FITTING OBSERVANCE IN CAPITAL OF ARMISTICE DAY; MANY FEATURES

Service at Cenotaph Sunday Morning Very Impressive—Dean Neale's Address—Large Crowd Attends—Placing of Wreaths—Churches Hold Appropriate Services—Canadian Legion Decorate Graves of Comrades.

Sunday, Armistice Day, the tenth anniversary of the close of the gigantic World War, was fittingly observed in this city with commemoration services by practically all the local organizations. The church services were appropriate to the occasion and some stirring addresses were heard in all the local churches in both Sunday services. The music furnished by the choirs was fitting to the observance and patriotic airs and hymns charged the atmosphere of the numerous and various celebrations throughout the day.

Perhaps the most interesting observance was the ceremonial which took place at the cenotaph in the morning. Organizations from all over the city attended; there being present, choirs, members of the various orders, Canadian Legion members who marched to the cenotaph in a body, and representatives of the various other organizations.

The Mayor's Address.

The cenotaph program commenced at 10.30 o'clock, and was opened with a few brief remarks from His Worship Mayor Clark, which were:

Fellow Citizens:

On this the tenth anniversary of Armistice day we meet in remembrance of our heroic dead.

Let us see to it that the sacrifices of our valiant sons have given us such a conviction against war that never again will that great conflict be repeated but rather determine that the strong arm of our mighty Empire shall ever be for peace.

Rev. Mr. Telford.

Following the Mayor's speech, the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past" was sung by the assembly and prayer was said by Rev. George Telford. Sergeant Major Augustus Fowler read the list of one hundred and nine names of those who gave their lives in the great conflict from this city. The address given by Very Rev. Dean Neales was a stirring one and he spoke in part as follows:

We are met together here beneath this granite shaft, to bear in mind and to honour in the sight of God the memory of those brave men who in the days of the Great War laid down their lives in our behalf—in the defence of home, of country, of kindred and of friends.

Their names are inscribed upon the tablet below and have just been reverently read out by one who was their comrade in arms throughout that great and terrible war—which came to an end ten years ago today!

There, at the eleventh hour, of the eleventh day, of the eleventh month, in 1918 upon the battle field the armistice was signed and the fighting ceased. And when the clock in the Cathedral tower strikes the 11th hour we will bow our heads in reverent silence and thanking God for the blessings of peace, will commend once more the souls of those brave men to God in whose eternal keeping they are safe!

For "the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die; and their departure is taken for misery, and their going from us to be utter destruction; but they are in peace. For though they be punished in the sight of man, yet is their hope full of immortality."

Greatly Rewarded.

And having been a little chastised they shall be greatly rewarded, for God proved them and found them worthy for Himself. As gold in the furnace hath He tried them and received them as a burnt offering. . . . Such as be faithful in love, shall abide with His.

And were they not "faithful in love"? "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." They laid down their lives for us, and today we honour them sacrifice joining it by faith to the one great and eternal sacrifice of God's incarnate Son upon Calvary's tree, by which this offering is sanctified—but how shall we show forth our love and gratitude? Surely by striving in every way to prove ourselves more worthy of what has been done for us, banishing from our lives all mean and selfish things and endeavoring to do for others especially the unfortunate and under privileged all that in our power lies.

Wreaths Placed.

The hymn "Abide With Me" was sung by the large assembly present and was immediately followed by the solemn proceedings of placing the various wreaths about the cenotaph. The wreaths placed were as follows:

Provincial Government—Mr. C. D. Richards.

The Legion—Past President C. L. Dougherty.

28th Battery—Sergeant Major A. Fowler.

Provincial Chapter Daughters of the Empire—Mrs. H. F. McLeod.

Governor Carleton Chapter—Mrs. G. C. VanWart.

Victor Hatheway—Mrs. Kenneth McAdam.

Anagwakade—Miss Bertha Harvey.

Picardy Chapter—Mrs. F. G. VanWart.

The Women's Institute—Mrs. H. A. Robinson.

The Pythian Sisters—Mrs. William Johnson, Past Grand Chief.

Mrs. J. McAdam, in memory of her sons—Mr. James A. McAdam.

Mr. C. J. Smith and family by Miss Dorothy Smith and Mr. Donald Smith.

In memory of William Smith by J. Bebbington and family.

At exactly eleven o'clock the two minutes of silence was observed and was followed by the sounding of "The Last Post" by Bugler Seymour Tyler. The benediction was pronounced by Very Rev. Dean Neales, and the sounding of the "Reveille" and the singing of the National Anthem concluded the service at the cenotaph. The cenotaph program was completed in time to allow everyone to attend the church services which were very impressive.

Church Services.

The pastors in the churches took as their theme, Armistice Day, and each church placed a wreath in its own memorial to the honored dead of that church. The usual two minutes silence was observed at exactly eleven o'clock. The majority of the services combined the Armistice service with Thanksgiving and the music of course was appropriate to both.

