

PITFALLS OF COLLEGE LISTED BY JOHN D. JR.

Nashville, Tenn., June 19—John D. Rockefeller, Jr. expressed the opinion in a commencement address at Fisk university today that large numbers of boys and girls who rush off to the colleges would in all probability make more of their lives if they went into some useful occupation in their home towns.

May Miss Goal

"For after all," he said, "just spending so many years in school or college does not necessarily mean one has gotten an education. On the contrary, during that period one may simply have formed habits of indolence, acquired an unwarranted sense of superiority, or become dissatisfied with the circumstances and environment in which one's lot is cast and in which one is fitted by natural endowment to live."

Education, Mr. Rockefeller believed should fit one to lead a useful, well-rounded life, but he thought it failed of its full purpose unless it fits the individual to live such a life in the environment in which he finds himself.

It is easy to say how useful and well-rounded a life we would live if we were somewhere else," he said. "But education's problems is to fit us to live that kind of life where we are, wherever our lot is cast."

List of Don'ts.

Mr. Rockefeller gave the following list of what he considered not to be the purpose of education:

To cram the mind with dates, facts and figures; to make shrewd lawyers whose chief aim is to make money; to turn out doctors who reckon their success in dollars; to train teachers who think of their profession simply as a way of making a living; to fit men for business life that is sharp, slick, shady; to make artisans and agriculturists whose interests center in even shorter hours, maximum pay, minimum output.

NOTED SIRE DIES

Cygnat, O., June 19—Ortolan Axworthy, the noted standardbred sire owned by the Black Walnut Rancho here, died from an attack of acute indigestion. He was 17 years of age. In addition to being a successful sire Ortolan Axworthy proved a star as a race horse, taking a three year old trotting record of 2.07½.

Among the good race horses he sired are Iva Loo, 2.01½ pacing; Wellworthy 2.03¼ world champion green trotting gelding and holder of the half mile track trotting race record of 2.05¼; Dr. Strongworthy 2.04¼; Sister Ruth, 2.05, who owns

PREDATORY PUBLISHERS ATTACKED

London, June 19—A black list of alleged disreputable publishers who, it is stated, obtain money from unwary authors without ever selling their books has been drawn up by the British Society of Authors, Playwrights and Composers for the guidance of its members.

Such publishers usually obtain their business through advertisements asking for manuscripts and promising to place them. An author who sends his first book will receive an immediate reply telling him that he has written a work that there will be no difficulty in selling.

The letter will go on to say that the cost of publishing is so great that the publisher must ask the author to contribute towards it on a co-operative basis and to share in the profits on the first edition.

A few copies of the book are printed after the author has contributed $500 or $1,000, but there is rarely any profit, and the author never gets his money back.

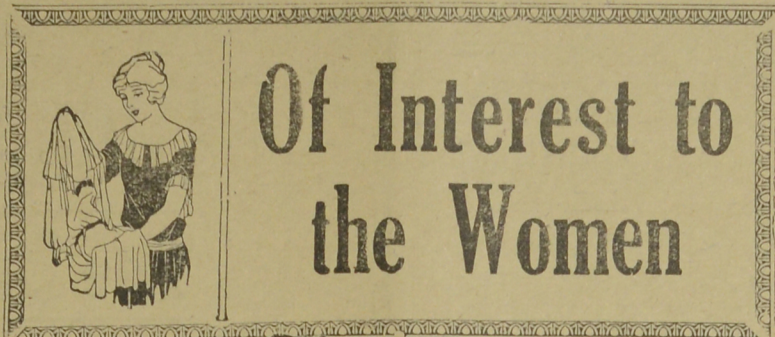

CONTRACT BARS SINGING AT BERLIN DINNER

Berlin, June 19—Fedor Chalapin was willing to do anything that can be expected from an international operatic star except sing when he was entertained by the Berlin Actors' Club during his recent series of guest performances.

After the actors and their invited guests had been introduced and the usual speeches of welcome had been delivered, there was insistent yells for Chalapin. He rose and delivered a talk on the life of an artist. But the speech did not satisfy. "Sing, sing," was shouted from every side. Chalapin now drew a cartoon of himself. It was acclaimed and cheered, but his co-actors continued to call for a song.

Again Chalapin rose. He began to at, but the voice was not forthcoming. He acted a superb pantomime, but his admirers waited in vain for his voice. The artist knew that he was bound by his contract not to sing except on engagement, and he stuck to it even when among his conferees.

the world record of 2.07½ for four-year-old trotting fillies over a half mile track; Orto Manor 2.06 1-2 trotting, and Cub Ortolan 2.07¼ trotting.

COTTON FROCKS

CHIC FOR SUMMER

YOU CAN'T LOSE 'EM OFF

Here's a new idea in earrings guaranteed to withstand the most destructible evening. New earrings are made so as to slip over the lobe of the ear, with a pearl both back and front, and require no screw. The pearl at the back is smaller and it is explained that this arrangement creates a vacuum which holds the earrings firmly in place. These may come in tri-color effects, with the button earring white, the one at the back blue and the pendant in rose color.

DON'T suffer headaches, or any of those pains a tablet of Aspirin can end in a hurry! Physicians prescribe it, and approve its free use, for it does not affect the heart.
