JACK DELANEY WILL NOT TRAIN IN NEW YORK

Is In Training Now at Bridgeport—Preparing for Heeney Battle March 1—Weighs 185.

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 23—Jack Delaney, who meets Tom Heeney of New Zealand in the first of Tex Rickard's heavyweight eliminations on March 1, today refused to shift his training quarters to New York, and commenced heavy training in his rickety little gym here.

The Rapier of the North went through 12 rounds of work, four of which consisted of rapid-fire fighting with Pietro Corri of Belgium. Two rounds each were spent on the light and heavy bags, three on rope skipping and one on calisthenics. The eight-heavyweight champion weighed slightly more than 185 pounds when he completed the drill and was breathing normally.

Starting tomorrow he will work out only before his manager and newspapermen, his many friends in the city being barred because of the small gym.

"We are not making the workouts secret, but the place is so small that Jack must have breathing space," Joe Jacobs, his newly-acquired pilot said in announcing the plans. At times several hundred followers of Delaney pack the little gym and he hardly has space in which to work.

Despite the smallness of the gym, Delaney refused to heed the pleas of Jacobs to shift his activities to New York. "I want to be home and this little place has been good enough for me before. It should be good enough now," Jack asserted.

Delaney's right hand played an important part in his workout. Corri fought on the style affected by Heeney and Delaney found him an easy mark for crushing rights to the jaw. Punishing left hooks also found their mark and Corri was bleeding from the nose and lips when the four rounds of sparring ended.

Jack hopes to weigh in the vicinity of 180 pounds when he steps into the ring next week, he said today.

PIRATES ARRIVE

Donie Bush Expects Pirates to be Expert in 1928

Paso Robles, Calif., Feb. 23—The vanguard of the Pittsburgh Pirates, including 15 pitchers and four catchers, arrived at the Spring training camp today to prepare for baseball's 1928 season.

Manager Donie Bush and treasurer Sam Y. Dreyfuss headed the party, and the manager incidentally expressed the belief that his club this year would repeat its sensational performance of last year in the National League. The Chicago and New York clubs will be the ones to fear, he said.

Other members of the Pirate team are scheduled to report next week. Manager Bush said he would work his men hard to get them in shape for exhibition games in California.

Guide—Now this is the furnace room. See the big roaring fires—what's that?

Smith—Is it all right if I smoke?

Madam—Why did you leave your last place?

Cook—Because the lady asked me that question.

PUBLICITY FOR PROVINCE IN GREAT BRITAIN

The Province of New Brunswick is now represented in the Canadian Natural Resources and Industrial Notes which are sent out regularly from the Natural Resources and Industrial Information Bureau connected with the office of the High Commissioner of Canada, in London.

Through the Bureau of Provincial Information at Fredericton, press bulletins regarding development and industrial progress in the province of New Brunswick are prepared and forwarded to the Natural Resource and Industrial Information Bureau connected with the office of the High Commissioner for Canada. The Province of New Brunswick is the only province which is preparing press bulletins for publication in Great Britain through this source and thus taking advantage of the service provided by the office of the High Commissioner for Canada in London.

The bulletin issued under date of February 10th, copies of which have just been received in the last English mail, include announcements respecting an article under the following caption, "Another Pulp Mill for New Brunswick" which tells of the decision of the Fraser Companies, Ltd., to spend $2,000,000 on the establishment of a mechanical pulp and paper mill at Edmundston and that before the end of 1928 wood pulp and paper board will be produced at this new plant. The article tells of the other plans of the Fraser Companies for expansion in New Brunswick and states that announcements of other pulp and paper mills in New Brunswick are likely to follow in the near future.

The object of this publicity is to awaken an interest in the Province of New Brunswick on the part of the British public and to show investors that development of the natural resources of this Province offers a profitable field for the investment of capital.

LLOYD STERLING LEAVES WITH BOSTON SQUAD

Boston, Feb. 22—A fair-sized crowd of baseball enthusiasts and friends was at the South Station at 9 yesterday morning to bid God-speed and good-bye to Pres. Bob Quinn, Manager Bill Carrigan, Secretary James R. Price and other members of the Red Sox advance guard, now speeding towards the training camp at Bradenton, Fla.

Five players were included in the party, pitchers Stoker of Arlington, MacFayden of Somerville, Jack Wilson and Lloyd Stirling of St. John, N. B., and catcher Ed. Doherty of Woburn, ex Holy Cross star.

Dr. W. R. Ross of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. John Igoe, also of this city, and George Murphy, Jim McDonough, Larry Couillard and Dan Wellehan, all of Lewiston, and newspapermen, completed the party.

LONDON FLIGHT MADE BY THE FLYING HORSE

(New York Sun.)

Paris, Feb. 23—The stories about Pegasus, the flying horse, told school children, may be abt exaggerated. Possibly he enjoyed a little promenade through the clouds. But it can be stated with accuracy that the only other horse that has flown since Pegasus doesn't think it so much. If you were to ask him about it all that you would get would be a neigh.

It made him sick—not once but three times.

