PRESIDENT BEATTY OF THE C. P. R. SAYS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING WILL ENCOURAGE IMMIGRATION

Montreal, Aug. 22—"Conditions in Canada are undeniably improving. This is principally due to agricultural prosperity and the development of the pulp and paper industry. Mining activity is also increasing, but industry has not shown a relative expansion," E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, stated in an interview here today.

"In consequence of the satisfactory crops of the past three years and the almost assured good crop of this year, the conditions in western Canada are better than at any time since the war. Whether the east can keep pace with the west is proceeding satisfactorily, and when completed will add 165 miles to the company's lines, principally in Alberta and Saskatchewan. The program for subsequent years has, of course, not yet been determined."

The 1926 construction program in the west is proceeding satisfactorily, and when completed will add 165 miles to the company's lines, principally in Alberta and Saskatchewan. The program for subsequent years has, of course, not yet been determined."

MR. E. W. BEATTY, K. C.
President of the C. P. R.

the west will depend upon the ability of its industries to secure a larger proportion of the home market, and also increase their exports," he added. Asked with regard to conditions in Great Britain and the possibility of increased trade between the Dominion and the Motherland, Mr. Beatty said:

British Coal Strike.

"Conditions in Great Britain are entirely abnormal due to the existing coal strike, the direct and indirect losses of which must of necessity have been enormous. Until this has been settled on a basis which will restore the economical stability of that very essential industry it would be, I think, somewhat hazardous to prophesy an improvement in British trade conditions. There exists in Great Britain the greatest confidence in the ability of the industries of the nation successfully to come through this trying and expansive period, but until a proper relation is established between wages paid on the one hand and the services rendered for the money on the other hand, the situation must remain embarrassing.

To Aid Immigration.

"There are many ways in which immigration can be further encouraged," Mr. Beatty said when discussing this subject.

"The principal way is the provision in Great Britain of additional training farms for agriculturalists, these to be sufficient in number to enable a steady supply of many thousands of young Englishmen, who are physically fit, and who have been trained in the rudiments of agriculture. When conditions become a little more definitely settled industrially it is more than likely that the immigration of skilled artisans can likewise be encouraged, but definite policies in these respects will probably have to wait until the present elections are over."

Commenting on the situation with regard to the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway, the electrification of the mountain lines and the construction program in the west, Mr. Beatty said:

"There has been no change in the status of the E. D. and B. C. and the Central Canada Railways since the Alberta Government served notice upon the Canadian Pacific that the existing lease would terminate on Nov. 10. No subsequent proposals have been made by the government to the company, or by the company to the government."

Electrification of Lines.

"The electrification of the mountain lines, in respect of which extensive investigations have been made during the past few days, will depend somewhat upon the experiments now being made in the use of diesel-electric engines in railway motive power. The problem of the company is a relatively simple one in that some method of increasing the capacity of our lines in the mountains will ultimately be necessary, and that which involves the least initial outlay, and the largest saving in operating expense, is the one which will be eventually selected. The work will not, of course, in any event be prosecuted until traffic conditions warrant it."

LOOKED OVER FARMS IN CARLETON CO.

Woodstock, Aug. 20—John McWhirter, of London, England, manager of the Hudson's Bay Company Overseas Settlement Ltd., and representative of the Cunard Steamship Company, Ltd., Liverpool; L. E. Reford, son of R. W. Reford, president of the Robert Reford Co., Ltd., Montreal; G. Wetmore Merritt, New Brunswick manager of the Great West Assurance Co., and R. F. Wright, provincial manager of the Canadian Permanent Mortgage Corporation, arrived in town this afternoon in pursuit of an investigation trip now being made by Mr. McWhirter and Mr. Reford into the possibilities of this province as a suitable centre for an extensive land settlement scheme entertained by the Hudson's Bay Company Overseas Settlement Ltd.

The party was met in Woodstock by R. W. Maxwell, secretary of the local Board of Trade, and a trip through the farming country revealed to the visitors the propriety of the local farming community as a suitable spot for the location of many settlers of proper type, having agricultural experience.

N. Y. GETS QUEER IMPORTS FROM ORIENT

New York, Aug. 21—The Orient and the South Sea isles send strange commodities to the New York port, where daily import lists record the arrival of everything from human hair stumps from Shanghai, to shark meat from the British West Indies.

From distant Singapore comes latex, liquid rubber sap. Macassar supplies hair oil, bringing to mind again the days of anti-macassars, the doilies grandmother used to use to keep the overstuffed chairs spotless.

Divi divi, and agar agar sound like eastern versions of Walla Walla, but they are, in reality, tropical imports used respectively for tanning processes and germ cultures.

Pelutong is the basic component of chewing gum, while the mysterious sounding shuyu, from Yokohama, turns out to be a humble soy bean, used in this country for forage, but used in its indigent habitat as food.

A LADY BANK EMPLOYEE GOES TO JAIL

Yorkton, Sask., Aug. 20—Refusing all offers of aid, Miss Emma Lindholm, former teller and ledger-keeper of the Bank of Toronto, Preeseville, today stood alone in Chambers here and was sentenced to two years in Prince Albert Penitentiary for six thefts from the bank totalling $1,081, and a charge of arson, arising out of a fake robbery of the bank on May 30 last.

Miss F. Milligan, lawyer of Yorkton, at the request of Miss Lindholm's father, made a plea for leniency. Miss Lindholm pleaded guilty to the charges as they were read, and when asked by Judge Ross if she was shielding any one, answered "No."

Young lady—It seems to me that you have a very keen sense of the comical.

The Snob (visibly flattered)—Yes, I cannot deny the fact. How have you discovered it?

