BAPTISTS TOLD LIQUORS ARE A MENACE

Speaker at Western Association Meeting Speaks of Danger of Alcohol—Election of Officers.

At the evening session of the Western Baptist Association, held in Devon last night, Rev. D. J. MacPherson gave a unique, informative address supplemented by the use of charts picturing the effect of intoxicating liquors upon the human system. From an economical point of view, the speaker showed that the turning of barley, grapes, etc., into liquor is a tremendous waste in food values. The commonly accepted view that liquor is a stimulant is false. It only appears to be a stimulant. The effect is a deceptive weakening of control.

Religious Education

Describing religious education as "putting education into religion," Rev. Waldo C. Machum, Representative of the Maritime Boy's Work Board, presented the need in this day for carefully directed religious training. Mr. Machum said that the boy and girl of today were much neglected, but were gradually coming to be recognized as religion's greatest asset if they are wisely trained. Definite periods in the life of growing children were pointed out, characterized by loyalty ideals, love of the heroic, and desires for tasks calling for self-deal and self-sacrifice. It was asserted that there existed a great deal of sentimental agreement in regard to the need for better child-training in all the earlier years of life, but there is lack of and need for specific application of energy of parents and teachers to these great problems. Large emphasis was laid upon the need of very carefully graded Sunday School lessons arranged to suit the various ages of the pupils from infants to adults. Attention was called to the Summer School of Methods to be held in Chipman, N. B. Aug 8 to 18.

BOY SUSPECTS ARE RELEASED FROM CUSTODY

Officers Satisfied They Were Not in St. Stephen the Night Beaugeard Was Killed.

St. Stephen, June 13—Edward Buzzell and Payson Flemming, two boys aged 17 and 18, who were detained at Calais last night in connection with the death of William Beaugeard, who died after being assaulted and robbed Saturday night, were released this morning after satisfied police officers that they were not connected with the crime.

Sergeant Howard of the Provincial Police, arrived here early this morning from Saint John, and in company with Marshal Hill, of St. Stephen, and Marshal Kerr, of Calais, interviewed the boys separately. Their stories agreed, both having said they were in Harrington, Maine, on Saturday night, and that they had gone to a theatre there and also to the sheriff at Harrington to find a place to spend the night. Marshal Hill got in touch with Deputy Sheriff White, of Harrington, who verified the statement made by the boys.

He said two young men had come to him for a night's lodging and that he had directed them. Someone had given them a dollar and they spent some of this and had gone to a picture show. The sheriff said he knew of them being in the theatre at 9 o'clock Atlantic Standard time, Saturday night.

Officers Satisfied

Officers Hill and Howard were satisfied that these men were not in town Saturday night, and they were released. Neither one of the boys seem to be alarmed over their predicament and were willing to come across the border if necessary. Other arrests are looked for in a very short time.

Funeral Large

The funeral of Mr. Beaugeard was held this morning at 9.30 o'clock and was very largely attended. All retail business was suspended for one hour. Rev. W. C. Coucher, of the Baptist church, conducted the services at the house. A large number followed the remains to Eastport, including the K. of P. Lodge members of St. Stephen, under whose auspices the funeral was held. Several cars came up, while the main body of the Eastport Lodge met the funeral cortege at the toll bridge outside of Eastport.

Buzzell and Flemming were brought in last evening from Kingman to Calais and were locked in the Calais jail.

The men were brought to Calais by Officer Cleghorn who, with a Calais officer and two others, drove through yesterday in search of them.

BITTERNESS SHOWN OVER PRAYER BOOK

Members of the House All Taking the Matter Very Seriously.

THE CABINET IS DIVIDED

Religious Antagonisms Akin to the Days of Persecution.

(Special to the Daily Mail by the British United Press.)

London, June 14—The earnestness with which the House of Commons regards the new prayer book and even the bitterness of personal feeling among those who are usually political friends, are features of the debate over the revised edition of the book of common prayer.

The cabinet along the front benches presents a strange appearance owing to the fact that the pros and cons run alternatively.

While the debate was conducted in a reverent atmosphere, there ran throughout religious antagonisms which were more akin to the days of persecution and burnings at the stake than to modern times.

Incident Took Place a Month Ago But Has Just Been Made Public—Young Korean Threw a Dagger at the Prince's Chauffeur—First Swallowed Poison But Was Brought Around.

(Special to The Daily Mail by the British United Press.)

SPOKE ON THE IMPORTANCE WEST. MISSIONS

Rev. W. B. Crowell and Rev. Henri Lancon were the two speakers at this morning's session of the annual meeting of the Western Baptist Association, held in the South Devon Baptist Church. Mr. Crowell spoke on Canadian Western missions from a statistical point of view; and compared immigration from Great Britain with immigration from other European countries. The ratio was 4 to 3. He showed that a larger percentage of foreign element was in our population. These, immigrants, Mr. Crowell said, were a poorer type of citizen and emigration from our own country has taken away more good citizens than immigration has brought in, which tends to a lowering of Canadian ideas. The speaker stated that western missions were fully justified if we were to maintain our Canadian ideals and religious democracy.

Rev. Henri Lancon, in his address, described the pioneer work of Madame Feller in Quebec; set forth the nature of her work in that region and the far reaching results. He also gave a description of his own efforts in the lumber mills as colporteur and as missionary pastor in Connors, N. B. In closing he stressed the need for religious training among the French Canadians who are protestant in their outlook.

HEY, WHAT'S UP NOW IT'S AN ORNITHOPTER!

St. Augustine, Fla., June 14—A huge, wing-flapping ornithopter, propelled by foot power, soared over the beach here yesterday, gaining gaining speed on the automobile which towed it for the take-off.

For 200 feet the air machine, constructed by Capt. George White, of New York, flew above the car, its wings flapping in ponderous manner.

On a return trip a wooden elevator control broke, necessitating minor repairs. Capt. White said he would endeavor to take the machine from the ground without the aid of an automobile with the first favorable head winds.

TOY BALLOON CAUSES DEATH OF A CHILD

St. John, June 14—Strangled by a toy circus balloon, which became lodged in her throat while playing in front of the home of her uncle, W. C. Hannah, 19 Cannon street, little Joyce Dykeman, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Percy Dykeman, of Boston, formerly of this city, died while being conducted to the General Public Hospital, Wednesday evening. It was the second time within one week that death visited the home, for on Friday last Mrs. Dykeman and her little daughter came from Boston, to attend the funeral of her father, Thomas Hannah, who passed away suddenly last Wednesday at the home of his son.

The tragic incident occurred about 7 o'clock, while the members of the family were gathered about the front doorstep, watching the tot playing happily with the balloon which she had purchased at a circus parade that afternoon.

Stumbling on the sidewalk, the little girl, in falling, inhaled the balloon which she held in her mouth. Unable to speak, she rushed to her mother with outstretched arms. The family gathered about her, but finding their efforts useless, rushed her to the hospital in an automobile, owned by John Hannah, brother of the late Thomas Hannah, who was visiting at the home at the time.

Upon reaching the hospital the balloon was soon removed from the throat by Doctors R. M. Pendrigh, D. W. Buchanan and W. H. Gavsie, who was called in on consultation, but it was found that death occurred before she reached the institution.

The mother of the little girl collapsed when she first became aware of the critical condition of her only child.
