New York, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Captain George Fried and his crew of the American steamship President Roosevelt have won their battle with the Atlantic storms and rescued the officers and crew of the waterlogged British freighter Antiope according to a wireless message received by the United States lines here today.

The rescue was completed soon after midnight, the message said, when the final thirteen men were transferred from the wallowing disabled freighter to the liner. Twelve had been taken off earlier in the night.

The rescue was made at the cost of two lives, two of the Roosevelt's sailors having been drowned in the determined efforts to reach small boats through the boiling seas to the aid of the Antiope. Five life boats there smashed before the rescue was completed.

The Roosevelt had been standing by the Antiope since Sunday engaged almost constantly in plans for the rescue and their execution, while more than two hundred of the liner's passengers formed a cheering audience for the heroic efforts of the Roosevelt's men.

SMALL MEN GAIN FAVOR IN MODERN FLAT

London, Jan. 28.—In these days of small houses and cramped flats tall men are not as much in demand as husbands as in the more spacious days of the Victorian era. At least Elaine Teriss, among the leading English actresses, says she has made this discovery, and contends that the short compact husband is better suited to the new scheme of things in which brevity and compactness are so desirable. She feels she is competent to deliver an opinion on this subject, since her husband, Seymour Hicks, also well known on the London stage, is "betwixt and between."

Miss Teriss says that the tall man—the type of well over six feet—reached the heyday of his popularity in the decorative days of the nineteenth century.

London, Jan. 28.—It was reported today the Prince of Wales had broken his collar bone while hunting in Leicestershire. He was said to have fallen from his horse. The Prince, undaunted by his experience when his favorite horse, "Oh, Dear," fell dead beneath him, had renewed his hunting this morning.

The Prince has had several bad falls from horses while hunting during the past year, and had been repeatedly warned to exercise greater care.

SCOTCH LADY
COMPLETES A WALKING TOUR

London, Jan. 28.—Miss Gertrude Rickards, seventy years old, is challenging the pedestrian record of Edward Payson Weston, the veteran American walker. She recently completed a walking tour of 1,644 miles through Scotland and England.

Bad weather has checked Miss Rickards' tour, but she will resume it next spring. When she sold her country home in 1923 she took up walking to amuse herself.

"I started at Land's End and set out for York at the beginning of my tour, but I went by highways and byways and not by the main roads," Miss Rickards explained. "I went to the south Cornish coast, Exeter, Bath, Gloucester, Warwick, Rugby, Oakham, Grant-ham, Lincoln and Doncaster, studying flora and fauna. In 1924 I went to Inverness, by way of Edinburgh, and this summer I reached John o' Groat's putting in 186 days of actual walking."

Miss Rickards always lunched on cheese and biscuits while on her tour and had her other meals in inns. She says she never experienced the slightest loneliness, and always knitted or embroidered while she was resting by the roadside at lunch time.

SPUDS ARE MOVING WELL

Caribou, Me., Jan. 27.—The Aroostook potato market continues fairly active with prices slightly better than last week, growers offering considerable stock at $3.90 a hundredweight or $6.25 a barrel, cash, for No. 1 Green Mountains at loading points. Buyers are inclined to take all that is offered at these prices. Shipments have fallen off slightly for the last few days. They are about 125 carloads a day. The weather was moderate today and favorable for handling stock except for snow in some places.

(Special to the Daily Mail by the British United Press)

BRUSSELS, Jan. 28.—Belgium honored today with a national funeral its beloved Cardinal Mercier and royalty mingled with peasant and worker in doing him homage.

Through thoroughfares black with mourning followers with their heads bowed, there passed his casket to the tolling of chimes of Saint Gudule church.

Within that edifice where in war days his defiant proclamations to the Belgian populace against the Government masters were read, the Cardinal's body was placed in state among a noble company of mourners, and with the impressive rites of the church he served in peace and war, Belgium took its leave of him before his body went to Malines to be hall of hallowed dead.

The casket was brought here at ten o'clock from Malines where since the Sabbath more than one hundred thousand people had viewed the body in its church robes at the archiepiscopal palace.

Tighe, of Edmonton, on behalf of the electors and supporters of D. F. Kellner, asking Parliament for the appointment of a committee to enquire into the alleged prevalence of corrupt practices.

