Of Interest to the Women

NEW YORK EASTER STYLES.

Smart Fifth avenue shops, which cater to the wealthy and Grand street stores, where the shop-girl buys her finery, are putting their finishing touches on the great display of fashion that annually marks New York's Easter parade now less than two weeks off.

This promises to be a pastel spring, with gowns hats shoes and accessories drawing their colors from a delicate flower spectrum. Bois de rose, "Elizabeth," named for the Duchess of York; tans, grays—including the Enraged Mouse," esoterically named by a French designer—pale pinks and any number of tender spring greens, will lead in preferred shades.

For contrast there are new reds featuring "Paris Red" and Diable, and a substantial use of black and navy, particularly in combination with white and the popular fleshies. Brown alone seems shouldered out of the spring running.

Hems are Lifted.

Easter gowns may mimic flowers in silhouette as well as in tint. Full skirts prevail. New York likes the waistline, prefers its fullness ahead and lifts its hems far out of harm's way—14 to 18 inches above the ground. Paris is trying a modified barrel silhouette.

Large hats, flower-trimmed or severely plain, will surely top much of the Easter mode. With gowns of pastel shade and light blending coats, these large straw or silk hats will shine to best advantage. Smaller hats may achieve newness in grosgrain or two tones of the same color or in taffeta. New crushed crown treatments and uneven brim lines play variations on the old theme of the felt.

Two types of suits will appear at the Fifth avenue churches on Easter. One will be the three piece ensemble developed this spring with a quilted or shirred crepe, or taffeta coats covering a silk dress. The other will be the two-piece tailleur, which returns this season.

Man-Made Tuxedos.

Straight from Paris came the mannishly tailored tuxedos, the "smokings" of the Parisienne, who develops them in black broadcloth with satin revers to match her escort's dinner coat. New York slightly alters the mode to its daytime needs and wears severe collar and tie, or lacy jabot, as the wearer is best suited.

And with everything else copying the flowers that bloom on Easter day the boutonieres in the smartest Easter suits will be of the worsted Fifth avenue's latest fad in the shapes of dogs or cats.

Plain suedes of beige or gray will glove the fashion. Bags in light colors, matching hat or shoes are a new note. Shoes in a light adaptation of the popular lizard, snake or alligator, will foot Easter's promising bill.

THIS QUEER WORLD.

Angora, Turkey—Dancing with woman enjoying their new freedom has caused such crowds that stags have been forbidden at government house.

New York—Specimens of the most beautiful rose ever seen by William H. Jardine, secretary of agriculture are to decorate the white house.

Omaha, Neb.—Alienists testifying in the murder trial of Frank Carter "sniper bandit," must be prepared to answer "yes" or "no" to a 4,500 word hypothetical question.

"Do you think they approved of my sermon?" asked the minister.

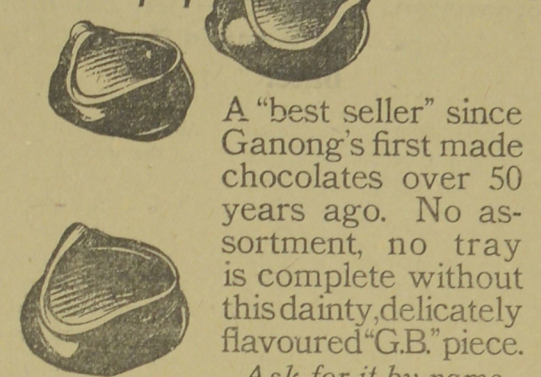

"Yes, I think so," replied his wife "they were all nodding their heads."

Corns Soften Away In Foot Bath

Hot water extraction of corns and callouses offers the only perfect way to rid yourself of these painful troubles. Spread a few drops of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor over the sensitive surface of the corn or callous, and the pain is stopped at once. Later you use a hot foot bath for five or ten minutes. Corn crumples up and drops off. It is a glorious feeling that you get from Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor over the sensitive surface of the corn or callous, and the pain is stopped at once.
