FIVE BY-ELECTIONS LIKELY THIS FALL FOR FEDERAL HOUSE

Ottawa, Sept. 29—Among the political rumors given credence in the Capital just now is included one which repeats that Mr. Walter Mitchell former provincial treasurer of Quebec, and former M. P. for St. Antoine Division, will be a candidate for the House of Commons, as an independent protectionist in the Quebec Division of Richmond-Wolfe.

This seat is expected to be made vacant this fall by the resignation of E. W. Tobin who will go on to the Senate in succession to the late H. J. Cloran.

It is stated the drums of political battle will beat upon Premier King's return from Europe next month.

It is expected he will appoint Mr. Tobin to the Upper House, Jean Denis, sitting Liberal member for Joliette to the bench and J. E. Provost, member for Terrebonne to the Senate.

These three appointments, along with the vacancies caused by the resignations of Hon. S. F. Tolmie and Sir Henry Drayton, will necessitate five by-elections this fall.

It is no secret that the Government will exert every effort to win Dr. Tolmie's old seat of Victoria.

It has been suggested Ex-Premier MacLean of British Columbia might contest the riding in the interests of the Liberal party.

Reports of Mr. Mitchell's decision to return to the political arena came as a surprise. He represented St. Antoine as a Liberal from 1921 till 1924 when he resigned after voting against the budget.

Mr. Marier Also

Hon. H. M. Marier, who was a minister without portfolio in the King cabinet of 1925 is also anxious to return to the House of Commons and already has been named as the Liberal candidate in the particularly safe riding of Stanstead which now represented by W. K. Baldwin.

The report that Parliament might meet as early as December is not credited here. The indications are that it will be towards the end of January. Members declare that they do not want to come to Ottawa before Christmas, then return to their homes and have all the bother of returning to Ottawa after the New Year.

Indications are that the next session will be full of vigor. Interest will be quickened by the Public Accounts Committee which will meet for the first time in years and which will scrutinize every expenditure of a doubtful appearance.

Watching U. S. Election

Ottawa is watching the United States presidential campaign very closely. The Government will be placed in an embarrassing position if Herbert Hoover is elected and proceeds to further increase the tariff against Canadian farm products.

With Progressive supporters of Liberalism demanding a cut in the tariff and with the U. S. tariff wall raised further against Canada Mr. King will be faced with a rare problem.

It is stated that his only boomerang against the American politician would be to serve notice that Canada is not prepared to co-operate on the St. Lawrence waterway development as in international project which project is more enthusiastically sponsored in the States than in the Dominion.

Westbound, train will leave Saint John at 7.00 p. m. daily Atlantic, as at present arriving in Boston 7.05 a. m., which is earlier than last year.

GREAT SIMPLICITY MARKS THE WEDDING OF JAPAN'S HEIR PRESUMPTIVE TO THRONE

Tokio, Sept. 29—Yasuhiro, Chichibu-No-Miura, heir presumptive to the throne of Japan, and Setsuka Matsudaira, daughter of the Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, were married today at Chiyoda Castle.

The simple rites that united the Prince and the little commander who was adopted into royalty, culminated an almost fiction-like romance.

The couple were united under the Shinto rites after they had appeared to the spirits of the Imperial ancestors. The army salute of 21 guns heralded a new Princess of Nippon as Setsuka was registered as Princess Chichibu.

The dowager Empress of Japan received the Royal couple this afternoon. Tonight they will witness a colorful lantern parade of 50,000 reserve troops.

As the wedding ceremony started Prince Chichibu, wearing robes designed from those his ancestors wore more than 1,000 years ago, went to the shrine of the Sun Goddess on top of a hill near the imperial palace to ask her blessing on the marriage.

The robes for this ceremony were of black silk decorated with the image of a flying crane and a white cloud.

The Prince and his bride then exchanged cups of sacred wine, or "sake", made of rice. The union was proclaimed after the prayers to the spirits of the Imperial ancestors.

The costume Setsuka wore was a five-fold, designed, so the legends say, hundreds of years ago. Under the robe was a creamy white brocade that hung in folds to the ground.

CORONET OF GOLD

Her only jewelry was a coronet of gold on such occasions. She carried in her hand an enormous fan of luminous lacquer, an heirloom of the Imperial family.

In spite of the ancient rites which united them, the Royal bride and groom are modern in almost every respect. The Prince studied at Oxford until the death of his father in 1926 and Miss Matsudaira was educated in the United States while her father, Tsuneo Matsudaira, was ambassador to Washington.

Miss Matsudaira, a commoner by birth, was barred from marriage with royalty when the romance began, but her uncle, and the barrier was lifted.

She returned to her home here this summer to prepare for the nuptials with the Prince, who may some day inherit the throne.

The actual ceremony began last Wednesday, when the ancestors were notified of the coming nuptials. Friday was selected for the final rites as it is a day of "Great Luck" in the ancient Chinese lunar calendar.

Before the rites this morning thousands of native subjects of the royal pair cheered them from the streets. All Tokio is intensely interested in the wedding and the city will be the scene of many colorful celebrations tonight.

The wedding procession from Chichibu's Place to Chiyoda Castle was one of the most brilliant ever held. The weather was warm and clear, and thousands lined the route of the procession.

The Emperor and Empress sent congratulatory gifts, the Emperor a sword and watch and the Empress some articles of clothing. Imperial messengers also conveyed a barrel of cake and a basket of fish.

The Emperor and Empress will have luncheon with Chichibu and his bride tomorrow.