Young Lady—I saw you smiling at yourself in the mirror.

CONSERVATIVES TO HAVE TARIFF COMMISSION

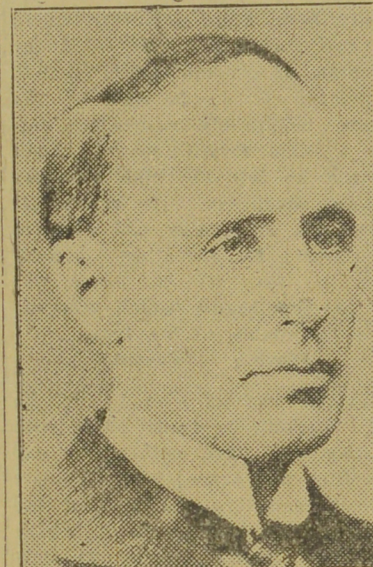

Premier Meighen Discusses Important Matters in Speech at Fernie, B. C.

Fernie, B. C., Aug. 22—For the first time in the campaign, Premier Meighen Saturday discussed the position of Home Bank depositors.

He reviewed the legislation giving relief and promised "sympathetic consideration" to further hardship not covered by the bill.

"I do not think," he proceeded, "that Parliament could be convinced by any government, Liberal or Conservative, to pass an appropriation to pay everybody, rich and poor alike."

"I do not think so and I want to say so because I do not think any other statement of mine would be frank, but if there is any grievance not covered by the bill, the Conservative party will give sympathetic consideration to any application and deal with it just as generously as any other party in Canada."

Mr. Meighen was speaking in the coal mining areas of the Crow's Nest Pass. "I believe," he declared "in the judicial, not the Parliamentary fixing of railway rates. I believe in having the same rule as to votes for all parts of our country. You cannot treat one part of the country in one way and another part in another way. If you do, you will have secession."

Tariff Commission.

He declared his intention to have a tariff commission investigating the peculiar conditions in every industry, the coal mining industry of British Columbia along with the rest, and he felt sure that a way would be found to extend the area of consumption for British coal.

He turned to events in the dying days of the session, following the resignation of the King government. "I offered a conference with Mr. King to conclude the work of the session and he scoffed at it," Mr. Meighen declared. "Mr. King was more anxious to produce chaos for his successor than he was about legislation before the House."

He had, Mr. Meighen proceeded, "urged the consideration of remaining legislation such as re-valuation for soldier settlers, but Mr. King prevented it by raising a question of privilege which under the rules had precedence over all other business."

Declares Byng Right.

"The course taken by Baron Byng of Vimy," declared Mr. Meighen, in regard to his refusal of dissolution to Mr. King, "while he took his first step without seeing me—while he took that step on his own responsibility, was absolutely right through out. His whole course was right, just as our governor-generals have discharged their duties conscientiously and well ever since Canada was a country."

No British government, Mr. Meighen said, whether Liberal, Conservative or Labor had any desire to interfere with the established rights of Canada.

"They have no more thought of it," Mr. Meighen exclaimed, "than they have of flying to the moon."

The driver of an ancient flivver had lost his bearings on a dark and stormy night and was desperately scanning his dilapidated road map.

"Well?" he mused to himself, pointing to a place on the map. "If that's Cooneville Centre, I'm all right, but if it's a fly snuck—heaven help me!"

SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT GAIETY THEATRE

Gun-play galore and mile upon mile of hell-for-leather riding, together with the necessary and never to be omitted love story, make "Born to the West" the feature play at the Gaiety for Monday and Tuesday quite satisfactory entertainment. Zane Grey is the author, Jack Holt the star and Paramount the producer.

Jack Holt always is happily cast in the role of leading man in such a story and his assistants in the present offering are all that could be asked. They include Margaret Morris, winsome and appealing as the heroine; Raymond Hatton, amusing as a blustering "yes man", somewhat blighted by a disappointment in love; George Siegmund, at his brutal best as the villain-in-chief; Arlette Marchal, a pretty importation from France; Tom Kennedy, Edith Yorke and others.

FORMER M. P. IN FIELD AS INDEPENDENT

Port Arthur, Aug. 21—Believing stable government is the vital need of the hour, Col. J. J. Carrick, former member of Parliament for Port Arthur today announced his candidature as an Independent prepared to give independent support to the party in power after the election.

Explains His Position.

Colonel Carrick issued the following statement: "The general consensus of opinion is that after the present election no one party will have a working majority, and that the next Government will be a union or fusion Government, composed of either one of the two leading parties with Progressive, Labor and Independent support. In the last three Governments two of them with Mr. King as Premier and one with Mr. Meighen as Premier; the Independents held the balance of power. They controlled the situation and the life of these three Parliaments was wholly dependent upon the support of Independents."

Critical as Wartime.

"The political and economic situation in Canada today is just as critical as in the wartime election when the people, irrespective of party affiliations, got together and formed a Union Government."

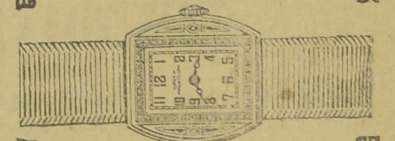

"In 1917, when I was given the Conservative nomination while I was in France. On my return I found the desire of the people was for a Union candidate and I voluntarily withdrew in favor of F. H. Keefe, who elected."

"The situation in Canada was never more serious than at the present time. We can have stable government, the crying need of the hour only by a union or fusion of parties and I promise to run as an Independent and give independent support to the Government in power."

A woman had spent an afternoon listening to the detailed accounts of her friend's illness, real or imaginary.

When asked where she had been she replied: "I thought I was going to a tea party, but found it was an organ recital!"
