MAN IS ROMANTIC

Albeit June is out of the way and the rice market, in a slump, it is yet in order to give a bright woman's opinion of love and romance. Her conclusions are worth broadcasting because they are different. She upsets theories that perhaps needed to be upset. This woman is Joan Kennedy, who writes: "Men, with but few exceptions, marry because they are in love. In marriage it is man who provides the love strength — that elemental, divine thing which laughs at sacrifice and sweeps onward, in spite of all obstacles."

There is a pretty sound to that. Men will like it because it is different from most things they have heard on the subject. It is a new revelation of their emotions. But Joan Kennedy says more than that which is quoted, much more than there is space for here. However, this may be added: "Love matters most on the side of the man. Love comes after marriage to the woman." Insert here the cynic's "if ever."

Upon the whole this woman's opinion of the man is more generous than he is accustomed to hearing. He should like her analysis. What can be made of it all is that he is willing to become an "easy payment" slave and bend his back under heavy burdens, for the praiseworthy purpose of establishing a home—provided always that he is in love.

GOING ON

The president of a great steel company says: "To advance in any of life's endeavors it is necessary to both study and to think. Achievement is possible to those who have the initiative and determination to equip themselves with knowledge. This requires application and study continued beyond the period of formal school and college courses. But it brings practical results in cultural as well as vocational accomplishment."

Not especially that advancement along your line calls for study beyond the period of school and college. The man who no longer thinks he has to study his trade or his job, is not the one who knows it all. He is the one who is so ignorant that he doesn't realize how little he knows.

It is announced that Mr. George W. Kyle, former Liberal, M. P. for Cape Breton South and Richmond will succeed Dr. H. A. Powell, as a member of the International Waterways commission. Dr. Powell recently resigned from the Commission. The Federal Cabinet will recommend Mr. Kyle's appointment to the Imperial authorities.

ENGINEERS SPEAK OF THE ROAD DANGERS

Toronto, July 16 — "Low-powered brains directing high-powered cars" was one of the greatest dangers on the highways of Canada at present, W. B. Hastings, well-known automotive engineer, said in a radio talk on safe motoring, from a Toronto station. He declared that it was lamentable that such a large percentage of brakes was allowed to become inefficient. Mr. Hastings also pointed out that "safe speed" could not be determined off-hand. Twenty-five miles an hour in some circumstances would be slow, but 25 miles an hour on a street packed with children at play would be criminal. Regarding people who habitually drive at 50 miles an hour, he declared that such practice would sooner or later result in a crash.

NIGHT CLUBS FUNCTION IN A CEMETERY

(Special to the Daily Mail by British United Press)

Leningrad, July 17—Nightly Bachannals among the tombs of Smolensk cemetery in an outlying part of Leningrad were revealed in a report by police that "Several dozens" women had been arrested in a raid on the graveyard. VOTING IN THE B. C. ELECTION TOMORROW

(Special to the Daily Mail)

Vancouver, B. C., July 17—One of the hottest political campaigns in the history of the province will be brought to a close tomorrow. The Liberal government led by Premier J. D. McLean is appealing for a renewal of public confidence and are being stringently opposed in every constituency by the Conservatives led by Hon. S. L. Tomlin. While both sides are confident of victory it is believed that the Conservatives stand the best chance of securing a majority of the seats.

HIS MIRROR DIDN'T REFLECT HIS VANITY

(New York Sun)

A young New Yorker and his wife, vacationing in the Catskills, perceived a curious figure coming toward them on a battered bicycle. It was undoubtedly masculine, yet fixed to the handlebars was a large round mirror. "Don't talk to me about the vanity of women," said the wife. "There's a case of masculine vanity for you! Think of a man having a mirror on his bicycle so that he can see if his tie and hair are straight!"

"Not at all," responded her husband. "Scores of automobiles pass along this road, and the solitary cyclist is thereby endangered. That man carries the mirror so that he can see an automobile coming behind him and get out of the way. Masculine vanity, nothing!"
