The Gaiety.

"A Three Ring Marriage" is the photo play at the Gaiety for Wednesday and Thursday with Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes in the leading roles. The scene opens on a Western Cow Ranch and is later transferred to a circus. It is a good comedy and Mary Astor and Alice White about whom the subtitles says "the Polar Bears call for more ice", are easy to look at.

HON. MR. BENNETT, K. C., AT HIS OLD HOME DELIVERED THE FIRST ADDRESS ON MARITIME TOUR

In Saint John Today—Speaks of Progress of Country—Praises Maritime Educationalists—Feted at Hopewell Hill and Sackville.

St. John, N. B., July 25—Hon. R. B. Bennett, Leader of the Canadian Conservative Party, after visiting his birth place at Hopewell Hill, Tuesday afternoon, arrived in Saint John by automobile last night. He was accompanied by members of the federal house and local party leaders.

Mr. Bennett is to attend a public reception this afternoon in Pythian Castle and at lunch hour he will be the guest and address a joint meeting of the Canadian Club and the Women's Canadian Club. A banquet in the Conservative leader's honor will be given in the Admiral Beatty Hotel this evening.

AT HOPEWELL

Hopewell Hill, July 24—Within sight of his old home on the shores of the turbulent Petcodiac where his boyhood days were spent, Hon. R. B. Bennett, national leader of the Conservative Party, delivered the first scheduled address of his Maritime tour this afternoon on the picnic grounds at Hopewell Cape Rocks. It was the first public address he had given in his native county and a gathering that numbered thousands assembled from all parts of the country and from Moncton and many outside points to see and hear the new leader, who had traveled far on the political road since he first left his native village in his youthful days.

Unfortunately the weather proved somewhat faithless, a lowering sky with easterly wind and occasional mist, rendering the day more or less unpleasant. The large gathering was not by any means confined to representatives of Mr. Bennett's own party, many of opposite political faith being present, the meeting being intended as a general reception to a native son of the county.

Premier Baxter

Hon. Dr. Baxter, in opening his speech, insisted that the interests of New Brunswick should be paramount with the people of the province even to the separation, if necessary, of men from party should party and province interests conflict. He predicted the new leader would lead his party victorious. He was now, he said, taking off for the great leap that would bring him to his goal.

Miss Mildred Bennett in a few words thanked the people for the kind reception extended to her, her feeling remarks being followed by the playing of "Home Sweet Home" by the band. Miss Bennett was presented a handsome bouquet when called to the platform. An address of welcome was read by the chairman, especially eulogistic in character and followed by three cheers for Hon. Mr. Bennett, who took up his speech in expressions of appreciation of the kind of reception extended to him and in touching reference to his boyhood days in the little village where his hopes and ambitions had birth. His only regret he said, was the fact of empty homes in his native county and his great ambition would be that he might do something to have these homes filled with happy families again. He felt that it was possible to have this result obtained and these provinces by the sea peopled as they should be.

It should not be said, he beyond the power of statesmanship.

Speaks of Progress

He spoke of the possibility of electric power and what it might mean to this territory and paid a splendid tribute to the pioneers whose graves filled the hillsides. It was not the public men, he said, who build up a nation but the common people and he admonished the young men and women to follow up the service given by those gone before. This was the great object of life to make it easier for some one else to live.

He eulogized the small community that had sent so many men in times past, to rule the state. There is no limitation, he said, for their opportunities. In referring to his own boyhood days he paid tribute to "Billy Jones," the teacher of his youth to whom he said he owed much and traced his own life in its aspirations to be as he had said in his boyhood a lawyer and a politician, with his goal at last obtained.

Now, he said, he came back assuming the responsibilities placed upon him and with a resolution to be true to Canada, to whom he owed much and whose possibilities were beyond expression.

Mr. Bennett's address was devoid of political references and closed with an eloquent admonition to the people of the county to have faith in the future and to be true to their responsibilities. He thanked the people, he said, from the bottom of his heart and the day with its associations would be a solace to him in the years to come.

VISITS SACKVILLE

Sackville, July 24—In the Convocation Hall of Mount Allison University, where his mother, father and sister were educated, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader in the House of Commons, addressed members of the Maritime Summer School this morning. More than 200 professors and students greeted the Conservative leader and college yells and cheers broke forth as he proceeded to take his seat on the platform.

Introduced by President George J. Trueman as an honored son of New Brunswick which was especially proud in his selection to lead a great political party. Mr. Bennett spoke for some minutes. He was followed by Miss Mildred Bennett, who was called upon to speak, as the Conservative chief-tain's sister and as a graduate of Mount Allison. Addresses of thanks to Mr. Bennett and his sister were moved by the class president and vice-president.

Mr. Bennett expressed great pleasure at being able to speak to the student life of the Maritimes, and hoped that the young people would realize the important part which they had to play in the life of Canada. "Whenever a pessimist would haunt you it is great consolation for one to visit a university," Mr. Bennett said, "because here one would realize to what extent the young people were being interested and that was the solution to the problems of today."

Mr. Bennett was particularly loud in his praise for the professors of our Maritime Universities, who, year after year, remained steadfast to their purpose and did their share in producing the future citizens, even though they were able to get greater monetary rewards elsewhere. No matter to what degree it was wished to achieve success one must introduce a certain measure of sacrifice.

Continuing Mr. Bennett contrasted the views held when he was a boy to those held now. In his day people used to speak of the Maritimes as the boundaries to life, and at that time there was a strong bond of community spirit. Mr. Bennett recited the experience which he had on his first trip to the Canadian West, and how he marvelled at the vastness of the unfolding country as his train made its way to Calgary.

"Marvelous possibilities were innate in this wonderful country of ours, and it is our heritage to make it a great Canada," he said. "There are many peoples in this land of ours, and it is absolutely essential that we lift our eyes beyond the narrow confines of community spirit and take on a national outlook. It is the duty of the present generation to unify our heritage. There must be a mutual co-operation and an educated democracy. Those who are able must take the lead and transfer their knowledge to others in order that we might have a stronger unit."

F. Tracey Overton, of Montreal, is a guest of the Barker House today.

LADY ELEPHANT TRAINER WITH SPARKS CIRCUS

Lone Carl of the Sparks Circus has perhaps been justly called the most daring woman in the world, because she is the only woman who has ever successfully trained a large herd of elephants without the aid of man. Added to this she possesses all the control of the masters of this strange and curious art. The Sparks Circus which is to exhibit in Fredericton on Tuesday July 31, has always boasted possessing the most marvelously trained elephants on the face of the globe, it being conceded by all showmen that they work faster than ever before the public, and there are handled, educated and introduced by this dainty little woman, who, as before stated, is in a class by herself in a small 40 ft. ring with half a dozen of these tremendous animals capering about you, executing impossible stunts, never allowing any of them to miss their cues and making each one perform at an appropriate moment and at the same time, seeing to it that you are not trampled upon, maimed or otherwise injured yourself, you are accomplishing what any woman will tell you is one of the most hazardous of all feats, because no animal of the menageries requires more careful or incessant watching than the elephant. Of course there are many other lady animal trainers with Sparks Circus, for this season Mgr. Sparks seems to have specialized in wild animal acts—like Madame Harriette who puts the large and ferocious group of leopards thru their paces as nonchalantly and with the same degree of pleasure as the average woman in every day life caresses an ordinary house cat. Both of these remarkable and fearless women will be seen at the performance in this city. The Sparks Circus is offering an entire new programme this season. Seats can be secured Circus day at Arthur J. Ryan Drug Store same price as at show grounds.
