ROCK ISLAND MAN THREATENED WITH IMPRISONMENT UNLESS HE OPENS HIS WAREHOUSE

Ottawa, June 3—For the first time in many years, a Canadian was threatened to night with imprisonment in the tower of the Parliament Buildings for disobedience of an order of Parliament.

H. B. Telford, of Rock Island, Quebec, who owns a warehouse, just across the international border in Derbyline, Vt., refused to open this warehouse to the inspection of accountants representing the federal customs probe committee on the ground that the warehouse was on foreign territory. He was taking this stand on the advice of his attorney he said.

Because the customs committee believed that he had been misled by his attorney in the United States, Chief Justice Paul Mercier gave Mr. Telford until tomorrow morning to get fresh advice from his counsel. If the witness still declines to obey the order of the committee Mr. Mercier warned him that the committee could only recommend to the House of Commons that he be committed to the sergeant-at-arms for incarceration in the Tower during the pleasure of Parliament. "Don't say you have not been warned," concluded the chairman.

Firms Examined.

Firms dealing in textile and cheap cotton were examined in rapid order by the customs inquiry today. So many of them reported that their books, previous to last year, had been destroyed and that record of their banking was not available because they kept their money on the United States side, that Counsel R. L. Calder commented that "it was like a recurring decimal," and Hon. H. H. Stevens wearily described it as a chorus.

From morning until midnight the committee heard a succession of representatives of textile firms on the Canadian side of the Vermont-Quebec border, punctuated with the evidence of customs officers, auditors, etc. At least three of the witnesses were threatened with arrest if they did not produce the missing records of their business. Several others agreed to employ the week-end in finding the missing documents.

NORMAL SCHOOL PUBLIC CLOSING EXERCISES THIS MORNING WELL ATTENDED

qualified in many other lines. The latter included physical training, first aid, Junior Red Cross work, Home Economics and Manual Training. There also was instruction in music for those who desired it and Mr. Smith the instructor had reported that the best lesson in music had been taught by a young man. The excellent results in the schools had been accomplished by cooperation on the part of all members of the staff.

The Exercises.

That portion of the exercises given by the students followed. There were numerous choruses which were well rendered. Miss Lambert of Moncton gave a lesson in reading to Grade I. Miss Jean Currie of Woodstock was heard in a reading. A lesson in Nature Study was taught by Mr. O'Brien of Saint John his subject being "Chalk." Miss Jarvis of Stanley gave a reading after which the school gave a demonstration in physical drill with Miss Dorothy Burpee of Fredericton in charge of the young ladies and Lewis Tims of Fredericton in charge of the young men. Miss Barbara Kelly of Saint John sang a vocal solo and was encored. Miss Stella McLean of Saint John taught singing to a class of children. A selection from the works of Drummond by Miss Anais Cyr also was heard.

Presentation of Medals.

The presentation of medals followed. Dr. W. S. Carter, Chief Supt. of Education was called upon to present the Silver Medal to Miss Katherine Hyslop of Moore's Mills. Dr. Carter expressed his pleasure because of being called upon to act. He said he had known Miss Hyslop from infancy and her family also. The Moore's Mill school was one of the most useful in the Province. Its staff was not at large as those of some but some excellent students had been turned out.

Dr. W. S. Carter.

Dr. Carter said that it was his custom to take the opportunity to address a few words to the school as Chief Supt. of Education. On this occasion he must congratulate the students upon the completion of another year. Reference had been made to the large increase in the number of French students attending the school. He could remember when a mere dozen constituted the French-speaking enrolment. It was noticeable that French-speaking students made excellent marks and by some it was held that it was the bonus on a French paper which caused that. Such was not the case. In fact there were English-speaking students who often made higher marks on the French papers than did the French-speaking students. There had also been reference to the imposition of a maximum on the attendance at the school. He did not agree that the primary reason was the number of teachers in the Province but believed that it was lack of accommodation.

