TOURISTS AND GOVERNMENT CONTROL.

In the course of a debate at Halifax this week on the subject of prohibition Mrs. H. P. Newcombe, a talented lady who is widely known as a public speaker, contended that government control of the liquor traffic had no bearing on tourist travel and cited the case of the State of Maine, which gets many tourists under prohibition. Maine is some distance from Nova Scotia but a near neighbor of New Brunswick. If Mrs. Chisholm would glance over the returns made by liquor vendors in this province for the year 1925 she would find that those vendors who occupy strategic points along the Maine-New Brunswick border did a land office business as compared with vendors located further inland. Then it must not be forgotten that Maine has the wet province of Quebec for a northern neighbor and it is not a difficult matter for motor cars these days to get across the international boundary. No doubt during the run of a summer many of Maine's holiday seekers have occasion to visit the Province of Quebec on sight-seeing tours. There is no doubt that when it comes to tourist travel wet Quebec is fairly well able to hold its end up with Maine or any other locality.

Maine undoubtedly has a big run of tourist travel, but it is doubtful if it gets as many visiting anglers during the summer months as do the border states of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. These states are in easy communication by water with points in the province of Ontario where there are large whiskey distilleries. Fast motor boats are not uncommon on the inland waterways of that section and it is doubtful if the thousands of disciples of Isaac Walton, who are a large element in the number of summer visitors spend all their spare time trying to catch fish. Now that Ontario has declared in favor of government control no doubt many American anglers will next season try their luck in its well stocked waters.

AN OCTOGENARIAN VIEW?

How old is Dr. H. A. Powell, K. C.? is a question one might naturally ask after reading what purports to be an interview with him on the result of the Ontario election in the Saint John Telegraph-Journal. The genial and loquacious doctor is thus reported:

"When a young man I used to visit the late Sir Leonard Tilley quite frequently at a time when the great statesman was in the heat of his prohibition activities. Shortly after he had introduced a prohibitory measure for New Brunswick—a measure which was shortly withdrawn—he said to me, 'Powell, I think I have introduced this prohibitive measure far too soon, the people do not seem to be ready for it.'"

It is a matter of record that the first prohibitive legislation in New Brunswick was placed on the Statute books when Sir Leonard Tilley was Premier in the year 1855 and was repealed the following year following a general election. Nobody would believe Dr. Powell to be much beyond the three score and ten mark, but if he was old enough in 1855 to discuss public questions with the late Sir Leonard Tilley he must be now in the octogenarian class.

A close friend of Mussolini says the dictator does not want to be king of Italy. He is supreme now. He does not want a crown. According to this friend, Mussolini is completely interested in doing a big piece of work for his people—unifying Italy—and making a government that works. If that is true, Mussolini is even smarter than he has been given credit for being. The really big things of this world are done by men and women—whatever their jobs—who forget their own glory and sink themselves in their work. They are simply the unselfish, unimpeded mediums for great movements.

The late Sir Joseph Pope who passed away at Ottawa this week, was for years an outstanding figure in the civil service. He was for ten years private secretary to the late Sir John A. Macdonald and subsequently served as Clerk of the Privy Council and Under Sec'y of State. He was a native of Prince Edward Island and son of Hon. W. H. Pope, who was at one time Minister of Railways. The late Sir Joseph Pope enjoyed confidential relations with the old Conservative chieftain and his biography of that great statesman was an important contribution to Canadian literature.

One hundred and ten thousand applications for patents and trademarks have been submitted to the patent office at Washington in one year. Radio is the most active field for inventors. Don't worry about the number of inventors who are trying to get patents. The world has many new things but it will eagerly grasp just as many more. There is always room for an idea. At best there are only a few good ones.

It is claimed that all told the British coal strike has thus far cost $2,500,000,000. The most of that is money lost irretrievably, and the end of the condition is not yet in sight. Friends within are sometimes as expensive as foes without.

THE TONIC THAT GIVES STRENGTH

After Acute Diseases the Blood Must be Built Up Before Recovery is Complete.

Fever and other acute diseases like pneumonia and influenza, leave the patient weak, with thin blood and unstrung nerves. The period of convalescence is often long and trying, and years of poor health have frequently followed so brief an illness as an attack of influenza or pneumonia.

Much of this sort of misery could be avoided by taking steps to build up the blood so that it can carry to the nerves and other tissues of the body the elements they need to restore their normal functional activities. To build up the blood and restore it to its rich, health-giving vigor, no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. From first to last it is their mission to improve the blood and thus restore good health and vigor.

The value of these pills in conditions described above is shown by the statement of Mrs. Rebecca O'Brien, Pembroke, Ont., who says:—"In Nov., 1923, I was stricken with pneumonia and at the time but little hope was held out for my recovery. However, with the best of care I was able to walk about after some months. But I did not recover my strength. The doctor told me I was anemic. My appetite was poor, I grew nervous and restless, I was deathly pale and practically gave up hope of ever being strong again. However, remembering that in my girlhood I had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with decided success, I decided to try them again. By the time I had used two boxes there was no doubt the pills were helping me. Continuing their use I was soon able to attend to my household duties. I continued taking the pills, however, until I had used twelve boxes, by which time I was enjoying better health than at any time in the previous ten years. In gratitude for what the pills have done for me, I give this statement in the hope that it may point the way to health to some other weak, despondent woman."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
