NINE MEMBERS OF A FISHING PARTY DROWNED WHEN MOTOR BOAT SANK IN MOOSEHEAD LAKE

Rockwood, Maine, May 14—Nine members of a party headed by Dr. A. F. Peterson, of Brocton, Mass., were reported drowned in Moosehead Lake late yesterday afternoon when a motorboat sank off this place.

The party, composed of Dr. A. F. Peterson, Chief Wm. F. Daly, of the fire department; Dr. David Bridge-wood, John Sandberg, Fred Bahlberg, Dr. Frank Moberg, James Lays, Harry Howard, all of Brocton, Mass.; Sheriff Earle P. Blake, of Plymouth, Mass., and Sam Buddin, of Greenville, driver of the boat, left Greenville yesterday afternoon bound for Tomegan Camps.

Daly was rescued. He said the boat sprang a leak, the engine stopped and the craft filled with water about a mile above Kineo, towards Greenville, and near Sandbar Island. Daly said he and Dr. Peterson got on life preservers and started for shore, Daly in the lead.

That was the last Daly saw of any of the party. When he reached shore he forced his way into a summer camp and there spent the night. This morning he was taken to Greenville. Daly was so exhausted and unnerved by the catastrophe that he was unable to give a very detailed story. No word has been received as to any other members of the party and searchers felt certain none but Daly survived.

The lake is wide at the point where the boat sank, and this fact, with the extreme coldness of the water, is believed to have caused the other members of the party to have been overcome before they could reach shore. None of the bodies have been recovered up to noon. The top of the motorboat, cushions, life preservers, and overcoats of members of the party, however, were washed ashore on Sandbar Island this morning.

Hope Abandoned

Hope that some of the ten men had reached shore was virtually abandoned by Deputy Sheriff Adelbert Rogers of Greenville and a party of fifteen searchers tonight. Deputy Rogers expressed himself as satisfied that no others besides Lays had survived, but said the search would continue.

Though unnerved by the catastrophe and suffering from the cold water of the lake, Lays, under a physician's care here, was able to give an account of the tragedy.

The party of 11 men left Greenville late Sunday for Tomegan camps and met head winds and rough water all the way. About 17 miles from Greenville they noticed the boat was leaking. They bailed a while but the water clogged the fly-wheel of the motor which finally stopped. Realizing then that the craft was filling Lays took an air cushion strapped on a seat and said: "I'll make it 200 pounds lighter."

He jumped overboard and started swimming for shore with the wind at his back. He said he thought he heard another of the party jump over after him, but he could not determine who it was. He swam about a mile and landed finally on Sandbar Point. He found an unoccupied camp, entered and passed the night. Today, after following a wood road, he came to West Outlet Camp and told of the tragedy. From there he was taken to Greenville.

Lay's son and a brother were on their way from Brocton by auto and were expected to reach here by midnight.

INTERESTING CEREMONY AT U. N. B. TODAY

Principal Bridges.

Dr. H. V. B. Bridges, principal of the Normal School, also delivered an address embodying much information of an historical nature. He paid tribute to Sir Howard Douglas who was governor of the province at the time the university was established, and he also spoke of the strong support which the institution had received during troublesome times in the middle of the 19th century from two other governors, Sir Edmund head and J. H. Manners-Sutton. These latter, he said were entitled to no little credit for the foundation work of the modern university of today. It was in 1859 that the Chair of Theology was done away with and the university made non-sectarian.

This afternoon Chancellor and Mrs. Jones are entertaining at a garden party on the college terrace.

FAMILY QUARREL AIRED IN THE CITY POLICE COURT

Mr. Miller then, according to evidence, proceeded to take up the quarrel with his son and later with his other son Clifford who had returned from a dance. In the evidence given by Clifford, he stated that the father had swung an axe at him and had cut off part of his fingernail. It was after this that the son Ralph had a warrant issued against his father and which was served some time last week.

