DIVISION ON THE ADDRESS AT OTTAWA LIKELY TOMORROW; MORE BY-ELECTIONS SOON

Ottawa, Ontario, Jan. 31—Parliament opens its third week of the new session tomorrow with the almost certain prospect of adjourning before the week-end until March 15. With every prospect of carrying its motion, the Government has moved for an adjournment from the end of the debate on the address until that date.

There will be a reorganization of the cabinet in the recess and probably at least one more by-election in Ontario following the appointment of an Ontario man.

Plans Undisclosed

Whether the Government will give portfolios to men already elected for Ontario seats, or whether one or more of the defeated Ontario Cabinet ministers will be provided with a seat has not been disclosed. At present Ontario has no elected member of parliament in the cabinet and it is well known that the Government is anxious to return Rt. Hon. George P. Graham present minister of railways, to the House. The by-election in Prince Albert is now almost certain to result in an acclamation for Premier McKenzie King, who has gone West to address his constituency and may be resuming his place on the treasury benches by next Friday.

Debate Near End

The debate on the address in reply, which has run exactly ten days, is expected to end tomorrow. Since Thursday afternoon no Conservative member has participated in the debate, the official opposition taking the stand that it is ready for a vote at once on the Meighen amendment to the address. The list of Liberal and Progressive members still waiting to speak is expected to be exhausted by Monday night and a tentative arrangement has been made between the whips of these parties for a vote before adjournment of Monday's sitting. It has not been announced yet whether or not the Conservatives will submit to the address if the present one is defeated, as it is expected it will be, but it is not likely that an amendment calling for prolonged discussion will be put up.

Likeliest Move

The likeliest move by the Opposition will be the submission of a straight motion of want of confidence in the Government which may be voted on immediately after the present amendment has been disposed of. The probable extent of the Government's majority on the address in reply is variously estimated from six to nine, including independents and nearly all the Progressives.

Since there has been no Conservative participant in the debate since Thursday, it is not likely that the vote on the Meighen amendment will be delayed beyond tomorrow night, and Tuesday night find the Commons already in recess and the members scattering again to discuss the political situation with their constituents. Many of the western members, it is expected, will remain in Ottawa during recess.

REV. DR. HUTCHINSON, WELL KNOWN BAPTIST MINISTER, PASSES AWAY

St. John, Feb. 1—Telegrams received in the city Saturday brought the sad news of the death at Brockville, Ont., of Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson, who had been for 20 years pastor of the Main street Baptist church. He left this city in May of last year to become pastor of the First Baptist church in Brockville. The announcement was a great shock to his many friends in this city, as it was not known that Dr. Hutchinson was seriously ill. It was learnt Dr. Hutchinson had passed away after a heart attack and his fatal illness was of only half an hour's duration.

The latest word that had been received of him previously had been that at the annual meeting of the congregation in Brockville a salary increase had been voted to the pastor and a tribute paid his work. He had not been able to attend that meeting because of illness but it was not realized in Saint John that the illness was more than a passing ailment.

Reference To Death.

In the Main street church yesterday, Rev. C. O. Howlett, of Andover, N. B., who conducted the services, made special reference to the sadness which the word of Dr. Hutchinson's death had brought to the members of the Main street church. He stated that the funeral service is to take place in Brockville this evening and interment will be made on Tuesday in Brantford where Mrs. Hutchinson and two of their children are buried.

At a special meeting of the Main street church board on Saturday arrangements were made for sending a wreath and a telegram of condolence to Dr. Hutchinson's relatives. A wreath is also being sent by the Saint John Lodge, No. 30, Knights of Pythias, of which Dr. Hutchinson was a member. Another floral offering will be sent by the Young Ladies' Aid of the Main street church as well as many floral tributes from individual friends in Saint John.

Born In England.

Rev. David Hutchinson was born on March 19, 1855, at Twodaters, England, and his boyhood was spent at that place, King's Langley and Watford, England. His early manhood was spent in Belfast, Ireland. He studied at Hartley College, London, the famous missionary training institute, and graduated from that institution in 1878.

Following his graduation he accompanied Rev. J. Bromley to Newfoundland, Providence, R. I., and several other United States cities, going as far west as St. Louis, on an evangelistic tour, and made quite a name for himself at that time as a traveling evangelist. He was ordained to the Baptist ministry at Ingersoll, Ont., in 1881 and in the same year was married to Miss Nellie C. Emerson, of Providence, R. I.

In the year 1882 he was called to the Baptist church at St. Thomas and spent five years as pastor of that church. Following this he was for 15 years at Park Baptist church Brantford, and four years at the First Baptist church, Moncton. In the year 1905 he came to the Main street Baptist church.

