AN APPEAL ON BEHALF OF NEW BRUNSWICK'S ONLY NATIVE GAME BIRD, THE PARTRIDGE

(Telegraph-Journal.)

An appeal to the better feeling of New Brunswickers has been issued by the N. B. Fish and Game Association, calling attention to the fact that this year we are—legally—to have no partridge shooting. Partridge will be shot to some extent, because there are still some New Brunswickers who do not realize what the extermination of this our only native game bird, will mean, or how close to the point of extermination we have arrived at this time.

If there were no sale for partridge illegally shot these birds would have a reasonable chance to increase. They have their native enemies, the fox, the owl, and others of the furred and feathered tribes, and the weather, but man is ever the chief enemy. The immense increase in automobiles has extended wonderfully the range of the hunter. In these days it is possible to reach a dozen covers and miles of promising territory, while formerly, because only the horse and wagon or shank's mare were available, every man's daily hunting range was small. The old muzzle-loader has been replaced not only by the modern shotgun, but by the shotgun-repeater, commonly described as the pump-gun, and this, together with the automobile, has reduced the partridge tribe to a degree of scarcity sufficient to warn all thinking men as to what will happen unless we take measures to cut down the various agencies of destruction.

The woodcock and the Wilson snipe are migratory birds and during the short open season, are additionally protected by the limit of the bag. Some of those who go to the covers in pursuit of woodcock and snipe are tempted to kill the partridge and some do so—deliberately and against the law. From a poster issued by the N. B. Fish and Game Association this appealing paragraph may be quoted:

You are Public Opinion—Do not buy these birds. Do not eat them. Do not shoot them. Do not sell them. Discourage others from violating the law. Be good to your country. Help save this great asset. The wild pidgeon, the cariboo, the sturgeon have gone. We can never bring them back. Let us keep what remains. It's up to you.

We have heard a great deal during the last three years about some mysterious disease which was supposed to be killing off the partridge, but by far the most destructive agency is man—man with his improved guns and his longer radius of action, thanks to gasoline. The really effective command is: "Cease firing!"

The association formed for the protection of our fish and game is rapidly—though not yet so rapidly as must be desired—extending its membership throughout the province. As it extends it will be creating a powerful public sentiment in favor of decent and law-abiding practices with respect to the observation of our game animals and our game fish. As the membership of this association becomes greater it will exercise a large and ever more extensive political influence, and this will be felt upon the floors of the Legislature. We shall thus reach a point when our politicians will recognize that this movement for the protection of game and fish is formidable, and that the partisan practise of appointing game guardians as a mere matter of patronage will no longer do. Similarly, the federal authorities having to do with the enforcement of our fishery and migratory bird laws will come to realize that the observance of these laws is no longer something to be jested about.

We shall have decent and sensible protective conservation only when public sentiment has become powerful in the Legislature, and because that is so, it is obviously necessary and desirable that the general membership of the N. B. Fish and Game Association shall be extended until it becomes a much greater influence in every parish and county of this province.

Of Interest to the Women

LITTLE PARAGRAPHS OF MODE IMPORTANCE.

An effort is being made to revive feather and fruit trimmings for hats. Ostrich and quills in military effect are shown on some of the new French models. Flowers, too, are being used. Pins of pearls, emeralds, rhinestones and other precious stone imitations continue smart trimmings on the small shapes. Two tone velvets with only a pin for trimming are smart.

Plain jersey jumpers worn with plaid or novelty woolen skirts are sponsored by Paris as for instance a light green jersey cardigan and a plaid skirt of green and tan.

An example of the new "dress-ness" in millinery is a shirred Marie Alphonsine model of black velvet mounted on a bandeau that is slightly draped and trimmed with aigre effects in pinky beige and black, the feather conceit falling over the right ear.

The bouffant treatment continues to be smart in dance frocks. Frequent use of shirrings is a new feature for this type of frock. For that matter shirring is used on afternoon frocks, sometimes to introduce fullness in the skirt, sometimes in the sleeves, again practically the whole frock is shirred. Evening wraps frequently have shirred neckbands or yokes.

RASPBERRY SYRUP.

- 1 quart red raspberries
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup water

Put water and sugar in porcelain-lined kettle and boil slowly 30 minutes; add berries which have been mashed and strained through fine wire strainer. Return to fire; bring to boiling point and skim. Fill into well sterilized bottles; cork at once. When cold, dip tops in paraffin. Set in dark place. The corks must be new.

BLACKBERRY SYRUP.

- 1 quart blackberries
  - 1 quart water
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 1 tablespoon lime or lemon juice
  - 2 tablespoons orange juice
  - Pinch of salt
- Rinse the blackberries in cold water; put in saucepan with cold water; bring to a boil and boil quickly; mash through wire strainer add salt and sugar; stir until dissolved. When cold, add orange, lime or lemon juice and serve cold or with chopped ice and slice of orange.

TO PREPARE BERRY JUICE.

- 1 quart blackberries or berries of choice
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 3 tablespoons orange juice
- Put the blackberries in saucepan with 1 quart of cold water; bring to boil slowly and boil 10 minutes; add sugar and a few grains of salt; mash through wire strainer. When cold, add lemon and orange juices. Serve cold. This makes a very refreshing drink.

Red raspberries and currants made the same way and sweetened to taste make a very good and refreshing drink.

Berry juice can be frozen the same as ice cream. To each quart of juice prepared as told for berry juice 2 cups of water are added and more sugar. When freezing juice it takes more sugar.

PEACH MERINGUE PIE.

Line tart pans with light pastry. Skin and quarter 12 peaches. Sift  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of sugar and  $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. of salt over them. Fill the tart pans with fruit, bake in moderate oven for 35 minutes. When cool cover with meringue made by beating 2 egg whites until frothy, adding 1-4 tsp. baking powder, beating until stiff; add 3 tbsp. of sugar. Brown quickly in oven.

Edna—When I kick you gently under the table, that's the sign I have the ace.

Jack—And when I kick you hard under the table, that's a sign you've trumped my ace.

MEDIUM CREAM SAUCE.

Melt 2 tbsp. of butter, stir in 2 tbsp. of flour and  $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. of salt, pepper and paprika and stir into 2 cups of milk. Cook 15 or 20 minutes if a double boiler is used as it will improve the flavor. A thinner or thicker sauce is made by using more or less flour.

AUGUST HAS COME ONCE MORE.

August has come once more
And the sharp dry cicada at my door
Into the distance and the haze of heat
I look and listen and I hear the beat
Of the insistent music keen and thin
Played by the insect of its violin
Not here I seem to be
But on a mountain slope beyond the sea

In the soft shadow of an olive tree
Above Pentellicus, pyramidal,
With its high marble wall,
Towers over Marathon toward Thermopylae
Such power has nature's music stabbing shrill,
To bear me at its will
Across the severing seas;
Again I breathe the sweet Greek air
at ease

I lie, and hear again the olden thrill
Of the cicado in the olive trees.
—CLINTON SCOLLARD in New York Sun.

SURE FIRE.

Cupid is an archer rare
With arrows, hugs and kisses,
He hits the target every time
By simply making Mrs.

Screen Star's Hubby—If I were to die, would you marry again, dear?
The Star—The very idea. Why should I wait for that?

THE DIGGER.

Bobby Jones at a dinner in honor of his golf triumphs at Columbus told a golf story.

"A man," he said, "was going around a public golf course with his wife. He got into a bunker and after his forty-eighth stroke his wife said: 'By gosh, Jim, if you keep on like this everybody'll think yer workin' here.'"

Reggie—That's sure a dizzy record!
Archie—If you went around as fast as it does you'd be dizzy too.
