An address by Dr. Clyde Marshall, psychiatrist for the province of Nova Scotia, on the problem of the feeble minded.

In the evening the delegates to the convention will be the guests of the Moncton City Council at a banquet in a local hotel where addresses will be given by Senator C. W. Robinson, Dr. George J. Trueman president of Mount Allison University and in all probability by Premier J. B. M. Baxter, who will arrive in Moncton tomorrow afternoon to attend a meeting of the provincial government to be held here Wednesday.

Mayor Taylor will preside at the banquet and three toasts will be honored as follows: New Brunswick Municipalities proposed by Thomas Murray and responded to by Louis P. A. ## DEATH OF HARRY "DAD" VAIL FELT KEENLY ALL OVER fession for all of fifty years and during that time established an enviable reputation for his phenomenal abilities as coach for his kindness and his genial personality which radiated friendliness to all with whom he came in contact. Dad Vail came of a family renowned for its rowing abilities so it is little wonder that he gradually became associated with the higher ups of the sport and took his place among them as perhaps the greatest combination of ability and personality that the sport has ever seen.

Great Tribute.

Perhaps the greatest tribute that can be paid him is to say that he was a lover of human nature and had a deep understanding of human frailties as few have and bore everything with a kindly patience which made him beloved of everyone. An American sports writer says of him: "He was the most beloved member of the athletic personnel of the University of Wisconsin." Another says: "Those in the east who mourn him most, can best envision the genuine sorrow with which news of his death will be learned in the university, about the shores of beautiful Lake Mendota, to which his kindly face, his boyish enthusiasm in the game and his hearty laugh will come no more."

The funeral of the late Harry Vail will take place tomorrow afternoon from the late home at Gagetown, following which there will be service at the St. John's church, conducted by Rev. W. P. Haigh. Interment will be made at Gagetown.

Addressed Rotary Club

"Uncle" Adam Moore, noted guide and woodsman of Scotch Lake was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon at noon today. His theme was the game birds of New Brunswick, and he handled it in a most interesting manner. His talk was based on his own observation and experience as a guide and trapper and master of woodcraft.

AN ISOLATED POST APPEALS TO A TEACHER

Regina, Sask., Oct. 9—Those who are frightened or uneasy in lonely places will not envy the lot of Miss Cora Merrett, who left here recently for Bud's Point, northern Saskatchewan. There, on the north shore of Cumberland Lake, in a little mud and wood schoolhouse, she will teach a class of ten Indian children. Six miles of water are between her and her nearest white neighbor.

Even a Canadian-born girl, accustomed to wide expanses of territory, would probably find Bud's Point more isolated than to her liking. Although Miss Merrett has spent most of her life in London and Manchester, she was enthusiastic over the prospect of starting her second year as the tutor of ten Cree children and of making her home again in the little Indian settlement.

Miss Merrett lives in her own shack and speaks no Cree. Only her ten pupils speak English. "I don't speak a word of Cree," she says, "and I'm not going to learn it, for if I did none of them would learn English." She carries on her conversations with the older people with signs. She is not ambitious of her children ever attaining scholastic honors. "If I can get them to live in decent home and open the windows of their shacks I'll not care about the rest," she declares.

The young woman has other duties than that of teacher. She also acts as public health nurse, social service worker and in several other capacities. "I'm a sort of mother of the community," she explains, "and in turn the Indians mother me. When I go for a walk they all stand at the doors of their shacks, and they are still there when I return. I am sure if I failed to return they would go in search of me as they never feel quite at ease when I am absent from the village."

THE HOSPITAL FINANCES ARE IN GOOD SHAPE

port of the superintendent which showed that one hundred and two patients received treatment last month. Of these 10 were medical and 45 surgical cases; obstetrical cases 8 and 7 births—1 still born. Forty-four operations were performed—16 major 28 minor. X-ray exams 39, treatment 1. Maximum patients in one day, 42; minimum, 25. The Superintendent reports the training school well started with the season's work; the probation class is also well under way. In this class are three young women from Fredericton; one from Stanley; one from Saint John; one from Nova Scotia. The isolation hospital is again open with Miss McFarlane, graduate, in temporary charge; Miss Wood, a recent graduate, will shortly assume permanent charge.

Miss Murray also called the attention of the Trustees to the fact that the proceeds of $10,000 "Ada J. Loggie Linen Fund" is again exhausted, and asks for a special grant.

On motion of Col. Loggie, seconded by Mrs. Richards, the report was received and placed on file, and a cheque for $250 ordered, to supplement the Linen fund.

Miss Hunter, office clerk, presented her report for September and this was eagerly scanned by the members. While the expenditures were large the receipts were correspondingly large. The number of hospital days for the month totaled nine hundred and fifty six, viz: Private patients, 631, part-pay, 76; public, 184; Workman's Compensation Board, 40; Dominion Government, 25.

A Serious Matter.

The question of some immediate plan for the proper care and treatment of patients in the event of a serious outbreak of contagious disease in the city was seriously discussed by the members as the scarlet fever section at the hospital is fully occupied. Mr. Davidson emphasized the situation and urged action. Dr. Ross, Ald. Mitchell and Dr. Robertson gave their views while Col. Loggie emphasized the importance of the city endeavoring to obtain at once the use of one of the unoccupied buildings at the old Government House, Mayor Clark has been working on the suggestions mentioned and will continue.

The president read the resignation of Miss L. M. Price, dietitian. On motion of Col. Loggie, seconded by Mayor Manzer, the resignation was accepted and the matter of a successor was referred to House Committee.

Ald. Mitchell, chairman of Repairs committee, was authorized to have general repairs upon the hospital buildings on motion of Dr. Ross.

Col. Loggie made a very satisfactory report of the finances for the past month, after which the meeting adjourned.

Moravia, Ia., Oct. 9—An acre of Missouri land is worth 12½ shaves to Jack Clark, a barber. Transfer of 80 acres of land to Clark has been agreed by to Rolla and Ralph McDonough, the shaves to be delivered on demand in Clark's barber shop. A legal contract was drawn up to that effect.

PEACE MAKER WAS SHOT BY HER BROTHER

Ashland, Pa., Oct. 9—Mrs. Mary Beasley, 26 sought to act as a peace maker between her two brothers John and Joseph Chatanis and today she is dying in the Locust Mountain hospital near here.

Mrs. Beasley was shot when a gun in the hands of John was accidentally discharged as Mrs. Beasley grappled for it.

It is claimed that John was about to carry out a threat to kill his brother when Mrs. Beasley intervened.

John is being held without bail in the Schuylkill County jail awaiting the outcome of his sister's injuries.

MRS. CHASE TO REMAIN IN ASYLUM

Washington, Oct. 9—Nellie Bartlett Chase, formerly of London and Chicago, who said she was being unlawfully detained in Highland Hospital, Asheville, N. C. by her brother Charles W. Bartlett, so he could obtain her alleged $350,000 fortune, today was denied in a United States Supreme Court review of her case. Bartlett lives in Miami Beach, Fla. She appealed from a North Carolina Supreme Court decision refusing her freedom on a Habeas Corpus writ and also from a Florida guardianship suit.

M. O. Milligan of Moncton is in the city today.
