WHEN J. R. BOOTH GOT OFF CHEAPLY WITH DENTIST

You often hear it said that doctors charge according to the size of the patient's pocketbook. In Quebec there was a dentist who did this.

One day a crew of lumberjacks came in from up the river with a boom of logs from the timber regions of the North. One of the men suffered from a toothache and consulted the dentist. After making an extraction the dentist regarded the logger for a moment and then, when the bearded man from the woods commenced to feel for his change, he asked what he did for a living.

"Oh, I usually work around a mill," was the reply.

"Then your charge will be fifty cents," said the dentist.

The logger hauled from his pocket a huge wad of currency of staggering denominations and commenced to finger the bills. The dentist was amazed.

"I thought you said you worked around a mill," he said, as he rummaged in his cash drawer for change.

"Well, so I do," said the logger calmly. "I happen to own the mill."

The will of this lumberman, John R. Booth, was opened the other day. It disposed of an estate estimated at $8,000,000.

"What makes Mrs. Blank such a popular speaker at women's clubs?" "She talks so low she never disturbs the conversation."

GOSSIP.

Earl Carroll the theatrical producer was talking rather bitterly to a New York reporter about his sentence to a year and a day in jail.

"Gossip," he said "is what made all the trouble. There was too much gossip. It reminds me of the anecdote:

"A very loquacious lady talked a man pretty nearly to death at a dinner party, and then as she got up with the other ladies to go into the drawing room she tapped him on the arm with her fan and said:

"I talk a lot don't I? But if you men told the truth I believe you'd all admit that you like talkative women better than the others.

"The others?" said the man.

"What others?"

HEALTH HEAD TELLS HOW TO KEEP COOL

Washington, July 13—Take a hot bath and a cup of tea if you want to cool off, S. B. Grubbs, acting Surgeon-General of the United States Health Service, advised today in a new list of hot weather "do's" and "don'ts."

A hot bath, Grubbs said, opens the pores and causes "natural refrigeration." Cold drinks and cold baths make you hot.

Among hot weather "don'ts" Grubb listed were:

Don't go to bed naked on hot nights. You'll catch cold.

Don't drink ice water. An overdose will give you cramps.

Don't eat foods rich in protein. Modify your diet and specialize on fruits and vegetables.

Don't talk about the hot weather. The more you talk about heat the warmer you will feel.

Don't stay in the water too long when you go swimming. If you feel chilly or depressed after a swim you are not in good condition and are subject to cramps.

Don't drink untested spring water on picnics. You may get malaria or typhoid fever.

Grubb suggested light exercise to stimulate perspiration which will have cooling results.

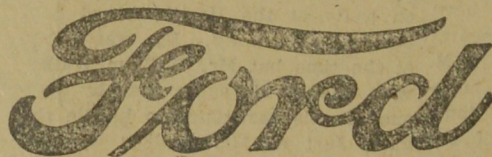

He advocated "Helen Wills" visors as substitutes for hats. Clothes made of white flannel are coolest, he said.

The Secret Of Uniform Quality

FROM raw material to the finished product, Ford standardization is complete to the smallest detail.

This uniform Ford quality has resulted in the uniform satisfaction of more than twelve million owners.

Half the cars in use to-day are Ford cars, every one of them built to a standard of quality by which Ford leadership has been maintained for twenty-one years.
