(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY MAIL)

OTTAWA, June 30-With a Conservative government of a temporary nature installed in office and given a vote of confidence by Parliament, there is a slight slackening in political tension here today. The Custom's report on the Stevens amendment censuring the former administration having been disposed of yesterday, the House when it resumes this afternoon will go into Committee of Supply. The items to be submitted were prepared by the out-Henry, youngest son of the King and going administration and it is not expected therefore, that there will be any

MAY PROROGUE TONIGHT

It was stated at noon today that other business remaining on the order paper will be dropped and that the House will be prorogued as soon as Supby a dog and reared up, throwing his ply shall have been disposed of. As the House will not sit on Dominion Day prorogation if it is agreed upon, will take place some time before midnight. At first she refused to disclose his name, but later said he was Paul back but was soon riding again. He Of course, it is difficult to forecast what may happen.

With Parliament out of the way Premier Meighen, so it is understood, will at once complete the formation of his cabinet and bring on the by-elections in the different provinces. With the possible exception of Quebec, it is not thought that there will be any gre at difficulty in reelecting the Ministers.
