K. K. K. ACTIVITIES IN UNITED STATES POLITICS ARE UNDER INVESTIGATION

St. Louis, Oct. 28—Activities of the Ku Klux Klan in both State and national political affairs covered a wide range, the Senate campaign funds committee was told here today by half a dozen members and former members of the hooded order.

High points in the testimony in what Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, announced were the closing sessions of the preselection investigation into campaigns in Eastern States, included:

That high officials of the Klan interested themselves in the election contests from Minnesota and Iowa involving the Senate seats of Senator Thomas D. Scall, Republican, and Ex-Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican.

"Evans Interested."

That William F. Zumburn, general counsel for the Klan, had active direction of the campaign of Senator James E. Watson, Republican, Indiana, for renomination in the primaries last May.

That Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan, was deeply interested in Watson's campaign and made a number of visits to Indiana for political conferences with Klan leaders.

That $400 of Indiana Klan money was used to defray the expenses of Indiana Klan officials to Washington last December to discuss the appointment of Charles Orbison as corporation counsel of Indianapolis.

That William F. Zumburn is the legislative agent of the hooded order at Washington, looking after such matters as immigration restriction legislation and the seating of Senators.

Claim Watson Carried Card.

That Senator Watson in 1924 carried a card of membership in the Imperial Klan, the national organization with headquarters at Atlanta, and that this card directed all Klans to freely admit to their secret meetings persons to whom they were issued.

Previous testimony before the committee that Senator Watson attended a conference of Klan officers at Washington last January, at which the resignation of Walter F. Bossert as Grand Dragon, was demanded and received, was denied by both Bossert and George W. Meyers of Marion, Ind., a former klansman.

Testimony regarding the Minnesota and Iowa Senatorial contests was given by Milton Elrod of Indianapolis, formerly editor of the Fiery Cross, a Klan publication. Elrod said that Dr. Evans had sent him to Minnesota to see whether there was ground for a contest in the election of Senator Schall over Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor, in 1924.

Elrod said that later he was sent to Iowa by Zumburn to determine whether there was ground for a contest in the Brookhart-Steck election in the same year. Zumburn was counsel for Dan F. Steck, Democrat, who was seated by the Senate over Brookhart.

"Were Very Close."

Dr. Evans was quoted by the Rev. Erie P. Renn of North Vernon, Ind., a former Zumburn looking after Senator Watson's political interests in Indiana, while James V. Bolen, former secretary of the Indiana Klan, testified that Dr. Evans and Senator Watson "were very close" in the Senatorial campaign.

"Dr. Evans seemed to be wrapped up in Senator Watson and wanted him put across," Bolen added.

Meyers described Zumburn to the committee as the legislative agent of the Klan at Washington, declaring that besides immigration restriction legislation, he was interested in legislation for the abolishment of parochial schools and "the seating of United States Senators."

In connection with his last statement, Meyers said Klansmen delegates to the Indian Republican convention in 1924 had decided to endorse Senator Watson for the nomination for the Vice Presidency at the Cleveland convention, because of his efforts to seat Senator Mayfield of Texas.

The statement that Senator Watson carried a Klan card in 1924 was made to the committee by William M. Rogers, an Indianapolis Klansman, and it later brought an emphatic denial from Senator Watson, who is recovering from injuries at an Indianapolis hospital.

Said He Saw Card.

Rogers said he went to see Senator Watson at Washington by direction of D. C. Stephenson, with reference to obtaining a job in the Department of Justice.

The witness explained that he had been doing organization work in Delaware for the Klan and that when Watson learned this, he asked for his credentials. Rogers produced the Imperial Klan card, which he said he showed to the Senator and declared that Senator Watson had in turn shown him a similar card good for 1924 and 1925.

"Could you be mistaken about that?" asked Senator Reed.

"I do not think so," Rogers replied.

After announcing the closing of the hearings, at least until after the elections, Senator Reed said he had no desire to do any injustice to any person and that since the names of both Senator Watson and Senator Arthur R. Robinson, Republican, Indiana, had been brought into the hearings since they testified at Indianapolis last Friday, he would receive and make public affidavits if they desired to make them.

An affidavit from Senator Robinson denying that he is now or ever was a member of the Klan was received tonight by Senator Reed and it will be made a part of the committee's record. Testimony that it was "generally understood" that Senator Robinson had been a klansman was given to the committee at Kansas City last Monday by R. B. Bradford.

"I am not a member of the Klan nor was I ever at any time a member of that organization," Senator Robinson's affidavit said.

FRESHMEN AT HARVARD GUYED BY CRIMSON

(Boston Globe)

A series of paragraph descriptions of various types of Harvard freshmen appears in this morning's issue of the Harvard Crimson.

The descriptions were written by the upperclassmen who were assigned to help various freshmen get oriented in the college world. Every type of first year man from the thin and lonely to the frank and assertive is sketched in broad, unmistakable strokes. The pure and the mature, the aesthete and the athlete, the "glad-hander" and the "grind" emerge from the throng, neatly labeled and classified.

