HOCKEY ON AMATEUR LINES IN BOSTON

University Club Enters Game With Team Composed of College Men — Canadian Teams Wanted.

Boston, Dec. 16—Interest in amateur hockey is not going to be permitted to die in this city, as the University Club is going to promote a team recruited from its membership, including graduates of most all of the colleges, and it will play a schedule of games at the Arena this winter.

Bart Stephenson, the old Harvard baseball first baseman, chairman of the athletic committee of the University Club, has arranged for practice sessions at the Arena. With the wealth of material at the disposal of Charlie Foote, who is to act as coach, the weeding out of the men will be a difficult task.

George Owen, Harvard's star athlete of a few years ago who loves to play hockey in preference to taking part in any other sport and has continued to keep up his interest as a player since leaving college, again will be seen in the game as will Clark Hodder and Bill Austin also former Harvard and B. A. A. players, Jack Hutchinson of Massachusetts Agricultural College and B. A. A., Buck Dumaine and Scott of last year's Unicorn sextet, Ted Learned, Doug Everett and George Perry of Dartmouth, and Vaughan and Cole of Yale are some of the most prominent candidates for the team.

As rigid lines have been drawn to determine amateur and professional hockey relations in this country and Canada, international competition is sure to result, after a lapse of five years. Efforts will be made to invite teams across the border to play in Boston, besides the competition furnished by the teams of the Metropolitan Amateur League of New York.

STRINGENT RULE ON TENNIS WRITER IN ENGLAND

London, Dec. 16—After long debate and despite much opposition, the Lawn Tennis Association at its annual meeting has passed a resolution for submission to the International Lawn Tennis Federation forbidding lawn tennis players to write for or to be interviewed by newspapers, in connection with any competition in which they are taking part. Lord Desborough, the retiring chairman of the Lawn Tennis Association in supporting the resolution said the proposal was due to the fact that the association found that players were making too much money out of tennis.

The meeting also passed a proposal in line with the United States France and other countries to seed the draw at Wimbledon next year by ability instead of nationality.

M'CORMICK GOOD WITH PROS

Niagara Falls, Ont., Dec. 15—In a nip and tuck struggle which was witnessed by some 3,500 fans, Niagara Falls, defeated London by a score of 2 to 1.

Hugh McCormick, secured by London from the Montreal amateur ranks made his debut in pro hockey by giving a sparkling exhibition of net-guarding in the Panthers' cage.

HORNSBY O. K. FOR CARDINALS

Chicago, Dec. 16—Rogers Hornsby will manage the St. Louis Cardinals next year, President Sam Breadon said tonight, in settling rumors of various trades involving the leader who piloted the Cardinals to St. Louis' first world's championship.

MAJOR LEAGUES SMOKE PIPE OF PEACE FOR FUTURE

Joint Committee to be Named to Handle Matters in Dispute Between the Two Organizations.

New York, Dec. 16—A move to promote harmony between the two major leagues was the outstanding result of the annual winter meeting of the National League which occupied a few hours and a lot of cigar smoke at the Waldorf Astoria. President John A. Heydler announced appointment of a standing committee composed of Barney Dreyfus, senior member of the league presidents; Wm. F. Baker, representing the East; and William Velick representing the West.

This committee will confer with Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, "after the high commissioner of baseball is reelected," said Heydler, and with a similar committee from the American League composed of Col. Jacob Ruppert, Philip Ball and Edward Barnard.

Matters likely to produce friction between the two major leagues may be ironed out by a joint meeting of these standing committees without the necessity of calling both leagues into session and the way thus paved for more harmonious—and profitable—baseball in 1927.

As far as the profits for 1926 went everything was rosy. President Heydler told the eight club presidents who gathered about the long mahogany table in a luxurious suite at the Waldorf.

Despite the fact that the National League lost five holidays, five Sundays and nine Saturdays out of its playing season because of inclement weather, all records for attendance and receipts were shattered.

The club presidents raised a discreet cheer.

Heydler informed them that 4,948,000 fans paid to see the baseball teams of the National League play ball last season.

Statistics show that this exceeds by approximately 600,000 the best previous attendance record.

MAROONS GET THREE RECRUITS

Montreal, Dec. 17—The three new players obtained from Sault Ste. Marie or rather the now disbanded Detroit American League club by the Maroons "Babe" Donnelly, "Flat" Walsh and Woodruff defence man goalkeeper and forward respectively arrived in Montreal and reported to Manager Eddie Gerard at the Forum where they were given their first once over by the local mentor who seemed to think that they would do.

And old team mate of the trio Bill Phillips met them at the station and took them to the Forum.

The Maroons now are quiet until Saturday when they have a stiff assignment. They will entertain the Ottawa Senators here and attempt to break the long string of victories listed by that strong club. One of these victories was at the expense of Montreal at the Capital and the Maroons will be out to even the score. Battles between these two clubs are always exciting and hard fought.

CAMBRIDGE BEAT EDINBURGH

London, Dec. 16—Edinburgh University were defeated by the touring Cambridge University in a rugby union game played at Craiglockhart today. The score was six points to three. Dublin Wanderers defeated Oxford University by 8 points to three at Dublin.

Miss Beet—Doctor, can you cure me?

Doctor—I'll have to, if I want to get paid. If you die, you'll be a dead beet.

LORD BURGHLEY WILL COMPETE IN THE STATES

English Star Hurdler is Allowed Three Weeks Outside His Own Country — To Compete at Penn.

