SHARKEY AND RISKOREADY FOR TONIGHT

New York, March 9.—The two final hopes of Tex Rickard for a worthy opponent for Gene Tunney—Jack Sharkey of Boston, and Johnny Risko, the Cleveland Rubberman—trained with the vim of two preliminary boys today for their 15-round set-to in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Snarling and mean clear down to his boxing shoe, Sharkey fought two sparring partners as though they were genuine opponents and they slugged back at him the same way. Several times, handlers of the Boston tar belated him to box, but Sharkey wanted to fight.

Jack Nearly Stops Bogash
Alternating partners a round at a time, Sharkey boxed two rounds with Lou Bogash, Bridgeport light heavyweight, and another pair with Jack Gagnon, heavyweight from his home district.

Bogash caught one right uppercut near the end of his stunt that almost sent him to the showers ahead of time.

The milling became so rough in final round with Gagnon, that the big fellows took pot shots at each other coming out of clinches, a proceeding considered quite untechnical.

Sharkey finished the day with three rounds of bag punching and two skipping rope. He weighed 193½.

Risko, to whom the coming embargo is "just another fight," worked equally as hard but with less vehemence and color. The former doughnut maker, who has "met 'em all and made 'em like it," bounded through four rounds of boxing with both Frank Lennon and Jeff Baulknight, light heavyweight warriors who accompanied him here yesterday from Cleveland.

Risko weighed 193 after two additional rounds at the heavy bag.

SPORT BRIEFS

Dick Rudolph is slated to manage the Waterbury Club of the Eastern League, the Brass city having recovered its apparently lost franchise when plans to reinstate Worcester in the circuit failed to go through.

C. C. Pyle is playing no favorites among his patient plodders. A few of them, better equipped financially than their fellows, had arranged to sleep in comfortable hotels or homes en route East, but the promoter decreed that all, to be eligible for the big prizes, must bunk with the other contestants in the tents which he had provided.

Dr. Peltzer soon will be back in Germany, not heavily laden with non-ors won on American tracks, but doubtless with a fund of data on how the sport is conducted in this country, which may be of great value to his home land in its extensive preparations for the Olympic games.

None of the first ten, no foreign stars entered in the national indoor tennis tournament at New York.

HOLDOUTS ARE SIGNING UP

Atlanta, March 9.—Major League baseball managers were attempting to "goose step" a few late veterans and tardy contract signers into line, the conditioning season having reached the stage where all hands are needed for work.

At the Cincinnati Reds' camp at Orlando, Manager Jack Hendricks planned to call upon C. J. McDiarmid, club president, in an effort to hasten the signing of Carl Mays and Pete Donohue, pitchers.

Bob Mense, outfielder, arrived at the St. Petersburg quarters of the New York Yankees, today while Earl Combs, outfielder, and Waite Hoyt, holdout pitcher, are expected Sunday.

Al Simmons has reached the Philadelphia Athletics' camp at Fort Myers, while Ty Cobb is still drilling at Augusta, Ga., taking a turn around the field after the New York Giants retire. Cobb weighed 191 today after a road jaunt.

Five of the ten clubs training in Florida went through exhibition games today, the others continuing routine drills for coming games.

Not golf, but ocean swimming, worried Manager Dan Howley at the West Palm Beach camp of the St. Louis Browns. Howley ordered no more surf bathing because of the blistered backs suffered by some of the players.

The Red Legs played a nine-inning practice game today as did the Brooklyn Robins at Clearwater, Fla., and the Giants at Augusta.

The Yankees play their first practice game tomorrow with Babe Ruth scheduled to hold down first base for the Yanigans.

Combs, Yankee outfielder, left Richmond, Ky., today to join the squad. He has kept in condition on his farm this winter.

Chick Hafey, outfielder, reported to the St. Louis Cardinals today at Avon Park.

BASEBALL

Avon Park, Fla., March 9.—Pitcher Fred Frankhouse scored the run which won his own ball game for the St. Louis Cardinals against the Washington Senators today, 6 to 5.

Fort Meyers, Fla., March 9.—The Philadelphia Athletics suffered 14 to 4 defeat at the hands of the Baltimore Internationals today.

The Baltimore team pounded three Mackmen pitchers for 17 hits and took advantage of the Athletic's five errors.

Tris Speaker, recently signed by Manager Connie Mack, roamed center field for five innings and made a single and drew a base on balls on tree trips to the plate.

CUB HURLERS IN WORKOUT

Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., March 9.—A batting and pitching drill kept the Chicago Cubs busy for two hours under the hot sun this morning. Blake, Nehf, and Root worked on the mound and batsmen who faced them had little success.

Manager Joe McCarthy, after the three had paraded their offerings, said they were ready to go a full round if needed, and are in the pink of condition.

It was a hot morning for those members of the Cubs squad who are a bit overweight and who are wearing rubber shirts to take off excess poundage. Hack Wilson, outfielder; Gabby Hartnett, catcher, and Fred Maguire, infielder, form the rubber-shirted brigade. The Cubs had another practice round this afternoon.

PINK STOCKINGS FOR SAFETY WOMAN SAYS

London, March 10.—Pink or white stockings for men pedestrians is the latest suggestion in the "safety-first" campaign here. It is due to that gay octogenarian, Dame Millicent Fawcett, who, not content with expressing admiration for the "long-legged, pink-stockinged girl of to-day," urges the adoption of the same kind of hosiery for men's wear.

