REV. DR. NORRIS DEMANDS THAT HE BE INDICTED FOR THE MURDER OF TEXAS MAN

Fort Worth, Texas, July 20—A demand that the Grand Jury indict him for the killing last Saturday of E. D. Chipps, Fort Worth lumberman, so that he can have "a fair and open chance to be cleared," was made here today by Rev. J. Frank Norris. Dr. Norris is charged by complaint with the murder of Chipps, who was killed in the office of the First Baptist Church when he called to protest against an attack by the pastor on Mayor H. C. Meacham and others.

The fear that the jury, which began its investigation today, would "no bill" him and thus prevent his acquittal of the charge of murder, was expressed by Dr. Norris.

Special Prosecutor Retained.
After examining six witnesses, the jury recessed until tomorrow with a list of 11 additional witnesses summoned to appear. As the inquisitorial body got down to work, a local law firm announced it had been retained by the slain man's divorced wife, Mrs. E. D. Chipps, as special prosecutor.

The six witnesses examined were: L. H. Nutt, deacon in Norris's church, who saw Chipps killed; R. Bonna Ridgway, member of the church, who was sitting in an automobile in front of the church when Chipps entered on his fatal mission; Detective A. L. Ford, who investigated the slaying and arrested Norris; Mrs. Fannie Greer, switchboard operator at the Westbrook Hotel; Leo S. Grevenberg hotel clerk, who overheard Chipps's telephone conversation with Norris shortly before the shooting; and Baakam Shaw, church janitor, who directed Chipps to Norris's office.

Sitting in the church office almost on the spot where Chipps fell, Dr. Norris was by turns calm, vigorous and sorrowful as he discussed various phases of the tragedy. Twice tears came to his eyes when he said he was sorry that "this had to be."

Charges Conspiracy.

Dr. Norris, a tall, slender man, fresh appearing in a neat grey suit, with powerful hands, steel blue eyes and an almost youthful face, registered anger when he charged that there had been a conspiracy to kill him and that he simply "beat them to it."

"Why this had to be visited upon me I do not know," said Dr. Norris. "While I know that it could not be otherwise, I know also that there will be many dark waters ahead for me. 'I had to defend myself.'"

The Minister's Story.

The story Dr. Norris is reported to have told the District Attorney is that he did not shoot Chipps until after the man had been chased from the study once.

"Chipps came into my office, and cursed me and told me I would have to quit talking about his friends," Norris declared. "He was very threatening. In the drawer of my desk was a gun that the night watchman uses. I knew I couldn't get to it, and as the threatening continued I stood up and ordered him out of my office."

"He went out the door and it was then I saw a man in a blue suit standing a short distance down the hall. This was the man who came up to my study with Chipps. I thought Chipps would go, but he turned around and started back toward me, reaching his hand behind him. As he did this I stepped to my desk, grabbed the gun and started to shoot. I don't know how many times I shot."

Norris Cancels Engagements.

New York, July 20—Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Fort Worth, Texas, who killed E. D. Chipps, a lumberman last Saturday, will not preach from the pulpit of the First Baptist Church in New York on the first two Sundays in August. Dr. Norris, who cancelled the engagements himself, sets forth his reasons for abandoning his northern trip in a telegram received today by the Rev. Isaac M. Haldeman, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city.

The telegram read: "Because of the great sorrow which has befallen our church, it is both their desire and mine that I remain with them. You can quite imagine our feeling in the present situation. The Lord was with us in all hours Sunday last. While we are greatly chastened and humbled, yet our faith is strong and steady. Further evidence has come to light today showing that it was a deep-laid conspiracy to take the life of the pastor of the First Baptist Church. There is not a shadow of doubt as to complete vindication. Our only concern is that it may all be turned to the glory of Him whom we serve. We are standing as Romans 8:28. I am sure under these circumstances that you will excuse me from fulfilling my appointment at the First Baptist Church for the first two Sundays of August next, that I may remain with my own people. Have special prayers for us. Press reports are not fair."

(Signed "J. Frank Norris.")

Romans 8:28, mentioned in the telegram, reads: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose."

PREMIER MEIGHEN DISCUSSES DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT; ENGLISH PRECEDENTS CITED

Premier Meighen in the course of government in Canada. The sphere of his speech at Ottawa on Tuesday indiscretion left to a governor-general referring to the dissolution of Parliament said:

"In the last one hundred years in England there have been thirty-four administrations. Of these administrations nineteen resigned, they advising dissolution simply because they could not command a majority in parliament. Such is the course the late prime minister should have taken. During the same period there have taken place twenty-five dissolutions followed by general elections; of these twenty-five not less than thirteen were granted to governments which came into office since the previous general elections, just as did the government of which I have the honor to be the head."

"Disraeli, in 1869, made it absolutely clear as have other prime ministers many a time, that a government so coming into office has the right of dissolution. But even a government coming into office after a general election hold under the auspices of another, even such a government would not have any rights of dissolution in the midst of a debate on a vote of censure. To demand such a right is not to plead for responsible government; it is to plead for irresponsible government; to demand such a right is not to uphold our parliamentary institutions, it is really to stifle those institutions; to demand such a right is not to plead the cause of parliament. It is in effect to choke and strangle parliament and prevent parliament from expressing its will."