When all the reports are in the Harvard committee on freshmen advisers will have a sort of glorified family album of the freshman class. Some of the comments are terse and a bit satirical.

A few excerpts follow:

"Mr. — has no trouble with his studies, although he does not work a great deal. He is a nice, companionable fellow of the preparatory school type. He is out for track and seems interested in Harvard. Everybody will like him."

"Mr. — is a conscientious student who worries needlessly about his English composition. He has no outside activities but may try for the Glee Club. Interesting fellow, perhaps slightly brilliant. He has certain effeminate habits; wears exotic kimonos and slippers in his room; smokes through long cigarette holders, and burns incense. However, he is not really effeminate, perhaps non-athletic would be a better term. He showed an astounding ignorance of rules relating to college studies."

"Mr. — is an assured, cocky, rather than self-reliant chap. He apparently is all set in every respect and needs no advice about anything. A possible prospect for 'pro' as he will do his share of cutting classes."

"Mr. — is taking five courses, is out for tennis, is polite, pure and young. He studies a great deal but is cheerful about it."

"Mr. — has elongated sideburns but seems to be all right. He is out for crew and is taking five stiff courses. His manner is noticeably amiable."

"Mr. — goes to the Engineering School and finds the work very hard. He is temporarily stunned by its difficulty and the amount of time it takes. He is confident of getting things adjusted, however, and has signed up for cross-country. He is the cultured intellectual type, a big man at his high school. He would make a ideal bourgeois leader."

"Mr. — is a young and chubby person. He is visibly distressed by inquiries as to his collegiate well-being and is taking a fairly hard course. Though he is one of the submerged type of student that is not of great value to the college, I am placing bets on him for the dean's list."

"Mr. — does not worry a great deal about his studies. He rowed for a while, but stopped because he didn't like to have to master so much technicality; now in the hiking group. He is interested in photography and literary work. Seems to be a serious-minded, likable fellow."

Here and There

Portage La Prairie, Manitoba.—Ten carloads of flour have been shipped to Salonika, Greece. The flour is made from Manitoba Number 1 Hard wheat and labeled as such. This large order is thought by the milling interests to represent the opening up of a new, valuable trade channel.

Saskatoon.—The colonization boards of the province, operated under the C.P.R. Department of Colonization, are doing a splendid work in colonizing the province along right lines, according to Mayor Potter, of Saskatoon, and other speakers, at the second annual meeting of representatives of these boards.

While the gypsy has been a familiar figure in fiction for at least a century, the novelist has usually taken for his characters the wild Romany types. But there is a modern type who has adopted himself to city life. It is this type that John Murray Gibbon, Dean of Publicity of the C.P.R., has chosen for the leading character in his new novel, "Eyes of a Gypsy."

Toronto.—The Ontario Government is spending $1,000,000 during the present fiscal year to make hydro-electric power available to the farmers of the province. This follows the plan begun by the Drury Government, of paying one-half cost of primary line construction, and later extended by the Ferguson Government to secondary line work as well.

One hundred young men from the British Isles will take up their studies of Canadian farming at the Agricultural College at Olds, Alberta, soon. Seven of these prospective Canadian farmers arrived in Canada on the Canadian Pacific liner "Montcalm" recently, being brought out under the Hoadley Immigration scheme, which is being carried out in conjunction with the Empire Settlement Board.

Toronto.—Ontario cattle scored signally at the National Dairy Exposition in Detroit last week with a prize winner in each of the first four Holstein breeds. This is a better record than that of any other part of the continent. The prize winners were: Leroy Siddall and J. F. Gibbons, of Denfield, T. O. Dolson, of Brampton, and Haley and Lee, of Springfield. A number of lesser prizes also went to Canadian breeders.

"Anyone who has other than an unbounded faith in the future of Canada, must be either without eyes or mind," declared Sir George McLaren Brown, European general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who returned to the Company's headquarters in Montreal recently after an extended tour of the Western Provinces. Sir George was greatly impressed with the growth of the city of Vancouver, where he visited after an absence of 15 years.

The first annual meeting of the Canadian Boards of Trade was held at Saint John, N.B., October 18th. Over 150 representatives from the civic administrative bodies of every Canadian city gathered at the Windsor Street Station in Montreal, where they entrained and proceeded over the Canadian Pacific lines to Saint John. Matters of vital interest to civic administration were discussed at the three-day convention.

Control of the fish and game industry in the State of Ohio is being sought by a commission composed of five experts on game conservation. This industry is at present in the hands of the Department of Agriculture. The proposal will be placed before the government by the game and fish leagues in Ohio, the belief being that the existence of such a commission would be in accordance with the growing importance of the fish and game industry in that state.

Children Held Food Sale.

The children at Barker's Point school held a food sale at the school house this morning and raised over ten dollars which they gave to the Junior Red Cross of which a number of them are members. The school house was very tastefully decorated for the occasion, Miss Stafford and the little ones are to be heartily congratulated on the success of the sale.

"Mr. — is out for a football management and thinks he has a good chance. He realizes the danger to his studies, but is sure he'll come through all right. A mature, bright, snappy, promising fellow."
