WEEKLY CROP REPORT OF BANK OF MONTREAL

Halifax, Aug. 30—Harvesting is again under way in the Prairie Provinces after being held up by wet weather and many districts anticipate a better yield than appeared probable a few weeks ago. Warm dry weather is now necessary. In Quebec cool weather during the week has retarded the ripening of grain and the growth of other crops. In Ontario harvesting has been delayed by rain and late oats have been damaged by rust in some sections but root crops, with the exception of turnips, are doing well. In the Maritime Provinces crops generally have continued to make good progress though there has been another long dry spell. The weather has been excellent for haying and a fair yield of good quality is expected. In British Columbia heavy rains have been very beneficial to roots, pasturage and late variety of apples.

Maritime Provinces. In New Brunswick potatoes are making rapid growth; a full average crop is expected. In Nova Scotia apple prospects are for a short crop; the quality will be rather good. In Prince Edward Island good average all round crops are expected.

Province of British Columbia. An average crop of grain is being threshed under favourable conditions. Potatoes are below average. Apples will be an average crop. The fruit is of good size and high quality. Peaches and plums are above average. Prunes are above average but may be reduced. Wealthy apples and transcendent crabs are past the peak. Canteloupes are being shipped in car lots. A good crop of hops is assured. Some damage has been done to tomatoes by rain. Pasturage is improved.

BIG SALMON MADE ESCAPE FROM ANGLER

A 32 Pounder Caught in Net at Lunt's Ferry.

HAD FLY IN ITS MOUTH

Broke Away From an Angler at One of the Pools.

At one of the pools on the Saint John River a few miles above Fredericton some angler whose identity is as yet unknown, recently hooked a monster salmon but did not experience the joy of bringing it to the gaff as it made a get away immediately after being hooked. Proof that the big fish was actually hooked was furnished by Mr. Frank Gilmore of Kingsclear who operates a set net just below Lunt's Ferry, and from the meshes of which on Friday last he took a thirty-pound salmon which had a Brown Fairy fly in its mouth to which was attached a full length casting line. As far as can be learned this is the first case which furnishes the positive proof that a salmon taken in a net had previously put up a successful fight with a fly fisherman.

A Popular Theory.

It has always been contended by those familiar with the habits of the salmon that when one is hooked on a fly and escapes with the fly in its mouth it invariably turns about and heads right back for the sea. This is said to be the reason that the big ones which nearly always get away, according to the stories told by fly fishermen, are seldom or ever picked up by numerous nets which dot the shores on both sides of the river. Until the fly and leader found attached to Mr. Gilmore's big fish can be identified there is no way of telling whether the fish had been travelling up or down river when it ran afoul of the net.

Hooked Big One.

Recently Mr. Raymond Currie of this city while fishing at the Hart's Island pool, hooked a big salmon, which got away with his fly and leader at the first rush. Last week Mr. Edgar C. Macdonald of this city while fishing at the Mills pool near Little Macnaquac Island, hooked an old tackle smasher, which not only broke his rod but got away with the fly and leader. Mr. Macdonald like Mr. Currie, was also using a Brown Fairy fly such as was taken from the mouth of the big fish. Possibly there are other anglers who have hooked big ones during the past week or so and had them get away with part of the tackle. Mr. Gilmore has been requested to bring the recovered fly and leader to the city for identification.

The largest salmon ever taken on a fly on the Saint John River was caught by Mr. Raymond Currie of this city three years ago and tipped the scales at twenty-eight pounds. If the identity of the man who hooked the big fish taken in Mr. Gilmore's net can be established he will certainly be able to hand down to future a real fish story.

THE EX-PREMIER CAMPAIGNING IN NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, Aug. 29—Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King's third day in Nova Scotia commenced with an afternoon meeting in Liverpool Saturday and ended in the town of Lunenburg after midnight where a torch-light procession met the Liberal leader. All of Saturday's meetings were in the constituency of Queens-Lunenburg which returned William Duff to Parliament in the last election by a majority of less than 400.

William Duff, deputy speaker and member for Lunenburg in the last House, made light of the claims of Maritime Rights. "There is no such thing as Maritime Rights, save as a catch phrase," he said.

At the time of Confederation the Tory party had sold the people of Nova Scotia into Confederation at the price of a sheepskin—thirty cents a head.

Of the original Stevens charges, Mr. Duff said, "this high and virtuous Harry Stevens talks about smuggling in Montreal, but he doesn't tell the people of Canada that there are 7,000 bootleggers in Canada."

Mr. Stevens said terrible things about Montreal but he knew perfectly well that conditions were very bad in Vancouver.

"If there is no such thing as Maritime Rights, what did Mackenzie King appoint a commission for?" called out some one.

"To get information," replied Mr. Duff, who defended the commission. It was much more than the Conservatives of the province had been able to accomplish.

DUELLING STILL CARRIED ON IN GERMANY

Berlin, Aug. 30—Dueling—even student combats—is frowned upon in Germany. The "zweikampf" has been made an offense punishable by imprisonment for several months. A few students had been thus punished but only recently many were found guilty—in the first real drive against students duels. In Konstanz twenty-three technical college students were brought into court charged with dueling with deadly weapons. All were sentenced to three months in prison. "Mensuren" go on, however in the universities, German students cutting one another's cheeks into what they think are beautiful patterns. But these scars are not considered quite as honorable as they were formerly.
