Montreal Won From Canadiens in Bitter Contest on Saturday

Score Was 4 to 2—At Toronto St. Patrick's Surprised Everybody Playing Ottawa to 1 to 1 Tie in Eighty Minutes.

Montreal, March 14—Bitter rivalry between the Montreal Maroons and the Canadiens, local teams in the National Hockey League developed in all its rancor during their final clash of the season at the Forum Saturday night. The Maroons won 4-2. The result was that 8,500 spectators witnessed a repetition of the former guerilla battles waged by these adversaries in the winter campaign now concluding, in which fighting, deliberate slashing and trip ping, bickering between players and officials and other minor fouls produced a game which provided plenty of excitement, but ruined the contest as a hockey spectacle. Twenty-eight penalties were inflicted by the referees and at one stage of the first period the teams were reduced to a goal-keeper and one forward each, four men on the ice out of twelve. Out of the mess the Montreal Maroons emerged victors, 4-2.

Referees—Billy Bell and Donald Smith.

First period: 1—Canadiens, P. LeBlanc 11.00; 2—Montreal, Noble, 4. Second period: 3—Canadiens, J. Oat 4.00.

Third period: 4—Montreal, Phillips 2.00; 5—Montreal, Dinsmore, 9.00; 6—Montreal, Carson 4.30.

Teams Play to a Tie.

Toronto, March 14—The National League schedule was brought to a close in Toronto on Saturday night when the Ottawa Senators and St. Patrick's played throughout 80 minutes of smart hockey to a tie the final score being 1-1.

The Senators were without the services of the clever right wing star Hooley Smith, but Finnegan, who replaced him, made a very capable understudy and starred throughout the contest.

Local hockey enthusiasts did not expect the Senators to battle so hard for victory as they did last night. King Clancy, easily the best man on the ice, led rush after rush against the Irish citadel, while Nighbor and Finnegan broke up the team play of the Irish forwards in heart-breaking fashion by their wonderful poke-checking.

Referee—Mike Rodden, Toronto. Judge of play—O'Hara, Ottawa.

Summary:

First period—No score.

Second period—1, St. Patrick's, Corbeau, 10.30.

Third period—2, Ottawa, Clancy, 4.00.

Overtime—No score.

Final score—Ottawa, 1; St. Patrick's, 1.

FRENCH GIRLS WON DOUBLES

Nice, France, March 14—Miss Helen Will's and Chas. Kingsley, of England, went down to defeat before Mlle. Vlasto and Henri Cochet the French stars in the final of the mixed doubles of the Nice Tennis tournament today. The score was 4-6; 7-5; 13-11.

Thus the French players duplicated their Mentone victory over Miss Wills and J. H. Van Allen but only after they had been through a battle and 46 games had been contested. The noisy crowd favored the French couple and there was much excitement at critical points of the match.

THE WORSHIPPERS OF THE SUN GOD

The Chiefs gather for the Dance.

Long ago, under the shadow of the Canadian Pacific Rockies, the western Indians worshipped the sun with strange and barbarous rites. It was the custom of the red man of the plains to bow down in homage each year in worship to the friendly orb that gave him light to see, strength to hunt, power for battle, warmth when he was cold, and in all ways enhanced his progress through the countless ages of his being.

Whole tribes gather together now during the month of midsummer, upon some spot on which the sun shines every moment from sunrise to sunset, to worship and be blessed in the sight of the sun god. An Indian woman, selected by the Head Men of the tribes, embodies the human sacrifice of all those gathered. She sits in the sun dance lodge for four days and four nights and every two hours of this time her head is sprinkled with ashes. The woman does not eat or drink and is guarded by the five highest priests, or witch doctors of the tribe, who sing and chant monotonously all the time. Whistles are blown and tom-toms beaten. All so that the woman should not close her eyes in sleep.

The sun-worshippers include the mightiest of the Indian tribes, the Blackfeet, Stonys, Piegiens, and Sar-sees. They have a heritage of noble blood in their veins.

Throughout the ages, despite the apparently civilizing influence of the white man, they have retained their form of worship. Many of these Indians are Christians. They attend regular church services. Many of them are well educated and speak English with a fluency which would astonish the average white man. But in their secret hearts they know, they feel they have been unable to eradicate the beliefs and superstitions in which they were submerged for centuries, before the Canadian Pacific Railway bored its way through the mountains of granite and brought the white man with his superior standards of life.

Once a year the Indians shed the conventional raiment of the white man, which they have adopted, and gather to dance around the campfires where offerings are burnt as sacrifices for the favour of the sun god. The Indians break up into groups and sing, chant or make speeches. From all parts of the camp come the sounds of tom-toms, war drums, medicine pipe drums, and many other forms of instruments which the Indian believes will help his cause to receive the blessings of the sun god. As the smoke rises heavenward from the fires, the priests chant weird hymns, their antics become wilder and wilder, their movements faster.

Then, as the darkness breaks and the chill, grey dawn slowly spreads over the scene, all becomes still. The Indians sleep. But they rise at seven or eight o'clock and spend the day preparing for the next night. And so the festivities continue for two weeks.
