

NEW YORK WILL HAVE A POOR FIGHT SEASON

New York, Oct. 24—With only one championship bout scheduled during the remainder of this year, the boxing business around New York is in a sad state of affairs.

Little interest is being shown in any division and these boxers—Mickey Walker, Jimmy McLarnin and Knute Hansen—who might attract a profitable crowd, refuse to meet a first rate opponent for anything less than preposterous guarantees.

Madison Square Garden will return to its weekly boxing in November offering as the first attraction a heavyweight bout between Paolino Uzcudun and Otto Von Porat, an experienced Norwegian. Paolino in his last appearance against Big Boy Peterson at Ebbets Field drew only $1,000 one of the smallest crowds of the outdoor session.

Tiny Roebuck, the 235 pound Choclaw Indian will make the semi final of the same card against Arthur De Kuh.

One Title Bout

Paolino was not suspended yesterday by the New York State Athletic Commission for fouling Peterson last week but will be allowed to go through with his final against Von Porat after which the customary 30 day suspension will automatically go into effect.

The only championship bout booked for the rest of the year will take place November 16 when Joe Dundee the welterweight titleholder meets "Black Jack" Thompson, the California negro in a 15 round bout. Thompson won on a technical knockout in a previous bout at Chicago in which Dundee's title was not at stake.

The four bouts booked for Madison Square Garden follows:

Nov. 5—Paolino Uzcudun vs Otto Von Porat, heavyweights 10 rounds Semi final—Arthur De Kuh, vs Tiny Roebuck, heavyweights 10 rounds.

Nov. 16—Joe Dundee vs Jack Thompson, welterweights 15 rounds, title bout.

Nov. 23—Young Stribling vs Napoleon Jack Dorval, heavyweights 10 rounds.

Dec. 10—Rene De Vos vs Ace Lukins, middleweights 10 rounds.

TOM THEVENOW WILL BE HELP TO PHILLIES

Philadelphia, Oct. 25—Burt Shotton, manager of the Phillies, who is a close friend of Branch Rickey, vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals has put through a deal calculated to strengthen his tail end team where it was weakest this year. He has obtained Tommy Thevenow to play short stop. In exchange for that brilliant young player the Cardinals have accepted Heinie Sand and $50,000 it is said.

Thevenow was a factor in helping the Cardinals then managed by Rogers Hornsby to win the pennant and the world championship in 1926. Early the next year he broke his leg and never has played as a regular since that mishap. The Cardinals tried Schubel in his place for a while and then landed Maranville who became a fixture.

Hornsby managing the Braves this year was reported to have made overtures for Thevenow but Rickey refused to talk business. The transfer of Thevenow to the Phillies therefore strengthens the belief that Shotton and Rickey understand each other.

It will be recalled that the Cardinals got Catcher Wilson from Shotton last summer in return for Hurst, Davis and Schulte. Later the Phillies' manager picked up the heavy hitting Klien and the young pitchers Caldwell and Milligan, supposed to have been recommended by the St. Louis club.

A fine young outfielder named Peel, developed at one of the Cardinals' "farms" has been turned over to the Phillies and will join them in the spring. Sand, who goes to the St. Louis team is the player who exposed the O'Connell-Dolan mess in the fall of 1924. He alleged that a bribe of $500 had been offered to him not to "bear down" against the Giants in the final series with the Philadelphia team.

M.A.H.A. MAY GET SUSPENSION BY REASON OF INSUBORDINATE ACT

Unless a Report is Sent to A.A.U. of C. Before Nov. 15, Body Will be Suspended — An Account of Annual Receipts and Expenditures is Required by Ruling Board.

Amherst, Oct. 26—Unless the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association submit to the president of the Maritime Province branch of the A. A. U. C. before Nov. 15, an accounting of their annual receipts and expenditures the Hockey Association will be suspended by the Maritime Province Branch. This drastic action was decided on at the annual meeting of the M. P. B. held here in the B. E. S. L. rooms this afternoon. The formal motion was made by Patrick J. Neville of the Socials club, Halifax, and after various delegates had strongly expressed their opinion to furnish secretary C. D. Shipley, with a copy of their statement and thus permit him to complete his annual report.

The discussion was really started by Mr. Shipley as he stated that there had been no statement forthcoming from the M. A. H. A. although he had twice during the summer requested such statement from I. Logan Barnhill of Truro, the secretary of the organization. Mr. Shipley informed the meeting that no financial report had been offered at the annual session of the M. A. H. A. Mr. Barnhill at the time remarking that there were several outstanding accounts that had prevented him from assembling his balances.

NOVELIST SAYS SHE WANTS MONEY IN ORDER TO ENJOY THE LUXURIES OF THIS LIFE

New York, Oct. 24—Some persons pile up money for the power it gives them in the financial world, some worship the money god for the reason that a fortune will permit them to make a big splurge in society, go to Europe and throw dollars around as a boy throws stones at the birds, some like to have money in order to use it in a cultural or charitable way and make the world better for their having lived in it, but I. A. R. Wylie, novelist, had a peculiar slant in regard to money and confesses that she wanted money only to enable her to enjoy the luxuries of life.

"To begin with, I am Scotch and extravagance it requires several generations for parsimonious and canny descendants to recover from the shock," says Miss Wylie in the Pictorial Review. "This is the real root of so-called Scotch thrift. In the second place, and quite appropriately, my arithmetic has never graduated from the kindergarten, and most of my rare school days were poisoned by the ineffectual effort to master decimals

Like Her Father

"My father lived till I was 22. In all the time he did not, as far as I know, do a stroke of work or earn a cent of money. He lived precariously but usually quite splendidly on nothing.

