A FINE MEETING.

Notwithstanding very unfavorable weather an audience of nearly two thousand people which included electors from every parish of the constituency of York-Sunbury, greeted Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the Conservative party, at the Arctic Rink on Saturday evening. It was undoubtedly one of the finest political meetings ever held in this city. The audience was not only large but very attentive, and the well considered utterances of the Conservative leader, dealing with the economic problems which face the Canadian people, were listened to with the closest attention. While all who heard Hon. Mr. Bennett are not of his political faith the entire audience must have recognized that his views are those of a man of the people, who has achieved success and distinction in Canada and is well qualified to give advice and direction to his fellow citizens. The utterances of the Conservative leader bore the stamp of genuine sincerity, and those who listened to him must be convinced that he accepted the leadership of his party from a high sense of duty and that his sole object is to render service to Canada by seeking to better the conditions of life in this great country. Hon. Mr. Bennett in more ways than one has proved himself to be a great Canadian, and the Conservative party has been most fortunate in securing a man of his ability to guide its destinies.

Other speakers at the meeting here on Saturday were Mr. R. B. Hanson, M.P., and Miss Mildred Bennett, sister of the Conservative leader. Miss Bennett was presented with a beautiful bouquet by Mrs. H. F. McLeod on behalf of the Conservative women of York-Sunbury and acknowledged the gift in suitable terms. Her brief address in which she stressed the importance of the women of Canada interesting themselves in public affairs, was well received by the audience. Mr. Hanson spoke with his usual vigor and took advantage of the opportunity to thank the electors of York-Sunbury for the splendid endorsement which they gave him in the election of 1926. He made reference to the Duncan report, declared that the Conservative members of the House of Commons were unanimously pledged to carry out every one of its recommendations in the event of his being returned to power. Mr. Hanson's remarks were well received by the large audience.

The radio, one of the wonders of the age, did duty in connection with the meeting of Saturday night, the speeches having been broadcast from station C. N. F. B., and reports from outlying points indicate that the service was all that could be desired.

Hon. Mr. Bennett and his charming sister certainly made a decided hit with the people of Fredericton and it is to be hoped that in the not too distant future they will find an opportunity for a return visit.

LIKES HIS JOB

The other day a man in New York, holding a position which pays him forty or fifty dollars a week, received word that he had been left a fortune of two million dollars by some distant relative from whom he had not heard for many years. Asked if he intended to quit work he said: "No; as soon as the estate is settled I'm coming back here. I like my job." That man is not only a millionaire but a philosopher. Money is highly desirable, but it is not the most important thing in the world. Nearly everybody likes a loaf occasionally, but few normal men can do it constantly and be happy. The man to be envied is the one who has a job that is congenial, and is making decent living into the bargain.

THE CONTEST SPIRIT

The spirit of contest never dies in human kind. Comes now a French barber who gives himself good twice over shave in 27 seconds. He sets this out as the world's record. As far as the people who never shave themselves, is concerned, it always will be.

We have had contests in about everything we can think of. Flag pole sitting, a pleasant diversion for those who like it, has faded out in popularity. In fact it was never taken up by any considerable number of folks, most of whom prefer golf, although flag pole sitting offers a much more inspiring view of the landscape and gives ampler time for reflection.

Don't turn down an idea, no matter how crazy it sounds, until you have given it a hearing. Don't avoid bores. They may teach you something the whole world has been waiting to hear. Be careful whom you call insane. Give ear to everything.

They are now irradiating foods with ultra rays in order to get vitamin D into unsuspecting systems. Perhaps it won't be long before they will segregate these various vitamins, and serve them frankly with cream or, perhaps, a hard sauce.

Despite the jokes that have been made about them, we don't think many men really neglect their business for golf; they are merely showing wisdom in not neglecting their health for business.

There are 200,000 thoroughly useless words in the language, says a great lexicographer, who may at some time have arrived home at 3 a. m. with an explanation.

"On a new mountain railway through the Pyrenees, from France to Spain," says the engineer's description, "there are 18 bores." All we assume, in the smoking compartment.

In case of a couple of fellows going around the world from New York in 23 days, 15 hours and some odd minutes, about the best forwarding address would be New York.

Just to be on the safe side, in case of being invited to the wedding of a champion pug, the Office Conservative says he doesn't suppose he would kiss the bride.

The consensus is that the gladioli this year are easier to look at than pronounce.

Guests Over Week-end.

Among the out of town guests registered at local hotels over the past week end were: Byron Pond of Boston; Kenneth Thompson of Somerville, Mass.; C. E. Trafton and Mrs. Trafton of St. John; W. J. Arseneau of Bangor, Me; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Munro of Amherst; Percy C. Keefe of Boston, Mass; Robert E. Wertz of Boston; Charles McMurray of Worcester, Mass; M. D. McMurray of Worcester, Mass.; K. E. Britt of Worcester, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Schesle of New York; L. M. Syhesle of New York; A. N. Leger of Boston, C. A. Yerxa of Boston, Mass.

SOME ARE NOT SO GOOD—

If there were only one Insurance Agency in the world there would be no mental effort required in picking the right one to handle your Insurance business. But there are scores. Some are good, and others not so good. Many folks think our agency about the best of the lot. Of course, we wouldn't claim that much, but we are trying hard to make it so.
