CAMPBELLTON
RATED STRONG ON THEIR OWN ICE

Must Overcome Truro's
Six-goal Lead Tonight
—Youthful Players on the Forward Line.

The following estimate of the Campbellton team by the Moncton Transcript was published before the 6 to 0 defeat at Truro. Much of it still holds good.

Schoolboy Players.
Out of 17 games played this season the Campbellton team has only dropped two. A remarkable performance for a young team. Thomas and Howard, schoolboy forwards were born on the same day on the same hour just 18 years ago. The Truro team can also boast young players—Tubby Ryan, speedy forward, is still in his teens and was attending high school last year.

Defenses Are Strong.
Pete McLean, who is called Reginald in social circles at Campbellton is just twice the player he was in former years owing to the fact that he stays on the ice and plays the game rather than spend half of it in the penalty box as in former years. Sharp, the left defense is the bad man of the team this season.

People who saw the Truro defense of Hopper and Wilson have come behind could not have seen their game with Kentville the other night. Any defense that can hold the Kentville team to only 16 shots at the nets considering the fact that they have scored 161 goals in 20 games, is good and Hopper and Wilson are good, so good in fact that Campbellton will be up against the hardest proposition of the year. Both are big men and seem to take particular delight in stepping in for a stiff body check.

Goal Tenders Weak.
Both goal tenders are not rated very highly. McKenzie on the Campbellton team is probably the better of the two. Guinan is erratic and when he suffers from an off night a school boy team can score on him, if they pass Wilson and Hopper.

MAY SETTLE THE SCRAMBLE
BY A GAMBLE

London, March 10—There is such a scramble this year to attend the three courts the King and Queen will hold at Buckingham Palace that applicants may be forced to "draw straws." An unprecedented number of applications has been made to the Lord Chamberlain, among them several hundred Americans who have filed their requests through Ambassador Houghton.

Each court is unusually attended by approximately 1000 persons but for the first court alone in May there is nearly double that number desiring to make their bow before their majesties. There is such an enormous supplementary list for the other courts as well that the Lord Chamberlain has decided that some sort of a gamble be resorted to for the final selections.

BIG DONATION.

"I hear that Alvarez left everything to the orphan asylum."
"What did he leave?"
"Two boys."

Prof.—Now as you all know the law of gravitation explains why we stay on earth.

Stude—But how did people stay before the law was passed?

Banker—These bonds you have are worthless.

Jones—Then that salesman must have been right when he told me his word was as good as his bond.

We are told that the college girl's vocabulary has increased in ten years to the extent of a thousand words. It would be interesting to learn if her intellectual processes had been equally stimulated.

Beat Acadia 42 to 23
Here Thursday Night
—Visitors Shot Poorly
Although Having a
Good Passing Combination—Red and Black Defended Well and in Seely and Donohoe
Had Effective Scorers.

University of New Brunswick is topping the intercollegiate basketball standing just now as the result of beating Acadia University 42 to 23 at the college gym here last night. The score is impressive particularly as Acadia beat Mount A. 32 to 24 at Wolfville last week. U. N. B. tries conclusions with Mt. Allison at Sackville on Thursday next. The advantage of the home floor is great but the U. N. B. fans are hoping that the Red and Black will come through again with a title win.

U. N. B. won handily Thursday night. Acadia started the scoring and at times held the home team without scoring for some minutes but in the end succumbed to better shooting and to a defence which smothered the effective Acadia men. The Acadia shooting also was very much off color the ball often being passed to a good shooting position never to find the basket.

The Top Scorers.

Davidson of this city was top scorer for the losers. His scoring ability was well known and he was watched closely. He had many shots in spite of that but often shot wide of the basket. Seely and Donohoe were at the top of the U. N. B. scoring and were very effective under the baskets. Seely also sent in several long shots from well out.

Referee Roy Willett of Saint John was very sharp both teams suffering. A Noble was put off the floor with four personal fouls against him. Acadia had the better of the penalty scoring.

Acadia worked a centre floor combination which put them in scoring position at various stages but the shooting was wild and the U. N. B. defence also covered the men pretty well. As the game went on the U. N. B. passing improved and the shooting also. Some goals were scored at extraordinary angles. The winning team used seven players but the bulk of the scoring was done by the original five. The showing of the Red and Black was particularly gratifying to the supporters as the team showed a great improvement.

The Game.

The Garnet and Blue opened the scoring. On a penalty U. N. B. scored and then from the floor made the score 3 to 2. After that the home team never was headed. Acadia kept the score very even for much of the period until U. N. B. began to draw away gradually. Seely and Donohoe being prominent in the scoring. Period ended 19 to 11.

The second period opened with Acadia holding U. N. B. for a few minutes and reducing the lead slightly. A Noble was sent off. The Red and Black got going and Seely and Donohoe tallied fast. U. N. B. controlled the game until near the close when Acadia made three baskets.