"At the age of 20 I had had enough. Between myself and my father there had never been much sympathy—we were so alike that we heartily disapproved of each other—and armed with a check of $22—the price of my first short story—I set out to face life on my own.

"I shall never be so happy again. "But I am grateful that I was born with a total disrespect for money in circumstances that taught me to respect it.

"But finally I buckled down to reality. I worked hard. I wrote. I was living in Germany at the time, and while waiting for the editorial checks I gave English lessons to highly educated little Germans at two marks an hour and did my best to disguise from them that I had only the dimmest idea how to spell. I wore my friends' old clothes—grate-

ITALIAN BEATEN

London, Oct. 25—Jack Hood of Birmingham, welterweight champion of Great Britain, stopped Bruno Frattini, of Italy, in the third round of their bout at Albert Hall to-night. The Italian was completely outclassed and after he went down thrice in the third round, the referee stopped the fight just as Frattini's seconds tossed in the towel.

Teddy Baldoe, crack British bantam, knocked out Phil Losky, of Aldgate, in the third round of another bout.

SPORT BRIEFS

Officials of the Mount Royal Intermediate Amateur Hockey League will adopt their season's schedule at a meeting tonight to be held in the Mount Royal Hotel at 8.30 o'clock.

The constitution will also be gone over and other business that may come before the meeting attended to.

Toronto, Ont. Oct. 24—"Red" Porter captain of the Olympic Champions will be honorary coach of Varsity Hockey team this year.

Paul Fraser was out with the Wheelers for the final time last night. The halfback has decided to return to the Montreal English Rugby Club for the balance of the season and will help it capture the MacTier Cup.

Means To An End

"The celebrations grew more opulent, but they never outstripped the budget.

"But I began to regard my work as a means to an end, and that end was money. My stories were no longer a source of pleasure to me. They were items in my bank-book. I reckoned their value in dollars and cents as though they had been heads of cattle. I caught myself—who had been so proud of my independence—studying the high-priced magazines to find out what was their particular vilen and conforming to it. And I found, as a consequence, that though I could afford myself all the luxuries of life. I was losing everything that made life worth living.

"I had a bitter tussle with myself. I wrote a book I knew no one would like but which I wanted to write. It wasn't a good book. I lost money over it—deliberately. And I was free again."

RAY SMITH REFEREE.

Montreal, Oct. 26—R. H. Gunn, of the Quebec English Rugby League, today received word of the appointment of Ray Smith, director of Athletics at Mount Allison University, as referee for the MacTier Cup final between University of New Brunswick and Montreal English, which will take place at Fredericton, N. B., Saturday, November 3. Mr. Smith is himself a former player at Mount Allison, and his appointment meets with the approval of both Cup finalists.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Callam of Montreal, are in the city today on a visit to relatives.

QUESTIONS UP OVER BASEBALL WINTER TRADES

Toronto, Oct. 25—If the answers to the following questions could be had from the Toronto Baseball club they would make most interesting reading for the Leaf fans.

What was "Steve" O'Neill & the St. Louis Browns, formerly of the Leafs doing in town over the weekend?

What big deal is in process of completion between the Toronto club and a certain Southern League club?

What Major League club is negotiating for the services of "Big Boy" Alexander?

Why is Edward G. Barrow of the New York world champions coming to Toronto on Saturday?

Catcher O'Neill demanded his outright release under the 10 year Major League service clause, from the St. Louis Browns. He is a free agent O'Neill arrived in town unheralded and was in close consultation with Vice President James A. Dunn of the Leafs. He admitted that he was here "bno" nisu avrei sceara ydutu here "on business."

Various major league clubs are interested in "Big Boy" but one is especially insistent on making a deal for cash and players and is willing to leave him in Toronto for next season.

NEW OBJECT IN RACING

London, Oct. 25—With the object of making horse racing more popular in this country, Sir Joynton Smith, Australian millionaire, offers to pay £100,000 yearly for a ten-year lease of either Newmarket or Epsom Downs tracks on condition that he can have fifteen racing days a year.

He undertakes that admission prices shall not be any higher, and believes that he could make them much lower. He will bear any losses and pay half of the profits to charity. He thinks Englishmen take their horse racing too seriously, and describes Newmarket as a cemetery of gaiety. To "create a spirit of carnival" would be his slogan.

HOCKEY NOTES

FROM THE N. H. L. Pittsburgh, Oct. 25—Odie Cleghorn manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the N. H. L. left yesterday to take over his team once again. He arrives there today.

Before leaving Montreal, Odie said that he had an offer for the services of Roy Worters, his stellar and acrobatic goalie. Worters, it appears has asked for too high a salary from the Pirates and the likelihood is that he may be traded to New York Americans.

Manager Cleghorn intimated that he had been offered four players for Worters.

Montreal, Oct. 25—With the ice making progressing well at the Forum the prospects are now that the Montreal Maroons will get out for their final practice on skates tomorrow afternoon.

The original intention was to have the players out on the ice this afternoon but the Forum management feels that tomorrow afternoon will be the earliest that they will permit any skating on the new surface. Today, therefore the Maroons had their really last serious gymnasium workout.

Canadiens in the meantime are going ahead strenuously with their gym conditioning exercises. They have another week of this before taking the ice, and after a few days on skates they go to Providence for two exhibition games.

SHE MIGHT CLOSE THE SLATS

Once I heard a mother utter "Daughter, go and shut the shutter" "Shutter's shut" the daughter uttered "I can't shut it any shutter."