Mr. Miller when on the stand testified that all the work which was done around the premises, was done by himself and that he had not got along well with his sons. He also stated that his sons had sold things belonging to him on the farm of which he knew nothing about at the time. When asked if he had struck one of his sons with his crutch he declined to deny or admit that he had done so. He said that his axe was an old one, too dull to cut beefsteak.

THE HOSPITAL TRUSTEES HELD A MEETING

theria here. In reply to a question from Col. Loggie, the doctor spoke most favourably of the recently erected contagious hospital; it is most conveniently arranged, but much too small, and he thought it was now up to the city to provide a much larger structure to properly cope with an epidemic, should such occur in Fredericton. He invited criticism upon his remarks or he would answer any questions from the members.

Some Discussion

This invitation was accepted generally and was begun by the president, who was able to give interesting and possibly costly experience without going outside of his own family circle. Then followed Dr. Chas. MacKay, the newest member of the Board, but probably one of the most experienced physicians in treatment of scarlet fever and all contagious cases. Dr. Ross followed with his large experience and was able to add much enlightenment upon the important theme; all down the long row of chairs, one after another followed, and His Worship, Mayor Clark closed the somewhat exciting discussion with his accustomed moderation and conciseness by acknowledging the necessity for early preparation for enlarged accommodation for the care of contagious cases. President Reid then thanked Dr. Morehouse for his presence and interest, when he retired.

Monthly Report

Upon taking up the regular business of the session the monthly report of Miss Murray, superintendent, when she was pleased to report that the nurses suffering with scarlet fever have recovered and are on duty again. Reference was made to the satisfactory graduating exercises; the graduates were wonderfully pleased with the shown in them and extend to the Trustees their thanks. The new class just formed is composed of Miss Steeves, of Waasis; Miss Hawkes, of Plaster Rock; Miss Spargo, of Hartland; Miss Davidson, of Fredericton, Mrs. Moody, of Blackville; Miss Freeman, of Stanley.

Miss Hunter, office clerk, was able to submit a satisfactory report of the different interests during the month.

This was followed by the report of Col T. G. Loggie, chairman of the finance committee, who was again able to inspire a hopeful view of the finances and brightened the outlook.

The tenders for supplies for the hospital were awarded as follows:

Bread, estate W. J. Murphy, 8 cents per loaf.

Milk, 7½ cents per quart, 8.5 p. c. Pasteurized, 8 cents per quart.

Cream, per quart, 35 cents, 20 p. c. B. F.—Farmer's Co-operative Dairy Company.

Ice, delivery daily, $4.00 per ton.

The president spoke of the most active and practical interest taken by the Fredericton Gyro Club in the permanent Dental Clinic for Victoria Hospital; they have already expended upwards of five hundred dollars in the project, and more to follow. All the Trustees were outspoken in praise of such an organization.

Sir George Foster Here

Sir George E. Foster of Ottawa, who is to deliver the Alumni Oration at the U. N. B. encampment, arrived at noon today and is the guest of Dr. G. C. VanWart, York Street. The veteran statesman, notwithstanding his four-score years is looking well and seems to be as active as when he was carrying the fiery cross up and down the country as Finance Minister in a Conservative Government. Sir George is assured of a hearty welcome here.

Election of Officers.

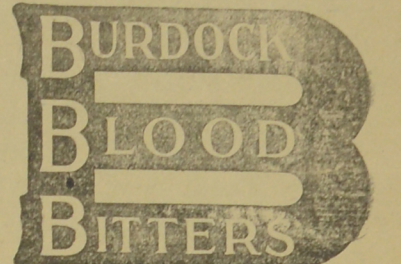

At the meeting of the Fredericton Fire Department held last evening the following officers were elected for the year: Honorary President, H. C. Rutter, President, Karl Walker, Vice President, Walter Kerr, Secretary, Walter Stapledon, Treasurer, T. C. Doherty.

She was thirty-two years of age and is survived by a husband and five children. Her father Mr. Charles A. Gunter of Queensbury, also survives.