Rev. Dr. Bryce of Toronto, Ont., was the speaker at the St. Paul's united church. Both services of this church were broadcast through station CFNB. An organ recital was given by Prof. H. W. Sparrow at the close of the evening service at the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

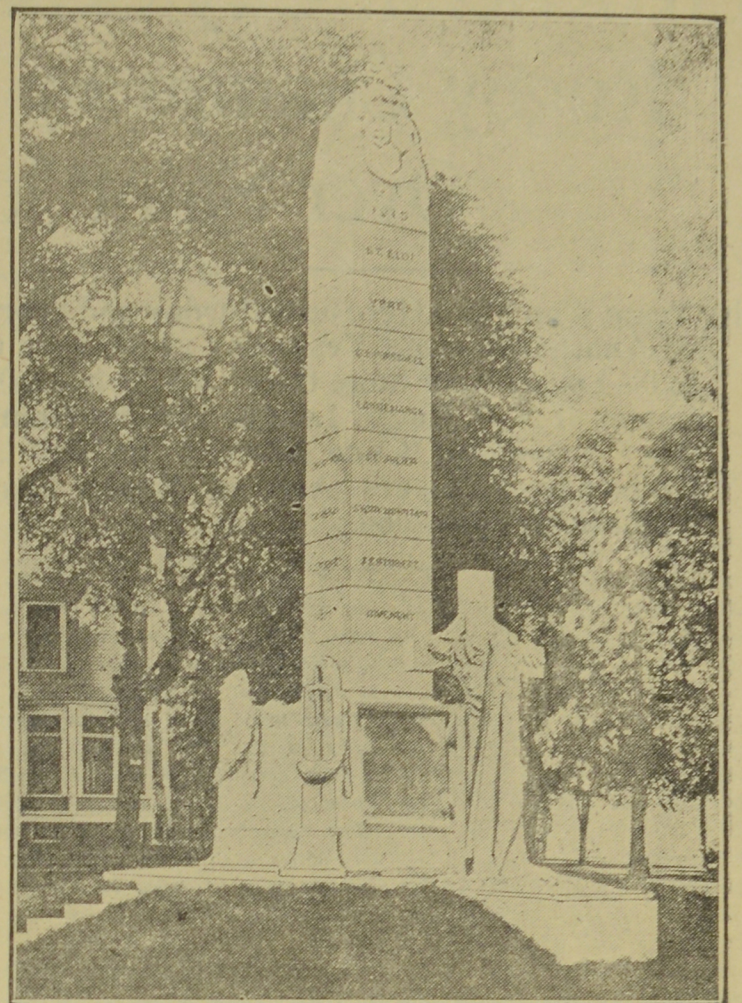

Grave Decorations.

The members of the Canadian Legion marched from the cenotaph Memorial service to the cemeteries at eleven o'clock and took part in the decorations of the graves of their departed comrades. The graves decorated were as follows:

Rural Cemetery—Nursing Sister, Millicent Lister, Morris Grace, Charles Stevenson, Percy Edgecombe, J. Turner, Albert Morris, George McKee, Peter Shaw, Royden Allen, H. D. Appeal Court.

The November term of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court opened this morning with Chief Justice Hazen and Justices White and Grimmer presiding. Several common motions were made at the opening session and this afternoon the docket was taken up. The cases entered on the appeal paper include Dunphy vs. Phillips et al., and Noble et al. vs. Phillips, actions for trespass appeal from York County.

Received Sad News

The sad news of the death of Mrs. Gertrude MacAllister, wife of Irvine MacAllister, head of the MacAllister Drug Company of Calais, Me., was received in this city by Robert R. Riley, at his home in 319 Queen Street yesterday. The late Mrs. MacAllister is survived by a sister, Mrs. B. A. Shorten, of St. Stephen and a brother of Eastport, Me. Another sister of Minneapolis also survives.

We are all essentially human, and even the most hard-boiled man prefers a candid to a candid opinion of himself.

Hermitage—David Lifford, William Lawlor, D. J. Cass, John Bennett.

Old Burial Ground—Nursing Sister, Payne Sills.

Forest Hill Cemetery—Col. H. F. McLeod, George Clyneck, Charles Banks, Frank Sherman.

LIQUOR CONTROL LAW IS UPHELD AT OTTAWA

tion for release of the defendant under Habeas Corpus, ruling that the conviction had been made under a provincial act and jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Canada did not apply. J. J. F. Winslow, K. C., of Fredericton, counsel for Doherty, then carried his application to the full bench of the Supreme Court of Canada, and it was heard at Ottawa this morning, and dismissed, as stated above.

An Important Case.

The case is regarded as important as the final move in a test of the contention that the Canada Temperance Act, a Federal measure, is in force in the County of York and has never been displaced by the New Brunswick Liquor Act. The Crown's contention has been that the New Brunswick Liquor Act is in effect throughout the entire Province and has superseded the Canada Temperance Act and all other such Acts. This contention was upheld by the Supreme Court of New Brunswick and has now been upheld by the Supreme Court of Canada also.

We often wonder how Atlas would have been at carrying out ashes.

Wedding of Local Interest

A wedding of more than ordinary interest to people in this locality took place yesterday afternoon at St. John, when Miss Helen Mary Farrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farrell, of this city was united in marriage to Thomas Miles Boyd, also of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. A. S. Rogers at the Centenary Church personage of St. John and was witnessed by immediate friends of the bride and groom. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Porter of this city. The bride and groom are very popular in this city and their many friends will learn with interest of their wedding. The groom is a partner of the firm of Farrell & Boyd, local dry goods merchants of this city. The happy couple have left on an auto trip to places in this province and the United States and upon their return will reside in this city.

McCall Editor Hunting

Otis L. Weise, editor of McCall's Magazine, and his brother A. O. Weise both of New York city, arrived in this city during the weekend from a hunting trip on the southwestern Miramichi. The two well known men were successful in securing one bear and four deer for their share of the spoil. They were guided by William T. Griffin, president of the Fish and Game Association. While in the woods the party sighted twelve moose but did not shoot any. The return journey was broken up by a delightful canoe trip which took in about two miles of the Miramichi. The two New York men left for their homes soon after their arrival here.

The Stock Market.

Considerable profit taking feature both the New York and Montreal stock markets this morning. In New York on Saturday C. P. R. sold up to 238½, but eased off towards the close. Today International Nickel was quite firm at 197.
