WHY IS THIS WRONG?

Thousands of letters are delayed in delivery from two to ten hours in big cities because business men do not place their return street address on letterheads and envelopes. Even though a company may be an important one, all postal employees do not have its address committed to memory. Consequently its mail will surely be delayed if persons who must reply to its letters are given no street address.

SILHOUETTES.

Reports from Paris continue to be concerned very largely with the lack of uniformity in silhouettes. This independence is in keeping with the spirit of the day and is approved not only by the average importer, but by the women for whom they assemble their wares. It argues for a better selection for women of decided types and for better dressing generally, since there is a line for every figure.

That evening dresses are inclined to scintillation is one of the notes of interest, cheering to those who are oppressed by the fear that the vogue of black may result in too great a somberness to be compatible with a gay night life.

Black is unquestionably the smartest note for evening, but there is nothing depressing in the brilliancy of black paillettes or in the diaphanous quality of nets, filmy laces and sheer chiffons. Lines, too are subtly soft, for most designers subscribe to the new bloused or broken waistline and are inclined to the grace of floating scarf end panels and fringe—all details which add grace.

Both yellow and red are introduced for evening and pink, while not new, has taken on an added interest because of the chic of candy pink or praline. There are many clever color schemes employed in smart, new evening frocks, several of which include black. Reds are continued through the rust range and include wallflower colorings. While there is some justification in the rumor that embroidery is returning it seems of minor importance considering the future one finds for novelty laces, for spangles and for good and sufficient uses of ribbon.

A Delicious Pie.

If you like good pies try this: Take the juice of 1 lemon 2 cups crushed pineapple, 2 cups sugar, 2 heaping tbsp. cornstarch pinch of salt, stir well and add 2 cups boiling water and cook in a double boiler until thick. Stir in the well beaten yolk of 1 egg and 1 tsp. butter. When cool turn into baked pie shell cover with whipped cream and sprinkle with ground nuts.

Fruit Salad Dressing.

One quarter cup of pineapple juice 1-4 cup of lemon juice 2 eggs 1-4 cup sugar 1 cup of whipped cream. Beat eggs, add sugar, pineapple and lemon juice. Cook in double boiler, stirring until thick, then set aside to cool. Whip the cream and stir into mixture just before serving.

Orange Pie.

Cream 1 tablespoon of butter with 3-4 cup of sugar; add beaten yolks of 3 eggs rind and juice of 1 large orange and 1-2 a lemon. Line a pie pan with crust, pour on custard and

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." INTERESTING DISCUSSION IN PARLIAMENT ON SUBJECT OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

(From Hansard.)

Trade and Commerce—Weights and measures inspection, including International Bureau of Weights and Measures, $310,000.

Mr. Rogers—This simply covers the wages incident to the employees?

Mr. Robb—Yes. The estimates for salaries of the staff is $205,475; contingencies, including rent, travelling expenses of the director, his staff at Ottawa, district inspectors and inspectors; postage, stationery, etc., $104,125; International Bureau of Weights and Measures, $400. This department showed a deficit in 1920-21 of $803.73; in 1921-22 it was $14,028.53; in 1922-23 it amounted to $1,596.21; in 1923-24 the deficit was $3,265.76. In 1924-25 it showed a surplus amounting to $9,065.18, and for the year ending March 31 last the surplus amounted to $22,460.49. Apparently it is now on a profitable basis.

Sir Henry Drayton—The fees were increased some time ago.

Mr. Robb—Yes.

Voices Complaint.

Mr. McClenaghan—Before this item passes I would like to say a few words on behalf of the grocers and small traders who have complained many times of the charges made for examination and inspection of weights and measures. They claim that this inspection is for the benefit of the public, and that the public should pay for it. We passed a large item tonight to cover the expenses of grain inspection, because it benefits the grain growers and enables them to get more for their grain, but the grocers and small merchants is charged for the benefit of the public. The Department of Agriculture sends out inspectors, and the department pays the whole cost. One of the nuisance items in connection with the inspection of weights and measures is the fact that when your inspector goes into a store he charges $1 for the transportation or cartage of the weights. The average store on Bank street has a frontage of about twenty feet; the blocks are about 200 feet long, which means ten stores to a block. That means the cartage people will get $10 for lifting a few weights from one door to another. At every convention of the retail merchants a great many complaints are heard regarding this fee; they feel they are paying too much to have the weights carried fifteen or twenty feet in the same block. I have in my hand the record of one of the inspections conducted at a store on Rideau street. The inspection and adjustment fees amounted to $8.35, and the cartage to $1, or a total of $9.35. Every year they have to pay this amount and the merchants claim it is not for their benefit. The great majority of people receive benefit of this work and the merchants feel that the government should pay for that inspection because it is for the protection of the people; and particularly do they complain about this $1 charge for cartage. I think the department would be well advised to look into that matter and see why a block of ten small stores should have to pay $10 for the cartage of these few weights. I hope this will receive very serious consideration and that this charge may be done away with.

Mr. Robb—If my hon. friend would give the officers of the department the name of the inspector who made that charge it will be very carefully looked into, because that is not the method followed in cities.

Mr. McClenaghan—This was done at a store on Rideau street.

Mr. Robb—The inspection of grain is a charge on the business.

Mr. McClenaghan—But the grain grower gets a better price for his grain because it is inspected. In the inspection of weights, however, the benefit is to the public.

Mr. Robb—I think my hon. friend is wrong. He might be giving out correct weight while his neighbour might have a scale not quite correct. This inspection is for his benefit as well as for the benefit of his customers.

Mr. McClenaghan—In the year ending March 31, 1924 there were 570,764 inspections, of which 561,022 were verified and 9,742 rejected, which is a small percentage of incorrect measures compared to the number of inspections.

Mr. Robb—But these shops were in competition with the men who had correct scales.

Mr. McClenaghan—It is for the benefit of the public and we claim that the people who get the benefit should pay for it.

Item agreed to.

Sir Henry Drayton—I think that winds up the business for tonight.

Mr. Robb—Unless my hon. friends, who have been very good would allow me to put through the civil government estimates in the block; I will not insist upon it, but there is only one increase in the whole business.

Some hon. members—No, no. Progress reported.
