MISS ADELE FOWLIE IS TREASURER OF SPECTACLE COMPANY IN DIFFICULTIES

Hankinson Zoo and Spectacle Company Putting on "America" Under Mystic Shrine Auspices at Boston—Jumped There From Akron, O.—Bad Weather Affected Attendance and Financial Returns—Miss Fowlie Fredericton Girl.

(Boston Post, Sunday.)
The spectacle "America" closed an engagement of two and a half weeks at Braves Field last night with Earl F. Newberry the director-general of the production in jail and the financial affairs of the producing company badly tangled.

At Hartford, where the pageant was advertised to open at Charter Oak Park tomorrow, announcement has been made, that the show has been cancelled because of the alleged failure to guarantee expenses.

Newberry is at the Charles street jail under surety of $1000 which has not been furnished. He is charged with larceny in connection with uttering a worthless check.

Here in Boston the spectacle was produced under the auspices of the Patrol and Drum Corps of the Aleppo Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine. It was planned to give the proceeds of the entertainment to charity.

While in no way legally responsible for the debts incurred by the production company here, the local Shriners have seen to it that all money taken in at the gate since the show opened was turned over to the performers for the salaries and applied to other obligations contracted.

Last night when the final performance was over the actors stated that they had been paid their salaries for the entire Boston engagement with the exception of one quarter of a week, and that this salary was promised to them as soon as all the money was collected from ticket holders.

Potentate Walter W. Morrison head of the local temple of Shriners said last night that the Patrol and Drum Corps would take care of all Boston expenses of the show. The receipts up to that time amounted to $35,000 he said. What the total liabilities of the production amounted to he was not able to say and declared that there was more than an even chance for the Patrol and Drum Corps to "break even."

Can't Here from Ohio.

The production came here from Akron, O., having staged there under the auspices of Shriners of Detroit where the spectacle was staged June 19 to 30, under the auspices of the Shadukiam Grotto Shriners. The house of Ralph A. Hankinson and the American Spectacle Company were legal titles of the concerns staging the show, though Newberry was admittedly the head of both concerns.

Business was bad in Detroit and worse in Akron. On July 8 the show arrived in Boston on a special train consisting of five cars. There were 20 acts in the production and the personnel, including the performers, electricians, grooms, laborers and others numbered over 200. In addition the assembled show had four elephants, 15 horses and 25 ponies. The pay roll also has been estimated at $7,000 weekly.

Financial Affairs Muddled.

Scarcely had the show detrained before the news was circulated that the financial affairs of the concern were in a muddle. The performers had not been paid for the Akron engagement and were in a belligerent frame of mind.

The arrangement which the Shriners had with the company called for a division of the gate receipts on a percentage basis it was learned. The company staging the production was to get the larger share and the fraternal order the smaller. The Shriners sold books of tickets through their members and members of the order were at the gates of Braves Field every night. The admission was $1 a person.

When the financial status of the concern became known to the Shriners they held a conference with the show people. About that time a sheriff appeared in Boston from Detroit, looking for attachable assets of the Hankinson Zoo and Spectacle Companies. The result of the conference was that the show should be staged as advertised and that the money taken in at the gate be applied to Boston obligations.

Disinterested people who witnessed the performance were loud in their praises of it. In spite of the flimsy financial structure on which it was built the show was good and all acts were accorded "a good hand." The famous Aleppo Band opened each performance, then came the acts the pageant depicting the high lights in Colonial history and finally a display of fireworks.

Weather a Handicap.

The weather experienced here during the engagement proved a handicap the nights of the first week being chilly and the second week sweltering. Last night the attendance was placed at about 7,000, while Friday night saw over 10,000 at the ball park.

On Friday while the show was in progress, Newberry was arrested in the Boylston street subway station with Miss V. J. Adele Fowlie, the treasurer of the Hankinson Company, and Newberry's secretary. They were charged with issuing a worthless check to the American Fireworks Company, the concern that supplied the fireworks for the spectacle.

Late last night Newberry was still in jail. Though the bail set was only $1000 he was not able to furnish it. The records at the jail did not disclose the name of Miss Fowlie.

While the officials of the fireworks company were not prone to discuss the transaction which resulted in the arrest, it was learned that the concern had contracted for a certain amount of fireworks and payment was demanded. They charge that a worthless check was issued when the final delivery of fireworks was made.