Cambridge, England, Dec. 16—Because of a recent ruling of the Olympic Games Association that no contestant may spend more than three weeks of each year in athletic competition outside his own country, Lord Burghley, internationally famous hurdler, who contemplates entering the Pennsylvania relay races in April will be forced to make his visit to the United States as brief as possible.

The English runner and four Cambridge companions will probably spend about ten days in the United States.

Discussing his contemplated trip Lord Burghley said: "I look forward very enthusiastically to my third visit to our great sister nation, the United States and to meeting the United States runners on the Pennsylvania track."

"As I plan to spend a few days taking part in athletic events in Germany during the summer months, it will be impossible for me to remain on the other side of the Atlantic as long as I should like—because of the new Olympic rule."

"An Englishman running in the States," he added, "is variably stimulated by the lightness of the atmosphere. The change from the fens of Cambridge to the drier North American climate is as satisfactory to us as the opposite change seems to be unsatisfactory to the American runners though of course an excessively hot American day always puts an Englishman under the weather."

LANDIS GIVEN $15,000 BOOST IN HIS SALARY

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 16—With peace and goodwill reigning, the major league clubs owners in joint session reelected Kenesaw Mountain Landis to a second term of seven years as Commissioner and gave him a Christmas present of a $15,000 increase in salary, making it $65,000 a year.

Ban Johnson, president of the American League who was put off the advisory council two years ago and rebuked by his club owners for criticising Landis, today was the first to extend his congratulations to the fiery, white-haired ruler of the diamond.

Advisory Board Named.

The Advisory Board, over which the former jurist presided, although he has ignored it for the past two years, because of the Johnson controversy, was then elected with Heydler and Johnson as the major league representatives and M. H. Sexton, president, and John H. Farrell, secretary of the major league, representing those organizations.

Draft Dispute Met.

With these two ticklish problems Landis' re-election and the Advisory Board settled harmoniously, the magnates then met the draft dispute in the same manner. The clause in the major league agreement to require anti-draft leagues to declare themselves before April 1, 1927, was amended to read "April 1, 1927," leaving the present draft situation unchanged.

The closing date of the 1927 season was left to the decision of the February scheduled meetings, but Oct. 2, generally was agreed upon.

Mother—Really dear I'm distressed to death about Reginald. He insists on playing tag with some one all day long.

Father—Why worry? He'll no doubt grow up to be a traffic cop!

First Playgoer: Why didn't you stay for the whole show?

Second Ditto—Well, the programme said, Act three same as act one.

DETROIT GAVE BEATING TO THE SENATORS 5 TO 0

First Defeat of Season For Ottawa — Subs Finished Game—Boston and the Canadiens Tied.

Ottawa, Dec. 16—Ottawa's winning streak in the National Hockey League is at an end.

After marching through the schedule with nine straight victories and one draw, the Senators tasted their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Detroit crew tonight, which afflicted them with a 5 to 0 shut-out. The Cougars out-skated the League leaders and beat them into early submission with a combination attack that was animal like in viciousness. The Senators regulars were replaced on the ice after the first four Cougar goals had been caged and a scrub Ottawa team lived the play for a time but could not beat the invincible "Happy" Holmes.

Overtime to Deadlock.

Montreal, Dec. 16—Boston Bruins and Canadiens battled to full overtime session to a 2-2 deadlock in an inter-sectional game in the National Hockey League here tonight.

With two minutes to go in the final session, Speedy Oliver scored on a pass from Cleghorn, tying the score, snatching the win from Canadiens and sending the teams into the extra session.

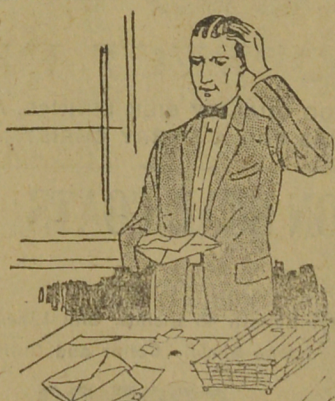

It was as fast and exciting a game as has been seen here this season and had the crowd in wild demonstrations as the battle waged fiercely. Referee Marsh came in for a general bad night. The Canadiens supporters objected to his decisions and at one time he had to leave the ice until it could be cleared of paper and coins hurled at him. Boston were after him continually, the Bruins coming out on the short end of three disallowed goals, two being called offside and one was scored after the bell sounded the end of the period.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT GAIETY THEATRE

"Ladies at Play" is the photo play at the Gaiety for Friday and Saturday. There is not a serious moment in this concoction which is merely a series of compromising complications with the playground in a hotel two middle aged unmarried and very straight laced ladies are made the victim of a plot by two giddy girls who have a motive behind their madness. The maiden sisters who are visiting in the big town are invited to dine by a pair of wicked young men supposedly nephews of their home town deacon. Some innocent appearing cherry phosphates start the trouble and the whole affair winds up in some slapstick that includes everything but pie-throwing.

Doris Kenyon Virginia Lee Corbin and Lloyd Hughes are billed as the stars but they haven't much chance against that terrible makeup of Miss Fazenda as one of the reforming ladies.

BLUNDERS

It is unwise to guess the weight of a letter to determine the amount of postage required. Such guessing often results in "Postage Due," which may cause delay in delivery and, in the case of business letters often results in a dissatisfied customer.