The Chief Supt. spoke in terms of highest praise of the deportment of students of the School. A report of misconduct had not been made for a long time. Next week the students would meet again and he hoped that their reasonable ambitions would be realized.

Dr. C. C. Jones.

Dr. C. C. Jones, Chancellor of the University of New Brunswick presented the Bronze Medal to Miss Alice Read, Belleisle Creek. Dr. Jones congratulated the recipient of the medal and also the students and the members of the staff of the school upon the high standard of the work of the institution.

Mayor Clark.

His Worship Mayor Clark presented the City of Fredericton medal to Miss Irene Fitzpatrick of Fredericton. His Worship said that Fredericton was proud of the Normal School on account of its able staff and so attractive a body of students. About thirty years before some of the residents of the city had found those attending the Normal School so interesting that permanent attachments had been formed (Laughter). He hoped that at the present time it might be the case that attachments had been formed which would keep some of the students in Fredericton. His Worship mentioned the importance of the teaching profession and the opportunity which it held for teaching lessons of loyalty and patriotism.

His Honor the Lieut. Governor.

His Honor the Lieut. Governor then was called upon to address the class. He said that as the time set for the close of the exercises was past he would make his remarks brief. In the Province of New Brunswick education always had been held in high regard and the age was one in which it was given a high place. Education was the torch which lighted the world to future achievements. It was the force which moulded character for humanity, civilization and citizenship. He hoped that the members of the class would make the most of their opportunities to give their scholars the best outlook on loyalty and patriotism. Should they meet with discouragement they could remember that every effort no matter how slight aided toward accomplishment. If they should encounter pupils gruffer than others let them take the pains to aid those backward ones to improve.

His Honor closed his remarks with an expression of the regret that Mrs. Todd and himself would be unable to accept the invitation to attend the social entertainment of the students that night.

SITUATION IN THE SUDAN

(Special to the Daily Mail by British United Press)

Cairo, June 4—Adly Passa, premier designate today conferred with Lord Lloyd the British High Commissioner for Egypt and Sudan. So far no definite move has been made to meet the situation arising from the overwhelming victory of the Nationalist coalition parties at the poles last month.

The two girls who were arrested one night last week on a charge of being vagrants, appeared in the police court this morning on a remand. They were given a further remand until the 8th and went back to gaol. There is marked interest in the case.

THE SITUATION IN EGYPT IS RATHER GRAVE

Britain Ready to Send Warships and Troops to the Nile.

London, June 4—Great Britain's anxiety regarding Egypt is not caused primarily by mercenary changing Zaghoul Pappa, the Nationalists leader recently victorious in the Egyptian elections, but by concern over the fiery premier of Italy, Benito Mussolini, whose domain is just across from Egypt on the other side of the Mediterranean.

Not only the British but most other Europeans, it is learned, authoritatively are convinced that if Great Britain were to withdraw from Egypt, Italy would step in within a few weeks. This would mean that Egypt's communications by way of the Suez Canal would be left at the mercy of a nation which professedly wants to dominate the Mediterranean.

Strong Hand Shown.

Hence the British are showing a strong hand in Egypt and are leaving no possible excuse for action in that direction by Mussolini. Because of anxiety in London over the turn of affairs in Cairo, British leaders emphasize the fact that the situation remains grave even though it has been somewhat improved in the last few hours by Zaghoul's decision not to take the premiership himself but to hand it over to the Liberal party's Pasha.

In the event that Zaghoul again changes his mind or shows any signs of obstreperousness the British plan to send additional warships to Egypt at once.

Would Use Troops.

Preparations have been made to utilize the troops now in Egypt if necessary and send more if they are needed to enforce the conditions on which Great Britain granted Egypt independence in 1922. These conditions include:

First—Maintenance by Great Britain of security of her communications.

Second—Protection of Egypt by Great Britain against foreign aggression.

Third—Protection by Great Britain of foreign interests in Egypt.

Fourth—Retention by Great Britain of the Sudan.