The petition will come up before the House of Commons, which will decide whether or not there are grounds for an inquiry.

BIRKENHEAD WAS WORLD'S BEST STENOGR.

London, Jan. 28.—The Earl of Birkenhead, Secretary of State for India, started out early in life to be a stenographer, but he did not get very far. He made this revelation in an address to the graduating class of a commercial college.

"I thought I would rather be a short hand reporter than anything in the world, and I worked like a beaver," he said. "I was a wonder. I broke all speed records. My teachers had never seen any one who developed such speed. But there was a rude awakening. Nobody else could read my notes, and I couldn't read them myself. So my shorthand ambitions came to a sudden end."

$5000 GIVEN TO SEEK CAUSES OF BALDNESS

An initial donation of $5,000 toward establishment of a "College on Hair Research" was announced today by Charles Nessler, president of the American Master Hair-dressers Association. A member of the faculty of physicians and surgeons of Columbia University will be in charge of the proposed laboratory.

Hair is too important a factor in the life, health and happiness of humanity," the donor declared, to longer suffer the results of haphazard handling.

THE EMBARGO QUESTION IS REVIVED

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The question of an embargo or an export duty on pulp-wood shipped from Canada is revived in a written question which Colonel James Arthurs, Conservative for Parry Sound, has placed on the order paper.

He asks for a copy of all the correspondence which the government has had on this subject with any person since Jan. 1, 1921.

Edgett, seconded by Miss Hattie Tweedie, that legislation be prepared and necessary advertising done to permit the issue of debentures to the value of $100,000. Mr. Edgett said that this should be done in case the money were needed the year and to provide for the erection of a new school if it were necessary.

KING LEAVES
TONIGHT FOR
PRINCE ALBERTLocal Conservatives Do
Not Favor a Contest.DUNNING TO JOIN GOVT.House May Adjourn After Address is Disposed of.

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—If credence can be given to the official statement of the local Conservative organization in Prince Albert that they will not oppose the Prime Minister the latter will be given an acclamation in that seat. Premier King, will leave here this evening for Prince Albert to be present at the nomination of February 1. Should he be unopposed he will be able to take his seat in the House of Commons immediately.

Following his election it is probable that a seat will then be opened for Right Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, and following him it is possible that a seat will be sought for Hon. Charles Dunning, Premier of Saskatchewan who some time ago, it is understood, expressed his readiness to enter the Federal arena. What other Cabinet reorganization may be undertaken will be disclosed later.

When the Prime Minister returns to the House one of the first questions to decide is that of an adjournment, as it would necessitate their going home for a time and thereby deranging their housing plans in Ottawa. Premier King, it is understood at the present time favors an adjournment, but it is possible that some acceptable compromise on this subject can be effected.

GAGETOWN
HAS HAD A BIG SNOW FALL

Gagetown, Jan. 27.—Forty-five inches of snow has fallen so far this month, last week's storm being responsible for a good proportion of this amount. In cuts along the Valley Railway the snowplow was needed Saturday morning to clear drifts six feet or more in depth. Lumbermen report four feet of snow in the woods, making operations considerably more difficult, as the snow is light and the ground in some places not well frozen.

Reid Brothers have been operating their mill below Gagetown since the first of the year. The McKeague Brothers, who are lumbering on the Millstream, have installed a radio in their lumber camp to provide entertainment for the evenings.

BLIND GUIDES
LOSE AS FOGS ARE SCARCE

London, Jan. 28.—Blind men who act as guides to pedestrians when dense fogs settle over London have been complaining of lack of business due to this winter's weather, which has been exceptionally clear and cold.

Thousands of persons frequently become lost in the fogs, even within a block or so of their homes or offices. It is on such occasions that the blind men, who find their way by "feel" and instinct, take up their stands at prominent corners and offer their services as guides.

GIRLS LIKE TO SHOW 'EM, 1862
DIARY SHOWS

London, Jan. 28.—There is nothing new in fashions, after all. An entry in the diary of Sir William Hartman, just published at London, and dated in November, 1862, says: "A meeting has been held to abolish the crinoline on the ground that it is too revealing. But the agitation against the crinoline is futile. The girls of our time like to show their legs. I don't see why they should be interfered with—it pleases them and does no harm to us. I speak for married, not single, men."

Present indications point to an acclamation for the Premier.
