

The Daily Mail

Published every afternoon (except Sunday) at 327-329 Queen Street, Fredericton.

THE MAIL PRINTING COMPANY

Subscription Price: $4 per year by Carrier; $3 per year by mail.

TELEPHONE 67.

TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1928

THE FORESTRY CONVENTION

The citizens of Fredericton extend a cordial welcome to the delegates to the Canadian Forestry Convention, which opened a two days session in the Assembly Chamber of the Legislative Building this afternoon. The convention gives promise of being one of the most important in recent years. Many prominent people are to take part in the program including such internationally known forestry experts as Dr. C. D. Howe, Dean of the Forestry School of the University of Toronto, and Prof. Franklin D. Moon, dean of the New York State College of Forestry. The topics to be discussed include "Some of our Forest Problems," "Forest Conservation," "Young Forests," "Woods, Waters and Wild Life," and "How Best to Spend $25,000 on Fire Protection." The discussion to take place will no doubt bring out a lot of useful and practical information.

New Brunswick should be widely interested in the Conservation of Canada's great forest domain. The government of this province has control of eleven thousand square miles of forest lands which are being administered in the best interests of the people. These lands turn into the public treasury over a million dollars annually and besides providing profitable employment for many thousands of men. It is New Brunswick's greatest asset and the people have a vital interest in its protection and conservation.

Fredericton, known by the inscription on its civic crest as "Noble Daughter of the Forest" is proud of the distinction conferred upon it by the Canadian Forestry Association in selecting it for its annual meeting. It hopes that the delegates will thoroughly enjoy their sojourn here and that the result of their deliberations will be of lasting benefit to the whole dominion.

beonven oNsyn stserw .vy qiF ..

IN THE EARLY DAYS

An excellent historical guide of New Brunswick, written by Dr. J. C. Webster of Shediac and published by the New Brunswick Tourist Association, is now being circulated by the latter. It contains a great fund of information concerning the early history of the province, which should be of much value to our own people and also to tourists. In compiling this work and making available so much valuable data, Dr. Webster has rendered a good service to the province. The following extract from Dr. Webster's book, embodying a historical sketch of Fredericton will no doubt be read with great interest:

"FREDERICTON, the capital of the province on the site of St. Anne's, an old ruined French village. It was settled by the loyalists who first arrived there in the autumn of 1783. There were then only three old French houses standing. The first winter was very trying, and there was much hardship due to exposure and lack of supplies. When Governor Carleton in 1785 first decided on its erection he named it Frederick Town in honor of the second son of George III, who was Bishop of Osnaburg. In the early days it was sometimes called Osnaburg. The Governor established his residence there in 1786, the first council meeting being held on October 30th. At this time the only means of communication with Fredericton was by means of the river, and this caused much dissatisfaction with its selection as the capital. The Legislature could not at first be called in winter, and it did not meet until July, 1788. The building in which it convened still stands on Queen street and is marked by a brass tablet. Early provincial budgets were not large. For February, 1787, to June 30, 1788, the sum of £1,308, 2s. 7½d, was collected in duties, most of which was obtained in Saint John. Much of the tax was on rum, of which nearly 140,000 gallons were imported, a large quantity for such a small population."

The above is certainly very interesting, but we are inclined to believe that the closing sentence will be apt to shock some of our prohibition friends who occasionally meet in convention and pass resolutions condemning the government of the day for collecting revenue by such a painless method as government liquor stores. It will be generally conceded that our forefathers were men of vision, who builded well for the future. The population of the province was very small in the early days, but according to Dr. Webster they got away with 140,000 gallons of rum. As the total revenue was only $6,540.65, it is to be presumed that the tax on rum did not exceed five cents per gallon on the 140,000 gallons imported. Still on that meagre revenue our noble ancestors funded the University of New Brunswick fourteen years after Fredericton became the capital, and they did a lot of other things which have been of great benefit to their degenerate and undergenerate successors.

