FISHERY GUARDIANS.

The York-Sunbury branch of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association at its recent meeting adopted a resolution recommending that the wages of fishery guardians employed by the Federal government be increased from $2.25 to at least $3 per day. Why should not the fishery guardians, the men who do the actual work in protecting the streams be paid a decent wage. It is well known that the men who hold down the soft jobs of fishery inspectors and fishery overseers have had their salaries boosted in late years but the guardians, the laboring men, men who are supposed to remain all night on the river watching for poachers and provide their own canoes at their own expense, practically receive the same wages now that prevailed twenty-five years ago. Whether or not the fishery protection is efficient is a debatable question but the government certainly gets all it pays for.

When the late Mr. H. S. Miles was fishery inspector for this district some thirty years ago he did good work on a salary of $600 per year. The late Mr. Robert Orr who served under him as fishery overseer, rejoiced in a salary of $500 per year. What has happened since that time? We find on consulting the Auditor General's report that Fishery Inspector H. E. Harrison in 1926 pulled down a salary of $2,520 in addition to travelling expenses of $222.21 a total of $2,742.21. The same report shows that Fishery Overseer A. C. McNally whose address is given as Lower French River was paid a salary of $1440 and expenses of $334.32 or a total of $1,774.32. It will not be claimed that Mr. McNally's duties are of a very exacting nature. He lives on a farm at Queensbury and is so situated that he can drive into Fredericton almost any day with a load of farm produce dispose of the same, drop into the office of the fishery inspector for a chat on the fishery protection problems, return home and charge up his expenses to the government. His work is not nearly as strenuous as that of the man who must leave his home at dark, in all kinds of weather, step into canoe and remain on the river until daylight doth appear. The job of a guardian is good only during the summer and autumn months while the fishery officials draw pay the year around and during five months when the rivers are sealed by ice they have practically nothing to do. The injustice of the whole system is shown by the fact that while the fishery officers have had a four hundred per cent increase in their salaries the pay of the guardians, who are only part time men, has not been materially increased. We believe if this matter were brought to the attention of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries he would deal with it in a proper way. The fishery officers have evidently looked after their own interests but neglected those of the men under them who do the spade work in protecting one of the most valuable assets of the province.

Sydney Record: An American teetotaler has journeyed all the way to Uganda, Africa, says The Fredericton Mail, to shoot a white rhinoceros. Under New Brunswick's government laws law which The Mail praises so highly, some people see white rhinoceroses in the back yard. Over around Sydney where blind pigs and other joints dispense vile liquor under prohibition, we should imagine that people would have little difficulty in seeing snakes. We notice by the Record that a police Doucet, Paquetville; Mrs. J. Mac-officer told Judge Carroll in court Donald, Mrs. J. J. Harris, Black-a few days ago that the sale of ville; G. R. Crosby, St. John; C. J. liquor in Sydney was on the in-Gibson, Halifax; D. B. McRae, Montreal.

A lot of people interested in game protection and also in attracting tourists to Fredericton are wondering who the colored gentleman in the woodpile was who manipulated things so that a politician and three Federal government officials were put on the directorate of the York-Sunbury branch of the N. B. Fish and Game Protective Association. It was a bonehead stunt pure and simple.

The town council of New Waterford N. S., by a vote of 5 to 1 recently went on record as favoring a salary of $100 for councillors. The Mayor and deputy mayor opposed the motion on the ground that it would be unfair to the citizens who placed them in office. Finally the town solicitor was instructed to draw up a bill to be sent to the Legislature empowering the town to pay the members of the council.

Somehow it doesn't seem right. Even when a man is following his wife's system of driving he himself gets blamed for the accident.

In an effort to popularize learning, an English professor at Yale had Mr. Tunney as a guest recently at his class.

Once the novelty wears off, it will probably be classified in most families as the grumble seat.

The best driver is the man who anticipates his wife's instruction but there ain't any such animal.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Paste our February in your hat for future reference.