Besides Newberry and Miss Fowlie, others connected with the concern, according to their letterhead, are Herbert S. Maddy, campaign director; William T. Whittemore, director of special events; M. J. McKay, director of admission and Fred Murray, production director.

Law-off For Performers.

The acts were booked through the Wirth and Hamid booking office.

Last night the performers were anticipating in "lay off" period with the engagement at Hartford which was to extend to July 31, cancelled. Many of the acts are of the circus type and the performers were planning to appear at amusement parks and the early county fairs.

Newberry, they said, was originally a musician who took a band around the country a few years ago staging concerts. Maddy has been in the show business for a quarter of a century, having been employed by Ringling Brothers for a number of years.

At Hartford the pageant was cancelled by Potentate Fred B. Griffin of the Sphinx Temple after considerable advertising and bill posting had been done and after tickets had been sold by members of the shrine.

The Hartford Situation.

Mr. Griffin issued the following statement in a letter to members of the temple.

"To the Nobility of Sphinx Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S.:

"Regarding the spectacle 'America,' scheduled for next week at Charter Oak Park, due to failure of the show concerned to furnish assurance that the expenses of the spectacle would be taken care of as required by the contract, we have been forced to give up the performance. Therefore, 'America' will not be staged under our direction. All money received for tickets will be returned.

(Signed) "FRED B. GRIFFIN, "Potentate."

Mr. Griffin explained that a contract had been made between the management of the show and the temple, and it was his opinion that the contract would not have been observed in the complete detail that he wished. Remonstrance with the management of the pageant did not bring the reassurance that he desired, and rather than commit Sphinx Temple to a big project involving a heavy overhead, he cancelled the engagement.

Miss Adele Fowlie referred to in the foregoing belongs to Fredericton and has numerous relatives and friends here. It is expected that the financial troubles of the company will be arranged.

"How much does your car cost you?"
"Fifty dollars the first of every month."

GOOD GROWING WEATHER NOW PREVAILING

Haying Later Than Usual — Crops of All Kinds Look Well — Vegetables are Late.

The Crop Report issued by the Department of Agriculture is. as. follows:—

Ideal crop growing weather has prevailed during July to this date. All crops have made rapid growth since the completion of seeding operations, which in some localized districts ceased only at the first of this month, and are expected to exceed the average acre yield in quantity.

The showery weather has interfered with the progress of haying in the Saint John river valley district. With settled fine weather hay making in the Kennebecasis valley district and the east coast Counties will begin next week. The crop on the marches of Westmorland and Albert Counties is good as is also the crop along the Saint John river. The uplands of the north eastern section will yield only a light crop.

Pasteurage is luscious and the creameries and factories have received a plentiful supply of cream and milk. The prices offered are not so high as for the corresponding weeks of last year.

All grain crops show a healthy color and a vigorous appearance. The thinning of root crops is in progress.

Turnips are growing rapidly. Potatoes are making an exceptionally heavy growth of vines and the bloom is abundant.

Early vegetables are not expected to appear until the first week of August.

CHEESE COMPANY IS GRANTED AN INJUNCTION

On July 15th, M. Justice Duclos granted an interlocutory injunction in favor of Kraft-MacLaren Cheese Co. Ltd., against Theodore Provost, ordering him to cease from selling, advertising, offering, delivering or trafficking in, under the name Kraft Cheese or as the product of the Kraft-MacLaren Cheese Co., Ltd., cheese not made by that Company; and further ordering him not to sell cheese packed and made up so as to resemble Kraft-MacLaren Cheese Co., Ltd.'s cheese, or packed or made up in any manner so as to create confusion, in the mind of a customer, with the petitioner's product. The whole with costs against the respondent.

The Kraft-MacLaren Cheese Company, Ltd.'s petition set up that Kraft Cheese was their Trade Mark, the cheese having been first put out in this form by the company's president, Mr. J. L. Kraft.

The petition further recited that Kraft Cheese was cheese got out by the petitioner's company in special loaf form, protected by pasteurizing and tinfoil, without rind or skin, thereby making it possible to keep the cheese in a uniformly moist condition without deterioration from mould or otherwise, and to save the waste which is inevitable with the use of the cheese protected by rind, and also affording many other important advantages over the old method of manufacture, this all being a patented process.

The petition further recited that persons have asked for Kraft Cheese at the respondent's and were given cheese of another make and it appears that this form of substitution was happening with frequency. The petition was accompanied by a number of affidavits and resulted in judgement referred to.