The temperance reformers of the present day certainly have no reason to complain of the progress made by their cause during the near century and a half which has elapsed since New Brunswick became a separate province. In 1787 twenty thousand people were able to put down no less than 640,000 bottles of rum in a single year. If that pace were kept up today with twenty times the population the government stores on an average profit of one dollar a bottle would gather in an annual revenue of $12,800,000, while the Federal government on a customs duty of $10 per gallon would realize on the amount used, a sum nearly one and one half times as great. It shows that moral suasion and example have done more for total abstinence and sobriety in New Brunswick than have legislative enactments of a coercive nature. The noble men who funded the province would certainly be astonished today if they were to return and find that the open bar had been abolished, that heavy penalties await those who illegally traffic in liquor and that every cent of profit on liquor legally sold for beverage purposes goes into the revenue of the province. They would surely think that the millenium had arrived.

MARY PICKFORD IN NEW PARTS

London, June 19—Mary Pickford, whom movie fans have been accustomed to see in the parts of little children or characters in tatters and rags, is going to enter the plove plot field of films, according to report and she is here looking for a possible partner for such a film.

He must be a perfectly nice young man who is able to make love as nicely as he looks." He must be five feet 10 inches high, under 30, have strong straight football shoulders and a personality, and his teeth must be his own.

Applicants were lining up outside her hotel today, but nobody is, so far as it is known, to have passed the test. The secret of her stay leaked out when she admitted she was going in for some love heroine stuff.

"I am very human," she said, "and I am so sick of wearing rags and tatters. I want to wear smart clothes and play the lover."

Therefore she is looking for a suitable partner, one who will "capture the heart of every woman in the audience."

WHEN PACKING FOR VACATION NEVER FORGET

You are sure to need some handy remedy for Sunburn, Insect Stings, Thorn Scratches, Sore Places. Zam-Buk has been proved to be the best. Take a box with you.

50c & x, all Drugists and Stores.

ZAM-BUG

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Early cantalopes rarely bat in mid-season form.

Adam had one advantage. The first robin didn't fool him into taking 'em off.

It's like this—when intuition fails the failure is left under cover. The same with hunches.

Peace cannot be maintained by calling the vanquished man's attention to the time you walloped him on the jaw.

'Straw hats were first made by the Romans, yet we know where there is one that looks older than that.

Old song: "Brighten up the corner where you are." And the oil company responds with another filling station.

"Excuses are always in demand," says the keynote of an editorial. And we had an idea there is always an over-production.

Perhaps it would interest you to know that an elephant's bath requires 150 pounds of soap, even though you never expect to bathe an elephant.

Detroit woman says, says she: "There are more beautiful women in the world than handsome men." What of it? There is no demand for handsome men.

John Philip Sousa believes there is such a thing as artistic snobbery. The March King is not a snob, but he couldn't be criticized for not moving a muscle when the jazz orchestra plays.

Mr. Lodge Improves (Moncton Transcript)

Mathey Lodge, of this city, director of the C. N. R. who was taken ill on the steamer Calgaris while returning on that vessel after a trip to England and Scotland, is in a greatly improved condition, according to word received here by friends in this city yesterday. James Friel, K. C., who returned on the same boat, said this morning that Mr. Lodge had not disembarked from the Calgaris at Quebec, but had gone on to Montreal for medical treatment in that city.

St. Stephen Knights Here.

The St. Stephen Knights of Pythias are paying a fraternal visit to the Fredericton and Marysville Lodges to-night. The meeting is to be held in the Dawson Club rooms in Marysville. G. H. I. Cockburn of St. Stephen will be chairman of the meeting. Tomorrow evening the Fredericton Lodge are leaving for Woodstock where they will put on rank work and on Thursday evening they will travel to St. Stephen for a return visit to the lodge in that town.