The Sphere of Duty.

"Under representatives of the crown such as those who have honored this Dominion as Governor-General, there need never be any fear for responsible Defends Dissolution.

"There are some who say that the Legislative efforts of the last session have been wasted, that we should not have dissolved so suddenly. My answer is simple and short. First of all, dissolution took place just exactly as it would have taken place had Mr. King's request to the governor-general been granted. Once the order for dissolution was signed, which his excellency was asked to sign, then there would no longer have been a parliament. But in the second place, Mr. King induced a technical majority of one to decide that the government of which I was the head, was not legally constituted. It seemed to me rather

Here and There

Tremendously rapid development of forest and water power resources of the Province of Quebec is indicated in the forecast of revenue totalling $6,000,000 from these sources for the current year. Last year the same resources produced a revenue of nearly $4,500,000.

Sixty men from the training camps in Brandon and Claydon, England, have been accepted by the Canadian Government and sailed on the "Empress of France" at the end of June. They proceeded to Winnipeg after landing at Quebec and will be placed on specially selected farms.

Saskatchewan exported last year 77.4 per cent. of its total production of creamery butter, according to a statement made by the Provincial Dairy Commissioner. The increase in production in 1925 over that of 1920 had amounted to 126.8 per cent., the output last year totalling 15,946,233 pounds.

Close on one hundred pilgrims from St. Paul and Minneapolis passed through Montreal recently on their way to the famous shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, near Quebec. They were the advance guard of the great army of pilgrims that visit the shrine every year. While stopping off in Montreal they visited the St. Joseph Oratory in that city, also well-known as a shrine.

Hundreds of students and co-eds from Canadian and American universities have been passing through Montreal recently to board ships for Europe in connection with the Overseas Collegiate Tours that have grown increasingly popular of late years. Many of these collegians travel by Canadian Pacific boats, the "Empress of France" on a recent trip carrying over 250 of them.

Clad in gorgeous scarlet tunics, plentifully decorated with gold braid, forty members of the world-famous Coldstream Guards Band, of London, reached Quebec recently on the Canadian Pacific liner "Montcalm" on their third visit to Canada, having been here in 1904 and again in 1911. Under the command of Lieutenant R. G. Evans they will play at Brandon, Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina, Vancouver and the Toronto Exhibition.

The electrification of the main line of the Imperial Japanese Government Railway system from Tokio to Shimonoeki, 750 miles, has been long projected, and recently the 45-mile section between Tokio and Odawara has had experimental trains drawn by electric locomotives run twice a day between these points. Owing to the great expense involved it is feared it will be many years before the entire main line can be electrified.

Founded 92 years ago in gardens on the site of which the Canadian Pacific Railway Windsor Street Station in Montreal now stands, the St. Jean Baptiste Society of that city celebrated that event on June 24th last by having a memorial tablet affixed to the walls of the station. The tablet was the gift of Victor Morin, former president-general of the society, who was present and unveiled it.

Negotiations have been completed for the erection, and work will shortly commence, upon a terminal warehouse and cold storage plant, to cost about five million dollars and to be built in Montreal. It is stated that it will be constructed within ten months from the end of June, will be ten storeys in height and will have a total space of 600,000 square feet, of which one-third will be for cold storage. The plant will be built by the Montreal Rail and Harbor Terminals, Limited, and cost will be financed by Municipal Bankers' Corporation of Toronto.

Late Harding Currie.

The funeral of the late Harding Currie of Lower Queensbury who took his own life Wednesday morning, took place yesterday afternoon from his late home. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Corey and interment was made at Lower Queensbury.

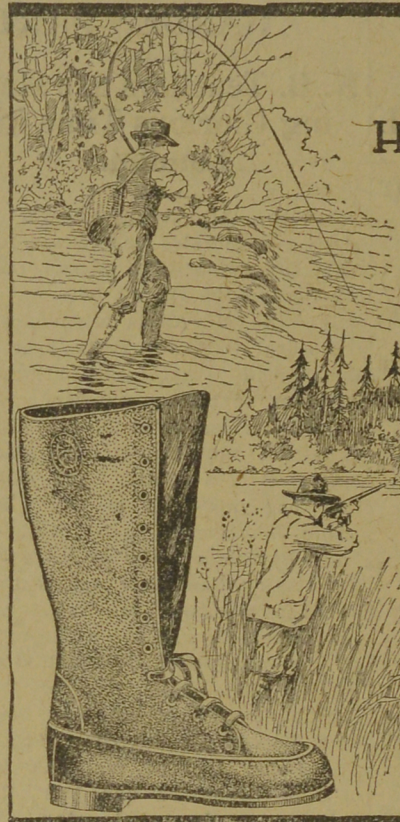

er curious that a parliamentary majority composed mostly of Progressives and other laymen, could come to the conclusion that its knowledge of law was better than that of the Department of Justice—for they decided to over-ride the opinion of the department of Justice. Nevertheless the fact that that vote was given declaring that we were not legally constituted, surely put it out of the power of those who so voted to complain that we did not come back to parliament and presume to function as a government in parliament.