In the case of men, however, it is for protective purposes only. The pink or white stockings is to serve the same purpose as the rear lamp in vehicular traffic.

THE ABSENT MINDED PROF. LAFFS LAST

Chicago, March 9.—The absent-minded professor saved himself $75 last night by being that way.

Kidnapped by two men, taken for a ride down a dark alley and then searched for valuables, Prof. Arthur E. Holt of the University of Chicago, divinity school was found to have only 50 cents in his pockets.

Freed by the disgusted robbers, Prof. Holt reported the hold-up to police.

"I withdrew $75 from the bank today," he said, "but when I left home I forgot to take it with me."

WOODSTOCK GIRL LOST HER LIFE IN A WELL

Woodstock, March 9.—A very sad accident happened at Lindsay, Carleton county, Thursday afternoon of this week, when little Clara Faye, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Biggs, lost her life through drowning in an old well.

The little girl had been playing in the yard. Her mother missed her and noticed Clara's sled near the site of an old well some distance from the house. Mrs. Biggs hurried to the spot and found the snow crust caved in. Mr. Biggs was working at a mill quite a distance away and before assistance could be secured it was too late to save the little girl's life.

ARE NOW "TRADERS."

London, March 10.—Costermongers are no longer costermongers. They have chosen to be known as street traders. And the "Street Traders Ball" was the official name of the function at which they entertained the Duke and Duchess of York which in the past was known as the "Costers Ball."

BABE GETS HIS PENBACK AGAIN

Menominee, Mich., March 9.—Babe Ruth's fountain pen found recently in the coal bin of Gus Dittmore was lost late last August on the St. Louis and New York train, Ruth says in a letter to Dittmore from St. Petersburg, Fla. The pen has been inscribed and presented the Bambino by the Boy Scouts of Burlington, Ia., last summer.

Babe believes the pen was whisked from his coat pocket into the coal car when his train and the coal train passed. The coal in which the pen was found was mined in Virginia, and shipped by rail to Toledo, O., by boat to Menominee. In return for the pen, Dittmore will receive an autographed baseball.

N. S. EDITOR HAS PHONE TALK WITH LONDON

Halifax, March 11.—Telephone communication on a commercial basis between Nova Scotia and England was inaugurated today when W. H. Dennis, Halifax correspondent of the London Times, talked with the editor of the Times in London. Following the conversation, remarkable for the clearness of transmission, the following cablegram was received from the London Times by Mr. Dennis.

"We much appreciated receiving the first commercial call from Nova Scotia which we heard perfectly here, on new Halifax-England service from the Halifax Herald. This service is yet another contribution to co-operation and understanding. Cordial greetings to you and all members of the Halifax Herald staff, with every good wish for the future."

Mr. Dennis, it was recalled here today was aboard the first airplane to fly from Nova Scotia to New York in 1919.

DAY IS SECOND LONGER EVERY 1,000 CENTURIES

London, March 10.—Old Grandmother Earth is getting just a little more sunshine in her life as Old Father Time clicks off the revolving centuries. It isn't a great deal, in the sunshine and daylight measurements as reckoned by puny man, but in her time it may amount to quite a lot.

Sir Farnk Dyson, astronomer-royal at Greenwich Observatory, has calculated that the days are lengthening at the rate of something like one second every 1,000 centuries.

In a lecture on "The Observation of the Solar Eclipse," Sir Frank explained how the eclipse in Nineveh in 753 B. C. enabled astronomers to discover the speed of the rotation of the earth was gradually being reduced.

Halley's calculations of the eclipse in Nineveh showed that that city should have been some hundreds of miles outside the zone of observation. To make his calculation fit the facts, he suggested that the month was getting longer, and subsequent work had shown that the movement of the tides was lengthening the day by a thousandth part of a second each century.

DROP BISCUITS.

2 cups whole wheat flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons fat
3-4 cup milk
1-2 cup cut dates or nuts or raisins, may be added.

Mix the dry ingredients and cut in the fat. Add the milk, mixing so as to incorporate every particle. This is stiffer than the usual drop mixture but can be dropped on to the baking sheet with a spoon. Bake in a hot oven.

WHY IS THIS WRONG?

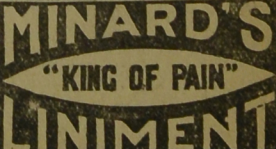

It is unwise to guess the weight of a letter to determine the amount of postage required. Such guessing often results in "Postage Due," which may cause delay in delivery, and, in the case of business letters, often results in a dissatisfied customer.

Removes Warts

"ENGLISHWOMAN" writes to the Montreal Star:

"I read a letter in your paper asking for a remedy for warts, and as I found one that took an ugly one off the side of my forehead I will give it to you. I had a bottle of Minard's Liniment in the house that I use for rheumatism, and casually reading directions I saw it was a good thing for corns and warts, so being so simple I tried it. Just dab it on with the cork two or three times a day letting it dry on. Well it all went away in about two weeks, dried up and came off by degrees."

"Another also appeared on my cheek not so large, but I applied the same remedy and could pick it off like the other."