At the Windsor

Harry Jackson, Halifax; L. H. Burton, St. John; H. M. Myles, St. John; J. B. Keenan, Halifax; W. D. Steele, Braiside, Ont.; J. H. Oldham, Woodstock; C. R. Forbes, St. Stephen; L. H. McMillan, St. John; H. T. Jones, Blackville; Geo. W. Warnock, Grand Falls; Mrs. Syniengton, Toronto; Mrs. Tomlinson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Post, Inglewood, N. J.; Miss Post, Inglewood, N. J.; H. S. Estabrooks, St. John; C. W. Smith, Pawtucket, R. I.; Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Philadelphia, Pa.; J. T. Cavers, Sackville; H. W. Bradbury, Woodstock; F. R. McMulkin, St. John; N. L. Berry, Zimerick, Me.; Mrs. and Miss H. Whittaker, Zimerick, Me.; F. J. McLaughlin, Zimerick, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McCarthy, Caribou, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Crocker, St. John; Edward Brulien, Bathurst; P. L. Robichaud, St. Paul.

DIED

BARRY—At his home in Durham Bridge June 18th John Barry aged 76 years. Funeral Wednesday morning with High Mass of Requiem at nine o'clock at St. Anthony's Church Devon by Rev. Father Osborne. Interment at Sunny Bank Cemetery.

Something New THE LIDO TOWEL-WRAP

An Attractive Towel and Beach Wrap In One.

J. J. WEDDALL & SON, LTD.

The House where you get Ready-to-Wear that is Satisfactory.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Joseph LeBlanc, of Moncton, is registered at the Barker House today.

A. M. Anderson, of Moncton, is a guest of the Barker today.

J. S. Beaton, of Alymer, Que., is a guest of the Barker today.

D. A. Wood, of Woodside, is among the Barker guests today.

M. E. Agar, M. L. A., is registered at the Barker House today.

Mr. G. W. Warnock, ex-M. L. A. of Grand Falls is a guest at the Windsor Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Keenan of Ottawa are the guests of Mrs. Keenan's parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walker.

NASON'S RESTAURANT

Now occupies Splendid new quarters opposite Valley Motor Company's Garage, Westmorland Street.

Meals and Lunches at all Hours

Special attention given to Visiting Motorists Just Give us a Call.

GET THE TRAINING

Take the advice of the winners, not the losers. A successful business man will inform you that it is necessary for you to have the right practical schooling to forge ahead.

START HERE! BEGIN NOW!

Fredericton Business College FREDERICTON, N. B.

HARRY R. ADAMS

UNDERTAKER and FUNERAL DIRECTOR Complete Equipment Including Motor Hearse

610 QUEEN STREET Fredericton, N. B.

FOR SALE or To Let—The Grieves Farm, Marysville. One of the best situations in York County. Apply to Wm. Grieves, 104 Regent St.

Motor Car Registrations in Canada

Have Practically Doubled Every Two Years, Every Increase Involves More Accidents and a Greater Need for Insurance. Policies covering: Damage to Owners car, Damage to property of others, injuries to Public, Fire and Theft.

HOWARD H. BLAIR

RELIABLE AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE 68 YORK STREET PHONE 291-21

BUCKLEY'S BRONCHITIS MIXTURE

for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, La Grippe, etc. A positive relief. 40 doses in a bottle. 75c.

THE CAPITAL PHARMACY

Successor to J. M. Wiley 94 YORK STREET. PHONE 675

GAIETY

Today and Tuesday

'LADY BE GOOD'

— WITH — Dorothy MacKaill and Jack Mulhall

About a musical comedy! From a musical comedy! With all the music and ten times the comedy! Plus the inimitable acting of the screen's most beloved lovers! A footlight romance that everybody is calling the headliner of comedy-dramas!

A First National Picture.

Comedy — News — Regular Prices

Wednesday — ADOLPHE MENJOU in "SERENADE"

MAKE COOKING TIME FLY.

Don't do the work that electricity can do for you. The timer and temperature control on an electric range eliminates the necessity of oven watching. Electric cooking is clean, safe and economical. You can pay for an electric range as you use it. Ask us about it.

Maritime Electric Company Limited

426 QUEEN ST., FREDERICTON, N. B.