SIX PEOPLE BURNED TO DEATH

EX-KAISER UNDERWENT OPERATION

News Leaks Out From Behind His Castle Gates.

EAR GIVING HIM TROUBLE

Is Now Said to be Suffering From a Slight Cold.

(Special cable to the Daily Mail by the British United Press)

Doorn, Holland, Jan. 12.—That the former Kaiser had undergone a successful operation on his ear last week leaked out here today from behind the gates of Doorn Castle. Subsequently the Kaiser caught a cold and is still suffering from that. CONTEST BIRDS CONTINUE TO DO GOOD WORK

Hoyt Station Pen Occupies a Unique Position in Weight of Eggs.

The weekly report of the New Brunswick egg laying contest shows that the Barred Rock pen of George Wood of Carter's Point continues to lead with a total of 337 eggs and 330.8 points. The Barred Rocks of M. McD. Steven of Hoyt Station with a total of 277 eggs and 299.4 points come second. Mr. Steven's pen has really made the most remarkable showing of all, as it is the only pen having to its credit more points than eggs. Not another contest pen in the Maritime provinces has made such a showing, and the report of the Dominion contest at Ottawa, in which eighty crack pens are competing, shows no parallel case. Neither is there a pen in the Ontario contest in which sixty are competing, which is standing up so well in the average weight of eggs. Mr. Steven who has set such a fast pace for the poultry breeders of Eastern Canada, is a native of Scotland, who has been farming at Hoyt Station for fifteen years. He won second place in last year's New Brunswick egg laying contest.

Other pens which made a satisfactory showing last week were those of John Moore of Scotch Lake, H. G. Harrison of St. John, A. T. Reid of Rollingdam, James Monahan of Elmsdale and W. E. B. Tait of Dorchester.

GOLF POPULAR IN IRELAND

Dublin, Jan. 12.—Twenty years ago in Ireland golf was regarded as a foreign game and confined to a few people of the wealthy and leisured class. Now it has become a game for everybody. Clubs of 200 or 300 members each abound in Dublin, and Belfast has public courses on which everybody may play. There is a movement in Dublin to have the Phoenix park made available for golf. The old notion that golf was only for unionists has disappeared, and well-known Sinn Feiners are among its exponents. Lord Glenavy, president of the senate expresses the hope that the day is not far off when facilities for playing golf will be at the disposal of every citizen, no matter what his means.

ALD-ELECT MITCHELL Described as the Master Mind Behind the Winning Ticket.

MEDIEVAL PASSAGES ARE DISCOVERED

Paris, Jan. 12.—Workmen employed in laying water-pipes have discovered in the Rue Mont-Valerien, Suresnes, two subterranean passages, communicating with each other and dating from the eleventh century. Various inscriptions, including "the year 1037," are engraved on the walls of the passages, of which only twenty yards are exposed. Probably, however, they extend to Mont Valerien, which abbey was a favorite place of refuge in the stirring times of Henry I. It is thought that the passages were used by persons fleeing from the troops of the duke of Normandy, who became William I. of England, or from the troops of rebel feudal lords.

LIBERALS CLAIM A MAJORITY

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—Liberals claim tonight that the Meighen amendment of non-confidence in the Government will be defeated by eight or nine votes. This would mean an almost solid Progressive vote against the amendment. Today's proceedings in the House, however, gave no definite indication of the way Progressives would vote.

Bourassa and Guthrie To Continue Debate In the House Today

The Liberals Look for a Majority of Seven or Eight When Momentous Division is Taken—The Progressives Will Hold Another Caucus This Afternoon—Defeat of the Government is Not Expected.

(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY MAIL)

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 12.—Henri Bourassa will continue the debate on the Meighen amendment of no confidence and Hon. Hugh Guthrie will follow him. The Liberals persist in claiming that they will have a majority of seven or eight when the momentous division is reached. Piles of departmental reports are being brought down every day but everything in the House is held up pending the debate.

Progressive Caucus

Progressives will have one more caucus this afternoon before the House meets to decide if they will stand together as a group or vote according to individual preference. The general view today is that the Government will be supported by a majority of ten if the Progressives vote solidly as a body and by a majority of two if there are abstentions or individual voting. The actual defeat of the Government is not generally considered likely except by a few Conservatives. Carmichael of Saskatchewan who spoke yesterday, Milton Campbell, member for McKenzie, and Lucas of Alberta and Beaubien of Manitoba are regarded as the likeliest Progressives to bolt. The last two were originally Conservatives.

Want Rails Replaced.
This morning before the Government resumed its sitting at noon, Angus McLean and G. W. Gilbert of Bathurst conferred with Premier Baxter and other members of the Executive, and A. D. Holyoke, president of the Saint John & Quebec Railway and E. J. Owens of Saint John engineer of the same line. The organization undertaken by Chief Inspector McFarlane will be in conformity with the Act.

TERRITORIAL CONFERENCE AT PEKING

(Special cable to the Daily Mail by the British United Press)

London, Jan. 12.—Authoritative sources here expressed themselves today as seeing hope for an immediate change in China's international relations as a result of the extra territorial conference at Peking. It was suggested that the conferees would make a programme for the future allowing China more freedom from international control and then await putting into effect until such time as a "strong man" should arise in China who could guarantee peace and order not alone for the foreigners but for the whole Chinese nation as well.

tion between Gagetown and Westfield rails were secured by lifting the steel of the Northern & Seaboard Railway which was not in use because of the closing of the iron mines at Gloucester Mines. SAYS ST. PAUL HAD SHORTHAND STENOGRAPHER

Chicago, Jan. 12.—The Apostle Paul had a stenographer who took down his letters in shorthand Henry O. Lloyd of the University of Chicago declared in a thesis today. This fact, he said, was revealed through recent studies of the Greek papyri bearing the original Scriptures.

That the writing of shorthand in these days was a definitely established trade is shown in Mr. Lloyd's thesis through a contract of 155 A. D., in which an ex-magistrate of Oxyrhynchus apprenticed his slave to a shorthand writer. The form of the writing is not clear. However, the principle of abbreviation was used, which has complicated the work of modern translators considerably.

FASCISTI PUTS BAN ON DIVORCES

Rome, Italy, Jan. 12.—There will be no divorce in Italy under the complete fascist state. This is one of the predictions in an article by Alfred Rocco, minister of justice, in the jubilee edition of the magazine Rassegna Italiana, published to commemorate the twenty-fifth year of King Victor Emmanuel's reign. Nearly all the cabinet ministers, including Premier Mussolini and Count Volpi, contributed articles at the request of the editor, Tomaso Hillani.

This issue of the magazine constitutes a veritable encyclopedia of the policies and activities of the fascist regime. It has especial importance as evidence that the fascist movement, which originally had a republican and anticlerical character, is now definitely for the monarchy and the Catholic church. Sig. Rocco indicates that fascist legislation, not only regarding divorce but also in its general spirit, will be guided by the principles of Christianity as interpreted by the church.