And he knew it would from the start. In fact, he would never have flown at all had it not been for the efforts of 900 horses, six baggage smashers, and the Hamm Brothers. Do not forget the Hamm Brothers.

The horse's name is Phantom—and he does his stuff in the circus and on the vaudeville stage, with the assistance of his mistress, Betty Rand. She decided it would not be exactly bad for business of Phantom took a short flight over London, thereby earning the distinction of being the first horse since mythological times to take the air. The Hamm Brothers are a pair of cowboy entertainers who came to Paris with the Legion, and have stayed on, despite Paris pickpockets.

Betty decided that the Hamm, being cowboys, might be of some comfort to Phantom on his trip through the clouds. So Betty, Phantom, and the Hamm, with their cornet and accorion, journeyed out to Le Bourget. The Air Union had remodelled a baggage compartment into a stall.

Photographers and reporters were there. After everything was set, the Hamm struck up "Would that I were a Nightingale" on their two-man brass band. Phantom was to take this cue and march aboard while cameras clicked. But he refused to move.

Three hours later the Hamm tied Phantom's feet together, mobilized the baggage smashers, and lifted the proud beast bodily into his compartment. The engines roared and the plane took off for London. Phantom became sick three times but otherwise had a good crossing. The Hamm held his head.

TAY PAY TO PAY A VISIT TO AMERICA

London, Feb. 22—T. P. O'Connor, veteran member of Parliament, left London today for Southampton, from which port he will sail to New York on the liner Berengaria. He is making the trip for his health.

Before leaving Mr. O'Connor said that he still sticks to his decision as censor in banning the film "Dawn" which depicts the career of Edith Cavell, British nurse executed in Belgium during the war. He stated that he had received thousands of letters approving his stand.

SPORT BRIEFS

Overton was one of the unfortunate really great athletes who has competed in the I. C. A. A. A. meet and failed to win a first place, his two cross-country victories being his outstanding performances. None will forget that relay thriller at the B. A. A. meet in 1916 when William J. Bingham nosed out Overton at the tape or how in the I. C. A. A. A. mile at the Stadium that Spring the Blue star set a near-distance record pace for three-quarters of the distance only to falter and see Windgale of Cornell grab the victory in 4m. 15s.

One idea of sport meetings which are not competitions is met completely by the way the Toronto grads alkied off with the Olympic hockey title.

The eastern dog club show seems to be more attractive each year. A dog lover can put in hours in a most pleasant way looking over the fine collection benched at Mechanic's Building in the show opening yesterday.

Pluck is a quality that always wins admiration, so a lot of sport lovers are pulling for Mrs. E. P. Ricker, of Poland Spring to make a good showing in the Quebec dog derby where she is matching skill as a musher against 16 of the greatest drivers in the trail.

Well the Tribe is at work and Red Sox are on their way South. Now smile you baseball rooter, smile!

Fred Mitchell probably won't worry much about the Yale series this year since Frank Cutts, who has stepped the Blue four times, as a relief man, is still available.

BASEBALL

BALL PLAYERS WIN SUIT

Chicago, Feb. 22—Another baseball scandal, nearly six years old, has at last been legally squelched. The suit of Sammy Bohne and Pat Duncan, former Cincinnati Reds, for libel because of published insinuations that they had been approached by New York gamblers, was decided in their favor yesterday by Federal Judge Walter Lindley. He instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of $50 damages each for the two players against Collyer's Eye, a Chicago publication.

When the players' attorney stated the two athletes wanted only vindication and not damages, the case was quickly closed.

Bohne and Duncan are now members of the Minneapolis American Association team.

Boston, Feb. 22—Rogers Hornsby has taken over in an active way the preferred post of field captain of the Boston Braves, according to reports from the spring camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., and to cement matters the rajah and Jack Slattery, new pilot of Judge Fuch's warriors, have become roommates.

Hornsby got in a little practice yesterday and announced that he felt great. "It will take me about ten days to limber up," he announced.

New York, Feb. 22—Wilcey Moore, the "sinker ball" expert, has signed a two year contract with the New York Yankees.

It was generally believed that Moore was given a substantial increase over the $5,000 dollar salary he got last year when he left the American League in effectiveness, allowing 2.28 earned runs per game.

WHY IS THIS WRONG?

It is unwise to guess the weight of a letter to determine the amount of postage required. Such guessing often results in "Postage Due," which may cause delay in delivery and, in the case of business letters often results in a dissatisfied customer.

Removes Warts

"ENGLISH WOMAN" writes to the Montreal Star:

"I read a letter in your paper asking for a remedy for warts, and as I found one that took an ugly one off the side of my forehead I will give it to you. I had a bottle of Minard's Liniment in the house that I use for rheumatism, and casually reading directions I saw it was a good thing for corns and warts, so being so simple I tried it. Just dab it on with the cork two or three times a day letting it dry up. Well it all went away in about two weeks, dried up and came off by degrees."

"Another also appeared on my cheek not so large, but I applied the same remedy and could pick it off like the other."