Gets Degree of D. D.

In the year 1909 his service to the denomination and his scholarly attainments were recognized by the conferring of the degree of D. D. by Acadia University.

"He was a strong preacher, an excellent pastor, a devout Christian, a good pastor, a devout Christian, a good citizen, a loyal friend. In his passing the Baptist denomination of Canada suffers a distinct loss."

RESTAURANT MAN UNABLE TO EAT FOOD

(New York Sun).

"Well, I have solved the great bread and milk mystery," observed the policeman who is usually to be found around 149th street and Broadway early in the mornings. "It bothered me for a long time, and when it got so I could stand it no longer I went right in and buzzed the proprietor."

"Now, I have been on this beat for more than a year. In that time every morning about 6 o'clock a wagon has driven up to that restaurant near the corner, leaving one loaf of bread and a bottle of milk. The windows are full of rolls and pies and cakes and baked ducks and hams and boiled tongues and the back of the shop is full of coffee tanks."

"I couldn't dope out why a man with all that food around him should have one loaf of bread and a single bottle of milk left at his door. So in I went. He told me the bread and milk were for his breakfast and lunch. The milk was fresh and the bread was stale. He had had dyspepsia for twenty years he said, and wouldn't any more bite into one of his own charlotte russets than he'd bite the lamppost on the curbstone."

The Capitol.

"The Man on the Box" is the photo play at the Capitol for the first half of the week with Syd Chaplin the featured player. If you want to have a good laugh don't fail to see this play. A short comedy is also on the bill.

JOHN D. 3D, HAD TO GO WITHOUT MEAL

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 25—'ts a hard world indeed when a Rockefeller cannot get even enough credit to buy a meal and must, perforce, go hungry.

Yet that is the plight of John D. 3d. He missed his breakfast in the college dining rooms and sought nourishment at Joe's restaurant, an institution in this village.

He had no money, but he did possess a checkbook. As he entered he took it out of his pocket and walked over to Joe, who was polishing a showcase.

As John is a freshman, Joe is not well acquainted with him. Nevertheless, Joe, knowing the youth was a college boy, stood ready to cash his check.

Unfortunately John D. 3d., felt the necessity of identifying himself, so, as he opened his checkbook, he said to Joe, "I am John D. Rockefeller, 3d."

The cash register that had jangled open at the sight of the checkbook now snapped shut with an emphatic open at the sight of the checkbook bag.

Joe looked at the hungry frosh and said, "Nothin' doin', a guy worked that gag on me last year."

John D. 3d. had to wait lunch at the freshman dining hall.

UNSINKABLE SHELL IS USED

London, Jan. 31—In training for the annual Oxford and Cambridge University boat race on the Thames the Oxford crew despite bad weather, forsook all precautions in favor of speed and the result was the sinking of their boat.

Determined not to have a repetition of this experience Oxford has ordered a boat which the builders describe as of a 40-year-old type which dispenses with the exaggerated stream line and is said to be practically unsinkable.

The Oxford and Cambridge university boat race, which is rowed from Putney to Mortlake, 4 1/2 miles, was instituted in 1829, but it did not become an annual event until some years later. There was no race from 1915 to 1919 on account of the war.

Oxford has won the race 40 times and Cambridge 36 times. Cambridge won last year.

Heavy Snow in Albert County.

George F. Burden of the Chief Scales Office returned this morning after being snowbound in Albert County for some days. That part of the province has four feet of snow. There was no train out on Friday and on Saturday the first train out reached Salisbury on the main line of the C. N. R. at 11 p. m. Mr. Burden was able to make Saint John, Sunday night by freight train and reached Fredericton this morning.

OLD NORMAL BOYS TOO STRONG

A reunion of the former students of the Provincial Normal School took place here on Saturday. Practically all the male students who were in attendance last year were present and many young ladies also were. Two games of basketball were played in the afternoon and supper was served in the school after that. The Old Boys' team won from the present Normal School basketball team 39 to 13. The present Normal School second team won its game from a second team composed of graduates 10 to 6.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT GAIETY THEATRE

"His Secretary" is the photo play at the Gaiety for Monday and Tuesday featuring Norma Shearer. It is all about dressy business men and their relations with stenographers. The latter are represented in the approved models—the flip, archdeaconous ones, the merely pretty, and the flat-heeled, cotton-stockinged, bespectacled frump.

In this guise the lovely Norma Shearer appears until she undergoes facial massage. Pathe Review is also on the Bill.

Dr. Adolf Lorenz says: "Your women are exquisite beauties and quite liberal, I notice, in showing their beauty." My, but that old boy has the sharp eyes!