PETERBORO
WON TITLE
FROM LONDON

Bert Burgess Formerly of This City Played With O. H. A. Champions for Several Years.

London, Ont., March 10—At last Peterboro can claim the senior Ontario Hockey Association championship. Before a packed arena last night the Lift-Lock Aggregation held London, "Big Six" champions to a 5 to 3 score and this result, along with their 4 to 2 victory over the locals in Toronto gave them the series by a 7 to 5 count.

Collins, the slippery centre for the Petes pulled a big card when he shot from the face-off, the rubber bouncing in front of the London nets and over Moore's waiting stick for the first counter and the edge for the Petes.

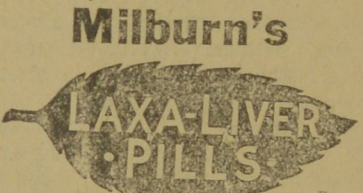

With the score knotted at one all going into the second period, due to work of Somerville and Leamy the Miners opened up and had the lead at 48 seconds, Somerville again scoring in a neat combination. They held this 14 minutes when Bogardis evened the game on a fast bit of work the period ending 2 to 2.

It was Bogardis and McLeod who grabbed Peterboro's third counter at six minutes of the third canto, and Keating and McPherson combined one minute later to make it a 3 to 3 deadlock.

(Bert Burgess was relief player with Peterboro before being taken ill. He has played with them several years.)

Her Liver Was Bad
And She Felt
Tired and Depressed

Mrs. M. Siefert, Grosswerder, Sask., writes:—"I was greatly disturbed with pains in my liver, and felt tired and depressed most of the time. One day I read about and the next time I went to town I bought four vials of them.

I have used them regularly, and after two months' use I feel like an entirely different woman.

Now, I always recommend them to any of my friends who are troubled as I was."

ed since the provisional agreement was reached. Since Churchill agreed to scale down his demands on France by 37½ per cent, Italy, too, has found him in a generous mood and, unhindered by a political crisis, has been able to clinch a good bargain. As the chancellor's critics pointed out when the Italian debt was funded, the concessions made Count Volpi have given Doumer an excellent argumentative case in funding the French debt.

France's ultimate capacity to pay is unquestionably much greater than that of Italy, but with her budget unbalanced and her currency depreciated even more than Italy's, her immediate financial situation appears weaker. The hole which the Churchill settlements have made to date in the Balfour debt balancing policy cannot in any case be filled now by French payments.

Allowing for £4,000,000 a year from Italy, during 1926 there remains a deficit this year of $95,000,000 between this country's debt and reparation receipts and its payments to the United States. Even if the Churchill-Caillaux agreement were enforced in full, there would still remain a balance of $32,500,000 for the British taxpayer to shoulder.

It is not in the least likely that Churchill will agree to scale down the French debt to the Italian rate, which would mean cutting the Caillaux schedule of annual payments in half.

PARIS EXPECTS DEBT HELP IN BRITISH PARLEY; A BARGAIN
SAID TO BE IN THE MAKING

London, March 10—It is a coincidence that on the day of the League of Nations meeting in Geneva the French Minister of Finance, Doumer, should come here to take up negotiations for the funding of the French debt to England. The fact has caused speculation everywhere. Austen Chamberlain, it is pointed out, has a favor to ask of Briand at the moment that Doumer will be asking a favor of Winston Churchill.

The waiver of France's demand for a permanent seat for Poland on the League of Nations Council will not be made for trivial reasons, but will require the more solid consideration of the British Chancellor. It is recalled, for instance, that after the Rapallo conversations of Chamberlain with Mussolini, very liberal funding terms were granted Count Volpi in London by Churchill.

Mutual Concessions Given.

The theory that a bargain is being struck between the British and French governments can be advanced more readily because there are obviously no means of disproving it in the light of events. It is probable that Briand's concession on the league Council will be succeeded by concessions from Churchill on the debt.

The French Finance Minister planned, of course, to attempt the further scaling down of the French debt to England long before the flurry arose over the question as to whether Germany should or should not be elevated alone to a permanent seat on the League of Nations Council, and the British Chancellor probably would have been ready to make such further concession. It will, however, clearly be easier for him to do so if the political relations between the two countries are not in a strained state.

Doumer will resume negotiations with Churchill at the point reached last August by Caillaux. That plausible advocate induced the British government to accept £12,500,000 annually, representing about 2 per cent of the capital debt, subject to the proviso that France should not pay more proportionately to the United States.

French consent to this basic average, however, was conditioned by Caillaux on the "clause de souveraineté"—that facilities be granted for the first five annual payments, and that French payments to creditor states should not exceed France's total of German reparation receipts.

Italy Shares Benefits.

Circumstances, however, have changed
