the Women

HAIR STYLES.

Like the animals of the woods who take on thick fur to combat the winter breezes, so will the shingle bob thicken as the cold days come closer upon us. "But the hair will be short," threatens Mme. Louise, beauty diagnostician. "It will be longer short, but it will be short."

Then Mme. Louise settles down to a chat on the advanced styles in hairdressing, prefixing it with a few practical statements about natural laws. For it is common knowledge that hair falls out in the spring and in the autumn, but that it grows thicker in the winter.

"The winter bob, for the middle-aged person," says the specialist, "will have more dignity than heretofore. The lines will be drawn straight back, partly disclosing the ear and will give a finished appearance. The hair will be glossed back and the entire effect will be that of length. Pomades and finger waving all well known back in 1860, will now play an important role in the hairdressing of women."

But ideas vary somewhat for the younger generation. The side hair will be short there will be a very small knob at the center back and a popular type will be to swirl the hair from ear to ear, fastening it with a tiny comb small rhinestone pin or a dainty flower.

Then there is the ribbon style of hairdress, winding the hair in a glossy layer around the head like a ribbon. The criss-cross fashion is likewise coming into vogue and this is characterized by pinning extra hair on either side and crossing it in the back.

Dr. J. P. Martin, expert in hair cutting, believes that the best winter bobs will be cut by the hairdresser who remembers that the shape of the woman's head should determine the kind of haircut she receives. "No two women would really have the same haircut then," he says, "for shapes of heads vary. The neckline, too would correspond with the head; the natural hairline should be followed."

Dr. Martin advocates the "tailored bob" for the young girl whose head is not too flat. In it the hair is parted from front to back, swirled to the sides and there hangs in tiny clusters of curls. The effect is altogether girlish and picturesque.

Hair will always be short, he says, following up his statement by direct inquiries to his woman patrons and they bear him out in every detail.

Peter Berg, another specialist on hair styles, says that he has begun to taper all winter bobs. "By tapering a soft curly line is achieved and the ends of the hair blend to the lines of the face and cheek. "The hair no longer sticks out," he says, "it is smoothed to the head and lies like a polished surface."

Short hair is here to stay because it gives youth to women. "As for the high school girls who are letting their hair grow," laughed the beauty specialists, "spring and summer will find them running to the barber shops for straight boy bobs. It's the cold weather that puts the long hair idea into their young heads."

MUST MIND HIS BUSINESS OR GO TO JAIL

New York, Dec. 27—Characterized by a probation officer as "a reformer with the usual mental twist that makes him think every one is wrong but him," Branson C. Stimmell, 46 years old, an insurance agent here, has been sentenced to 30 days with the execution of the prison term suspended as long as he minds his own business.

Stimmell has been convicted of damaging private property after he tore down a poster in the window of a railway surface car.

In defense Stimmell said that the poster obstructed his view.

Court records revealed that Stimmell was arrested in 1919 for interfering with a truant officer, but was discharged.

For Deep Chest Colds

All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the air passages and lungs.

Vicks is a "vapor" treatment in salve form. For deep chest colds you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for 5 minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth.

Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long.

This double action usually checks the most stubborn cold overnight.

CLERGYMAN MADE A PLEA FOR TOLERANCE

London, Dec. 27—A query in the third act of "The Outcast" at the Regent Theatre—"Should I marry this man with whom I have been living?"—moved a visiting clergyman to rise from his seat in the stalls.

"Yes, it would be quite all right," advised the Rev. Harold Davidson, rector of Stiffkey, Norfolk, who was visiting in London and had been taken by friends to see the play. The Rev. Mr. Davidson turned a benign countenance toward the audience.

"This unfortunate woman," he said of the actress, Miss Letty Paxton, "should be treated as one of your sisters."

The minister warmed to his theme and made a stirring plea for tolerance. A commissioner called on him to sit down, but by the time he had finished speaking, with the actress still on the stage, he was applauded by the audience.

"I felt that the audience," explained the Rev. Mr. Davidson after the play "which was chiefly composed of middle class and well to do people, would resent her question and undoubtedly answer 'No.'"

"I have been very actively engaged in rescue work, and I felt that my time had come to do good work and impress on the audience the necessity for treating such questions broadly."
